Hazzard Selected on Look Team

New York - UCLA's Walt Hazzard was the lone Pacific Coast player named to Look Magazine's All America team, picked by the U. S. Basketball Writers association, it was announced yesterday.

The basketball writers' selections will appear in the issue of Look out next Tuesday, March 12.

Other members of the ten-man All America were: Tom Thacker and Ron Bonham, Cincinnati; Art Heyman, Duke; Jerry Harkness, Loyola of Chicago; Bill Green, Colorado State; Cotton Nash, Kentucky; Ken Charlton, Colorado; Rod Thorn, West Virginia, and Barry Kramer, New York University.

Heyman, Thacker and Harkness were unanimous choices, of the USBWA's selection committee; Heyman and Nash were the two repeaters from last year's All America. Cincinnati, with Thacker and Bonham, became the fourth team ever to place two players on the basketball writers' squad.

The basketball writers voted National Collegiate Athletic Association District 6 All-Star honors to Oregon State's Mel Counts, Seattle's Eddie Miles, Southern Cal's Gordon Martin and Stanford's Tom Dose.

DEFENDING DISTRICT MANTLE-While the Eagle Point High school Eagles, above, are runners-up in Rogue League basketball, they are the title defenders this week end in the District 6 A-2 tournament at Southern Oregon college in Ashland. The Eagles meet Myrtle Creek, the other 1962 finalist, in a 7:30 p.m. game this evening. Finals are on Saturday night. From left, kneeling, are George Linder,

Red Raiders Start Slate in Baseball

Ashland-Saturday will see the opening of the 1963 baseball season for Southern Oregon college. The Raiders travel to Weed, Calif., to meet the College of the Siskiyous in a doubleheader starting at noon.

Coach Ted Schopf feels that his men are in good shape despite the loss of their first string catcher by injury in Wednesday's intra squad game. Chuck Hiney broke his ankle leaving the Raiders at an almost total loss behind the plate as the No. 2 man is suffering from a bad arm.

Eighteen players will travel south. Of these 18 men the probable starters include pitcher, Don Johnson; catcher, Dave Hughes; first base, Don Jaquette; second base, Bill Franks; third base, Joe Funderburg; short stop, Terry Gardner; and out fielders Damien Rossetto, Paul Blinka, and Mike McKibben.

11 Players Back
The Southern Oregon team has 11 players returning from the 1962 squad with three of these being pitchers. This week end's starting pitcher, Johnson, was a member of the squad last year and had a 3-2 record.

The Raiders had a tough schedule in practice games last season and the season looked brighter as they went into conference play and went 8-4 for second place in the Oregon Collegiate conference.

Jess Munyon, a senior last year, has been selected to assist Coach Schopf this year. Munyon was the No. 2 man of the diamond last season with a .307 average and 10 runs batted in.

Eagle Point, Myrtle Creek Vie; Henley Plays Douglas in District 6 A-2 Scraps

Henley's Hornets bear their No. 1 Oregon A-2 high school basketball rating into combat and the Eagle Point Eagles put their 1962 title on the line tonight as the two Rogue league schools go against Umpqua Valley league foes in the first round of the District 6 A-2 tournament at Southern Oregon college in Ashland.

Eagle Point takes on Myrtle Creek at 7:30 p.m. and Henley tussles Douglas at 8:45 p.m. Tonight's winners meet at 8:45 p.m. on Saturday for the title after a 7:30 p.m. fray between this evening's losers.

Prize for the champion is a spot in the Oregon A-2 tournament which opens March 18 at Coos Bay.

The four schools which are participating in the District 6 event are the same ones which took part last year. Henley and Myrtle Creek come as the 1963 champs of their respective circuits. Eagle Point and Douglas were runners up.

Have To Prove
"We're on the spot," said Coach Jerry Johnson to Henley which was last district champ in 1961. "We still have to prove our No. 1 rating."

The Hornets go to Ashland after a couple of weeks of rest from action and Johnson feels the layoff has helped. Henley carries a 20-game undefeated record into the tourney.

