A 1960 Medford High school graduate, she is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Miller, 322 South Riverside avenue, Medford. Miss Miller, who has remained one of the top 10 students in her class for the past two years, maintains a 3.4 grade point average carrying 20 units per quarter. She is the first woman in the school's history to reach this advanced stage in electronic engineering.

Engineering Student Achievement Praised

Miss Linda Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Miller, 322 South Riverside avenue, an electronic engineering student at California State Polytechnic college in San Luis Obispo, Calif., recently was the subject of a feature article in the San Luis Obispo County Telegram-Tribune.

The student, a Medford High school graduate, is a junior at the college, and has maintained a 3.4 grade point average taking 20 units per quarter. She is the first woman in the school's history to reach this advanced stage in electronic engineering.

Miss Miller, as a Medford High school junior, became interested in electronics through a classmate who was a ham radio operator.

After studying physics, she attended the Junior Engineers and Scientists Summer Institute at Linfield college in McMinnville. There she met Miss Penny McKellar of San Luis Obispo who spoke to her of the California school.

She applied for entrance to Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the University of California at Berkeley, the University of Washington and California State Polytechnic college. She was accepted by the California and Washington schools with honors at entrance. However, she chose to attend Cal Poly because of its program.

Wins Scholarship

When Miss Miller was a freshman in college she received a $250 Western Electronic Manufacturers association scholarship. This was the first time that a woman student in the industry, and at Cal Poly had received this recognition. Miss Miller has remained among the top 10 per cent of her class for the past two years.

Because of her aptitude and ability, the student was invited to fill a summer position as an engineering associate in El Segundo with FMA Incorporated, a firm which deals in the development of high speed information retrieval systems which will ultimately revolutionize the very large libraries of the world. Already the Library of Congress is seeking the services of electronic engineers to devise new methods of information and storage and retrieval.
