

Central Point Sportsmen View Death Valley Films

Central Point - Dale Vincent, writer, explorer and lecturer, held the members and guests' undivided attention at the Feb. 25 meeting of the Sportsman's club here.

Vincent, showing films with appropriate music and narration, took the group through famous Death Valley, from which he and his wife have just recently returned.

Don Milligan, president, conducted the business session and heard the reports from committees on the archery range. The indoor range has been postponed until fall, but tentative plans are being made to go ahead with the outdoor range, which will be constructed behind the Sportsman's club.

Calvin Bowers, Chauncey Florey and Dick Florey, were elected representatives from the club, to attend the Feb. 28 hearings in Salem, concerning the policies of the State Game commission.

Chauncey Florey also announced that so far 90,000 signatures have been obtained throughout the state against the killing of doe deer.

The necessity of a much needed mail box for the club was discussed, and the decision was made to rent one in the local post office and leave the mail entirely in the hands of the secretary and treasurer, Ed Zander.

Jaycee Meeting Called Off

Central Point - The regular meeting of the Central Point Junior Chamber of Commerce has been called off so that members may have a chance to hear a talk by Mr. and Mrs. Smoak at Crater High school Thursday evening.

The Smoaks were exchange teachers in Australia last year and will tell of their travels and experiences.

The talk is being sponsored by the Central Point Home Extension unit and will be held in the multipurpose room of the high school at 7:30 p.m.

Concerning the Distinguished Citizens Service award, Gay Hallett, president of the Central Point Jaycees, reports that nomination blanks have been mailed to all the clubs in the area for their selection of candidates. Hallett requests these forms be filled out and returned as quickly as possible.

Winner of the award will be announced at the Distinguished Citizens Service award banquet March 28, which will be held at Crater High school.

Rogue River High Chapter Of Future Homemakers Elects New Officers

By LAURINE LAWS
Mail Tribune Correspondent

Rogue River - The Rogue River chapter of Future Homemakers of America has selected new officers for the coming school year.

They are as follows: president, Cynthia Haugen; vice president, Karen Moore; secretary, Linda Yancey; treasurer, Judy Badley; project chairman, Linda Jameson; reporter, Marketh Palmerton, and degree chairman, Donna Huntton.

Terry Andrews was elected by the club and accepted by the state to run for state vice president of Future Homemakers of America. T. Andrews, Cynthia Haugen, K. Moore and advisor Miss Annette Richmire, were picked to attend the state meeting in Corvallis March 1.

The club held its annual sweetheart's ball Feb. 16. This annual occasion was one of the most successful and the best attended dances ever held at Rogue River High school.

Cancer Film To Be Shown In Talent

Talent - A new American Cancer society film for women will be shown at Talent City hall Friday at 8 p.m. by Mrs. Mahr Reymers, executive secretary, of the cancer society.

Dr. Robert M. Turner, Ashland, will answer questions following the film.

All ladies of the surrounding community are welcome and are urged to attend.

Coffee and cookies will be served by the Talent Lions auxiliary, Garden club, and Talent Federated Women's club, who are sponsoring the presentation of the film.

RECOVERING
O'Brien - Marvin Warren is recovering from an injury to his head and one eye which occurred last Thursday when a board struck him with great force during his shift at Moore's Mill. Marvin expects to return to the job shortly.

MAY HOLD RECORD-Richard Ross, 15, left, and Ron Hallicka, 16, right, may hold the national record for a 50 mile hike (or in their case almost a "run"). They covered 50 miles from Rogue River to Phoenix and back again Saturday in 8 hours and 32 minutes. The youths, both Rogue River High school sophomores, are cross country runners. Their track coach, Frank Morris, center, posing with the boys after the completion of their round trip, claimed a national record, saying the fastest previous time he'd heard was 8 hours and 37 minutes.

Conservation Camp Contributes Funds

Happy Camp - The Clear Creek Conservation camp No. 41 contributed nearly one-fourth of the total March of Dimes money collected in the Happy Camp area. L. A. Bright, chairman of the campaign in this area, turned in a total of $74.66 of which $16.54 was donated by men at the honor camp.

For the second year, inmates assigned to the camp have contributed to the local March of Dimes campaign, digging into meager savings to help others who are more unfortunate than they, according to Lieutenant V. R. Massey as he turned over the check to the chairman in behalf of the men.

"All we had to do was post a notice and the men came up with requests for withdrawals from their trust fund accounts," the lieutenant said.

"We didn't have to campaign. They give freely to the March of Dimes."

Clear Creek camp is one of the nine camps operated by San Quentin, to which nearly 650 men are assigned. Seven of them are forestry camps and two are state highway camps.

Each of the camps participated in the March of Dimes campaigns in the local areas, a total of $303.16 being collected altogether.

According to Chairman L. A. Bright and his assistant Roy Ingot, others who donated locally were: Wagon Wheel Market, $5; American Legion, $5; Happy Camp Grange, $10.

The remainder of $38.12 was donations put into the various containers that were set up at various businesses in town.

Different Reading Program Planned

Central Point - An ungraded reading program has been developed for use at the third grade level at Jewett school next year.

