

Coast Track Stars Will Vie on Far Flung Fronts

United Press International
West Coast track and field stars, finally rounding into condition, compete on far-flung fronts Saturday.

From Santa Barbara, Calif., in the south to Eugene, Ore., in the north, major events are on tap with the thinclads shooting for victories and records.

At Santa Barbara it's the annual Easter Relays with top stars from all over the coast competing.

At Eugene it will be the Far West relays, featuring the University of Oregon's great stars. Among the Webfoots competing will be Keith Forman and Vic Reeve, the crack miler; and Mel Renfro, the sensation of the 1962 NCAA championships, who stars in both hurdles and the broad jump.

Another great meet is on tap at Stanford, where Coach Payton Jordan's Indians entertain Oklahoma and San Jose State in a triangle meet. Outstanding athletes entered include the Spartans' Dwight Middleton, who has been clocked in 46.9 in the 440; Harry McCalla of Stanford, who has a 4:05.6 mile; and Dave Weill of the Indians, the NCAA discus champion.

California plays host to the Santa Clara Youth Village and Sacramento State. Dave Archibald, Cal 440 star, will run in specialty in this one.

Southern California plays host to Occidental in another top meet in the southland with the Trojans heavily favored.

SF Reassigns Eight Players

Phoenix, Ariz. — (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants announced that eight players were being sent to Casa Grande, Ariz., for reassignment.

They included bonus baby Bob Garibaldi and five other pitchers — Jerry Thomas, Ron Herbel, Bob Gayekski, Bob Bishop and Danny Rivas. Also sent down were infielder Charley Peterson and outfielder Carl Boles.

Garibaldi and Boles, who have been injured all spring, performed for last year's squad.

Camilli Has Good Day; Hits Homer

Bradentown, Fla. — (UPI) — Doug Camilli may not be a slugger equal to his dad, but he has his days. Thursday was one of them.

The young Los Angeles Dodger catcher belted a homer to lead off the 14th inning that sent the West Coast aggregation to a 4-2 victory over the host New York Mets. Another run scored in the frame thanks to a hit batsman, steal and single by Bill Skowron.

With John Roseboro spending much of his time on the bench because of a skin infection, Camilli has been playing quite a bit. He figures to rate the No. 2 backstop, despite a presentable catching performance by Mike Brumley this spring.

Camilli's father, Dolph, was an all-time great with the Dodgers who won the most valuable player award in 1941.

The Dodgers today engaged Kansas City in an attempt to draw even in the won-loss column.

Reserve infielder Don Zimmer, an all-time Dodger but only in the way of misfortune, was hit in the forehead by a ground ball by former teammate Charley Neal. Zimmer's injury was not serious, or so it appeared. He narrowly escaped incapacitating injury in previous injuries, including beanings.

The Dodgers still have a couple of lineup question marks as they near the end of the Florida training.

The biggest is whether Tommy Davis will play third. If he fails to show improvements — he has had his troubles there thus far — Tommy will return to left field. That might mean Jim Gilliam, Daryl Spencer or rookie Ken McMullen as the third baseman for the opening of the season.

Manager Walt Alton also has indicated he may go with Ron Fairly rather than Frank Howard in right field, since the big man has been slow finding the groove. Some observers figure this might be intended to light a fire under Howard, who drove in 119 runs last year.

Giants' Manager Al Dark Begins to Become Impatient

United Press International
They say spring exhibition games don't mean a thing but manager Alvin Dark of the San Francisco Giants is beginning to wonder.

The Giants are the defending National League champions but they've looked the part of stumbling, bumbling eighth-placers. They've lost three games in a row, 1 of their last 11, 12 of their last 14, and Thursday dropped a 4-1 decision to the Chicago Cubs at Phoenix, Ariz.

With the opening of the National league pennant race only 10 days away, Dark is beginning to become impatient.

Lou Brock hit a key double and triple to pace the Cubs' 1-hit attack Thursday. Ernie Bowman had two singles and a double for the Giants and Tom Haller hit a homer.

