

Music Festival Will Be Topic At Jacksonville Town Meeting

Jacksonville — The Jacksonville Music Festival will be discussed at a town meeting and polluck dinner in the Jacksonville community hall at 6:30 p.m. Saturday.

Sam McKinney, Portland, who is promoting the music festival on the Britt estate, will be introduced. Don Trudeau, leader of the Portland Symphony, also is expected to attend. Everyone is asked to bring his own table service, covered dish, dessert or salad.

During Tuesday night's Siskiyou Pioneer Sites Foundation meeting it was reported $148 was netted from a recent rummage sale.

A total of $212 in colored slides with a taped commentary is almost completed for use of various civic organizations to promote Jacksonville's historic sites, Foundation President Jack Sutton said.

Visit Jacksonville
Two representatives of the Urban Renewal program visited Jacksonville recently and indicated the core development area would be the central area of the town. Sutton was retained by the Jacksonville citizens steering committee and the city of Jacksonville to prepare an application for federal assistance under the program.

The city is expected to participate through its projected sewer, street and sidewalk improvements.

Emphasis will be placed on restoring the area to its original condition. The existing building code will insure greater permanence of improvements, it was pointed out.

Intent of Program
Intent of urban renewal is to restore the core area so it would become a taxable asset of the community. This is the only project of its kind on the west coast, it was pointed out. It calls for individual architecture for each building which would be restored and the various business buildings would be brought back to an active commercial life in the community.

Sutton also was authorized to represent the foundation at the Pacific Northwest History conference at Tacoma, Wash., April 18, 19 and 20.

Arthur Chipman, Medford, reported the Gold Rush flapjack breakfast would be held in the Jacksonville community hall on Sunday, April 28, from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. Entertainment will be provided.

Report on Project
George Brewer, Jacksonville, reported on the Britt Music Festival project which he said is progressing. The Britt home area is being cleaned up for construction of a band-shell. A number of musicians from other areas have indicated an interest in participating in the event for the latter two weeks of August.

Brewer suggested the various civic organizations be contacted to care for various pioneer graves in the Jacksonville cemetery. Lee Pinkham, Medford, is chairman of a committee to select the graves which would be cared for by the Sites foundation.

Jack Sutton and Dr. Arthur Taylor, Ashland, will prepare a detailed story of the pioneer cemetery and its significance and historic interest.

Sutton commended the county court for its interest and help with the Beekman house.

Finals of Speech Contest Stated

Students from high schools in Jackson county will compete at 8 p.m. Saturday, March 30, in the IOOF hall in the finals of a speech contest sponsored by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs with a trip to the United Nations as prize.

W. Robert Massey of Salem, chairman of the contest for the state of Oregon, will be here for the finals.

The winning contestant will be given an all expense paid trip to the United Nations in New York City with the opportunity to visit one of the sessions.

The contest is sponsored annually by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs as part of their educational program for the youth of the community.

All interested persons are invited to attend the "Speak-Off."

RECORD BREAKERS

New York — American home owners bought more built-in gas ranges, gas clothes dryers and central heating gas boilers in 1982 than in any previous year, the Gas Appliance Manufacturers association reports. Preliminary year-end estimates show sales of the three types of home equipment were 6.6, 13.1 and 4.2 percent, respectively, above 1981 levels.