Under this system, pupils will work in groups which have been carefully arranged by achievement levels. Each teacher will be instructing reading groups limited to about one year's span in reading achievement.

Under a standard grouping arrangement in reading, teachers often find an achievement span of four or five years at the third grade level, school officials say.

Salzer reigned as king and queen. The court consisted of seniors Janice Jones and Don Salzer; juniors, Judy Baker and Dan Bellamy; sophomores, Shirley Daggett and Glen Earnest; and freshmen, Renee Niquette and Don Deland.

The theme of the ball was "Polynesian Sweethearts." Decorations included a four foot mural picturing a Polynesian girl and boy framed by the sunset on a beach lined with palm trees.

A fountain complete with floating flowers was placed near the school combo which consisted of Gary Daniels, Marl Carter and Jack Moskowitz. The queen's chair was a high backed cane chair decorated with flowers and placed in front of a bamboo screen and palm tree. Each girl received leis as they came in.

Serving the fruit punch and cookies were eighth grade students Meredith and Melody Thompson and Shirley Waite.

Mrs. Swain Leaves For Panama City

Central Point - Mrs. J. J. Swain left March 1 for Panama City, Panama, where her husband is the Chief Finance Officer for the Armed Forces in the Caribbean, Central America and South America.

While in Southern Oregon she was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Bernice McCue, of Central Point. She also visited her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Scott, who was a patient at Rogue Valley Memorial hospital.

After a trip to Post Falls, Idaho, to see her father, Mr. James L. Burger, Mrs. Swain took charge of the McCue Nursing home while Mrs. McCue vacationed in Idaho.

4-H Clubs Have Displays In CP Store Windows

Central Point - 4-H Week has come to Central Point, and in many of the Central Point stores displays have been set up to carry out the slogan - "Learn to live, serve through 4-H."

Members of the Central Point Swine club have completely filled both windows of Crockett hardware, with proper equipment for the Swine project. Adding to the interest are a variety of piggy banks and miniature ceramic pigs, representing the various divisions - gilt, sow, pen of three.

Chuck's Barber shop has its two windows used by the C.P. Beef club and the Rogue Rock Rovers. The beef club has on display some of the trophies and ribbons won by its members while the Rock Rovers have a cutter, polisher and other equipment necessary to its project interest plus many cut and uncut rocks.

The display window of the Central Point library has been utilized by the Fun to Sew and Lens Lookers 4-H clubs. With miniature street, they have portrayed the problems of jay-walkers and litterbugs.

Eagle Point School Budget Being Prepared

Eagle Point - The Eagle Point School administration has expressed its gratitude and appreciation to the elementary Parent Teacher Association ladies who have graciously aided in cataloging and repairing library books for the primary and grade school libraries.

All school personnel are busily engaged in the preparation of the school budget for the 1963-64 school year. Board members, including Chairman Darrel Stanley, members Elmer Harsh, Mrs. Mabel Hansen, Merton Bradshaw and Ed Learning, made a tour of the schools in the entire district.

Also making the tour was the budget committee consisting of R. Gardner, Wayne Ash, John Ousterhout, Fred Arnes and Norman Chapman, for the purpose of surveying both the buildings and grounds to estimate the necessary amount to include in the budget for repairs, painting, general upkeep of both grounds and buildings.

Repairs Seen
Some general painting, minor repairs and remodeling will be done to the high school plant, it was disclosed. Four additional foreign language booths are planned for the language department.

Assistant Superintendent Robert Work extended thanks to Wesley Chapman following his presentation of the objectives and information of the high school art program of the Eagle Point High school to the board members and administrators. Work said he felt Chapman was doing a "most commendable job of developing and implementing the high school art program new to the school this year."

Knitting Display
The Knit'n' Kittens have set up a tree of knitting supplies and completed projects at the Postal Rexall drugs. In the window of the C.P. Variety, typical sewing projects and their sewing boxes have been shown by members of the Snappy Sewers.

Members of the Central Point - Westside 4-H clubs wanted to show their many friends and neighbors some of the things they accomplish in the 4-H program at this time - National 4-H Club week.

Hornbrook Residents Show Interest in Weekly Geology Class
Hornbrook - A considerable interest in geology has been evidenced here by the number of persons in this small community who have signed up to study the subject.

Enrolled in the adult education class in geology offered by the College of the Siskiyou of Weed are Postmaster and Mrs. Wayne Cummins, Miss Orpha Wagner, Marion Grieb, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lyons, and Mrs. Ernest Adams.

The "rock hound" class assembles each Thursday evening at the Yreka high school.

Ruch Pupils Released For Bible Classes
Applegate Valley - Thirty-nine children from first, second, and third grades at Ruch school are released each Wednesday at 1:45 p.m. for Bible classes at Ruch Community church. Permission from parents is granted.

Mrs. Fred Buehling of Jacksonville teaches the classes. Mrs. Buck Reed of Medford teaches memory work, and Mrs. Earl Best supervises singing. The classes were started late in January and will continue until the close of school.

ARRIVES HOME
O'Brien - Gus Alcorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Alcorn of O'Brien, has arrived from Germany where he has been in the Army. Gus has completed his term in the service. He came to New York by boat, from there to Portland by jet and to Grants Pass by bus.