If the Giants are looking for company during their spring frustration, they can easily find it in the persons of the New York Yankees.

Reds Edge Yanks

The world champs had to remain on the field away from their Madison avenue activities — for a full 11 innings Thursday before dropping a 3-2 decision to the Cincinnati Reds. Ken Walters doubled home Tommy Harper in the 11th to give the Reds their margin of victory.

Carroll Hardy had a triple and two singles to lead a 19-hit attack that brought the Houston Colts a 12-4 decision over the Boston Red Sox.

Bonus baby Rusty Staub hit a three-run homer and Ellis Burton also homered for the Colts.

The Los Angeles Angels raised their spring record to 4-5 with a 4-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians—their third straight ninth-inning triumph. Rookie Charlie Dees' pinch-hit single with the bases filled in the ninth drove in the decisive run.

Harvey Haddix allowed only one hit for six innings—a double by rookie Bob Saverine — as the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Baltimore Orioles, 6-0. The Pirates got eight hits and four walks good for five runs in the first five innings against Chuck Estrada.

Camilli Breaks Tie

The Los Angeles Dodgers beat the New York Mets, 4-2, in 14 innings, with Doug Camilli's solo homer breaking the 2-2 tie in the top of the final frame. Larry Sherry, making his best showing of the spring, pitched six shut-out innings for the Dodgers.

Paul Rattiff, 19-year-old rookie bonus catcher, hit a homer and two singles to lead the Minnesota Twins to a 3-2 win over the Kansas City Athletics as Lee Stange and Gerry Arrigo held the A's to four hits.

The Washington Senators beat the Detroit Tigers, 5-4, on the wings of eighth inning homers by Tom Brown and Jim King. Brown also had a single and a double and led Washington's attack.

Ernie Broglio and Diomedes Olivo teamed in a two-hitter as the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Milwaukee Braves, 3-0. Eddie Mathews made both Milwaukee hits and was erased in a double play each time. No other Brave reached base as the two St. Louis pitchers faced the minimum of 27 batters. It was the fourth shutout suffered by the Braves this spring.

Murtaugh Confident Pirates on Upgrade

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor
Fort Myers, Fla. — (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates have made some wholesale changes for the first time since they won the pennant in 1960 and Manager Danny Murtaugh is confident the team is on the upgrade.

And, he points out, it does not have to go up very much to win in 1963 for while the club finished fourth last season it was only eight games back. Not that his is claiming the pennant.

"You don't do that in a league as tough as this one," he explains. "And while I know our team is improved I have no way of knowing how much, if any, the other clubs in the league have improved."

He figures the Pirates, even with Vern Law still a question mark, will have better pitching this year with the addition of Don Cardwell and Don Schwall, better catching with Jim Pagliaroni to team with Smoky Burgess, more speed and at least as much power as last year.

"But let's face it," he adds, "we are not a power team. Our runs are going to come hard, with singles and doubles, for we lack what they call the consistent long bomb. However, good pitching and good defense can make up for that."

(9-6), Tom Sturdivant (9-5) and two rookies, Bob Priddy, a 10-game winner at Columbus and Tom Butters, who won six at Asheville, battling it out for the other pitching berths.

Law still is a question mark. Law won 20 in 1960, then came up with a sore arm. He won only three games in 1961, but came back to win 10 last season. But his arm went bad again and as of now Murtaugh is not counting on him. He admits, however, that if Law should come back, "it certainly doesn't look like I'll have any pitching worries."

Although he can not hit with Burgess, Pagliaroni, a better defensive man, may win the No. 1 catching berth. Besides Smoky, who swings a powerful bat, is 36 and would like more rest than last season when he caught in 103 games. Rookie Elmo Plaskett, 350 at Asheville in 1962, probably will be the third string receiver.

Trades Away Infield

The Pirates lost three-fourths of their 1960 championship infield when they traded away first baseman Dick Stuart to the Red Sox to get Schwall and Pagliaroni; shortstop Dick Groat to the Cardinals for Cardwell and infielder Julio Gotay for third baseman Don Hoak to the Phillies for outfielder Ted Savage.