Heading the Buzzers is Kent Gooding, 6-7 senior, who was an allstar as a sophomore. Others in the fairly stable starting lineup are Earl Allbritton, Mike Beymer, Steve Reiling and LeVoy

Young. Charley Thompson is close to being a first stringer and Tom Sanders and Elton Schiro both are showing well. Henley will encounter a less experienced club in Douglas (12-8). Only Trojan lettermen are Bruce Ledgerwood, a senior, and Bob Reed, a junior, and sophomores and juniors have dominated the club. There is no one to match Gooding's height. Reed (6-11) is tallest regular. Ray Shepherd and Dan Withers are sophomore starters. Archie Walker, a senior, rounds out the likely lineup. Ron Stobbe, a junior, is a top reserve. There has been balanced scoring among four players.

Eagles Enthusiastic
Coach Rod Feigner is pleased with the way things have gone for his club this season. At Ashland he considers his club an underdog against the Rogue schools but he said that his squad has been looking forward "to the possibility of pleasing these people down there. We're certainly not going down just for the ride."

Mentor Dale Bates has reported his Eagle Pointers (17-8) "enthusiastic and fired up about the opportunity to play Myrtle Creek again." The Eagles beat the Vikings 47 to 33 earlier this season and nipped them in overtime 44 to 43 in last year's district final.

Bates said he felt that the club has accomplished much although the Eagles did not workout on Monday and Tuesday's drill was light. There has been emphasis on fundamentals along with much shooting.

Boatwright Ready
Wilbur Boatwright, regular who sprained an ankle against Illinois Valley last Saturday, will be ready for limited duty, Bates indicated. He may start along with allstar Charles Pomeroy, Richard Short, Bill Hoeft or Duane Whaley. Otherwise, John Linder or Frank Charley could get the nod.

Myrtle Creek has done surprisingly well, considering inexperience, according to Coach Hank Talus. Ed Cadman, one of three who may draw a starting guard assignment, is the only letterman. The other guards are Tony Quinn and Rick Abrahamson. Other starters may be Lee Boehlke, Bob Fuller and Ron Salmon.

While the Vikings, with their little men playing it tough, have had a successful season to date, Talus feels that so far as the district tourney is concerned, "We're a little out of our class."

New York - "Hoyle's simplified guide to the popular card games," containing rules, terms, hints, points and reminders, will be published by Doubleday on March 15.

Rooks Defeat UO Frosh 61-58

Corvallis - Dave Fox scored 23 points to lead the Oregon State Rooks to a 61-58 basketball win over the Oregon Frosh Thursday night.

The Rooks, beating Oregon for the second time in three games this season, were ahead 35-29 at halftime. Jim Barnett and Bill Jennings each scored 16 points for the Frosh.

UO Ducks Face OSU In Series

Eugene - OSU - NCAA play-off-bound Oregon State takes on Oregon here tonight in the first game of a two-contest series to end the teams' regular seasons.

The Beavers, who meet Seattle in a playoff game next Monday night, and the Ducks tangle again Saturday night at Corvallis.

Oregon State and Oregon split an earlier two-game series this season, the Beavers winning 67-57 and the Ducks coming out ahead 54-50.

Oregon State, which has rolled up a 17-7 record, probably will start Mel Counts at center, Jim Krause and Steve Pauly at forwards and Terry Baker and Frank Peters at guards.

Oregon, which has an 11-13 mark, figures to open with Jim Johnson and Steve Jones at forwards, Glenn Moore at center and Elliott Gleason and John Mack at guards.

A TEXAS LEGEND!

"My husband and I started in the warehouse business in 1952 with one Dodge truck. I'm still working that Dodge, and it's become a legend. I've made more money with it than with any other truck I've owned. In over 87,000 miles, it's needed new plugs and points, a water pump, and a heater hose. Fact is, it's still running on four of the six original tires. Now's that for dependability? That truck's going to retire with me. I wouldn't dare sell it or trade it when it's performing so fine!" Mrs. Thelma P. Stevens, Greyhound Van Lines, Dallas, Texas

Quite a few things have happened to Dodge trucks since Mrs. Stevens bought her first. Among them is a new policy of running improvements that has made Dodge trucks more than 50 ways better in the past year alone. Another is a new series of conventional and cab forward medium-tonnage diesel models, specifically built for substantial savings in city service. But one thing that hasn't changed is price. Dodge, America's only Job-Rated truck, is priced lower than most of the competition, right in line with the rest. Your nearby Dodge dealer has the proof.