With all that new blood, though, the Pirates' chances may well hinge on how rookie Bob Bailey does at third base. They dealt away Hoak, one of the better all-around third basemen in the league, only because they were sure the 20-year-old Bailey could fill the bill. Bailey hit 299 with Columbus with 28 home runs and 108 runs batted in. In 14 games with the Pirates at the tail end of the season, he batted only .167.

The Pirates are not worried about his hitting although, probably because of a sore shoulder, he has not hit well in spring exhibition games. But he has more than pleased Murtaugh with his work in the field.

May Change Plans

Murtaugh plans on an infield of Don Clendenon at first, Bill Mazerowski at second, Dick Schofield at short and Bailey at third. Schofield, who has been knocking around the majors as a Utility man since 1963, is getting his first shot as a regular. He is only 28. Mazerowski, of course, is a fixture at second.

The veteran Johnny Logan and Gotay will be in the infield reserve.

Cardwell, (7-16) with the Cubs last season and who then was traded to the Cardinals and sent on to the Pirates; Schwall, (9-15) with the Red Sox; Bob Friend (18-14) and Al McBean (15-10) appear to be the top four starters.

Murtaugh thinks he might have three more starters in Earl Francis (9-8), Joe Gibbon (3-4) and Bob Veale (2-2). The bullpen will be headed by little Elroy Face (8-7).

That leaves Harvey Haddix

Columbo Captures Mat Championship From Bill Savage

Rocky Columbo wears the Pacific Coast junior heavyweight wrestling championship belt today following a freak victory over Wild Bill Savage at Medford armory last night.

Savage, wrestling with a boil on the back of his neck, thought he had won the deciding fall and was waving to a jeering crowd when Columbo lashed out with a drop kick and topped it with a body press for the victory.

The champion had Columbo in a bad way and thought he had pinned him when the referee tapped him on the back. However, it was only a demand to break the hold because Savage's legs were extended beyond the ring ropes. It was then that Columbo came up with the drop kick and the championship.

Savage had taken the first fall with a knee lift and body flip and Columbo evened the score with a vicious right hand smash to the chops after Savage had thrown him into the ropes.

Medford Man Loses
George Flanagan, Medford, lost to a whisker when he challenged Jack Dalton to a fast draw gun match. Judges Mac McMurray, Gene Garner and Jack Burns were unanimous in their opinion although many thought it was at least a draw. Flanagan and Dalton then entertained briefly with a series of flashy gun tricks.

Dalton, with his long hair making a good hand grip, lost to Cowboy Bob Boyer in a wild match which saw both men outside of the ring on numerous occasions. The final fall went to Boyer on a foul when Jim Dalton, Jack's younger brother, dashed from the dressing room with a leather glove which the older Dalton slipped onto his hand and began to make a punching bag out of Boyer.

The younger Dalton took the lone fall from Haru Sasaki, substituting for the injured Ricky Hunter.

The program was witnessed by one of the best crowds of the season.

Cincinnati Tips Boston In Playoff

By DICK DEW
Boston — (UPI) — The natives are getting restless again about the Boston Celtics' National Basketball association reign.

Cincinnati's imper tinent Royals fired the first shot in the newest revolt Thursday night when they licked the four-time champions on Boston's home court.

The Eastern Division best-of-seven final series continues at Cincinnati tonight while the St. Louis Hawks rest for the start of their Western showdown with the Lakers which starts in Los Angeles Sunday.

Coach Charley Wolf's Royals even had the nerve to borrow Boston's prize strategy in scoring a 135-132 upset victory Thursday night.

The Celtics, while winning seven straight Eastern titles and five of the last six playoff crowns, have been famed for their powerful "bench," their reserves who leap into pound already reeling opponents.

But Cincinnati got a surprise one-game jump in the series opener by using its own three-man bench force. The reserve trio, Tom Hawkins, Adrian Smith and Hub Reed, netted a total of 22 points, gave regulars needed rest, and managed to keep starters out of serious foul trouble.
