

Marriage Rite Held In Nevada

Miss Margaret E. Taylor and Donald O. Burgess were wed in double ring rites March 23 in the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd, Reno, Nev. The five o'clock afternoon ceremony was read by the Rev. Vernon E. Kötter.

The bride, of 813 Grant street, Medford, is a daughter of Mrs. Leilah R. Thom, Cumberland, Md., and the late John Bishop Taylor. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. Almon A. Burgess, Route 1, Box 255, Eagle Point, and the late Mr. Burgess.

Attending the bride was Mrs. Robert E. Miller of Medford, and Mr. Miller was best man.

The bride chose a blue Italian knit suit with white accessories and her corsage was a white orchid.

The matron of honor wore a coral colored suit and accessories. Her corsage was of carnations.

The wedding dinner was served in the Circus Room Theater restaurant in The Nugget at Sparks, Nevada.

The bride, who has lived in Medford for the past 20 years, is employed as a secretary at First National bank, Medford branch. She attended Allegheny High school and Catherman's Business school.

The bridegroom attended Alhambra, Calif., City High school, and is employed by the CBS Construction company.

They are living at 813 Grant street, Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald E. Miller

Miller-Spence Service Held in Lutheran Church

Ascension Lutheran church was the scene for the marriage of Miss Toni Spence and Ronald E. Miller on March 16 when the 8 o'clock evening rites were read by the Rev. Vernon Hanson. About 75 guests attended the double ring ceremony.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Spence, 1389 South Peach street. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, Corvallis, came south for the ceremony.

Mr. Spence escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. The bride's lace sheath dress was ankle length with a full overskirt of taffeta organza styled with a short train. She carried a bouquet of carnations centered with a white orchid on a white satin covered Bible, the Bible being a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Richard Melum.

Mrs. John L. Cox was the bride's only attendant. Her emerald green dress was ballerina length and her flowers were a nosegay of pale yellow carnations.

Roger Paddock, Brookings, served as best man and Kenneth Green and Gary Miller, Corvallis, a brother of the bridegroom, seated the guests. They also served as candle-lighters.

The church was decorated with baskets of yellow gladioli and white stock. Mr. Melum sang the wedding songs.

The reception given by the bride's parents was in their home. The wedding cake was cut with a cake knife which was a gift from the bride's parents, and is engraved with the couple's name and date of their wedding.

Mrs. Richard Rosemus and Mrs. David Johnson cut the cake and Mrs. Roger Surgeon presided at the punch bowl. Coffee was served by the bride's great aunt, Mrs. L. H. Collins, Portland, and an aunt, also of Portland, Mrs. Jennie Luce, assisted with the serving.

A cousin of the bride, Miss Gail Spence, Portland, was in charge of the guest book.

The bride's mother wore a pastel green linen sheath dress with matching three-quarter length coat and the bridegroom's mother was dressed in a light blue knit suit. Both had gardenia corsages.

For traveling the bride wore a print silk sheath dress with pastel yellow coat with the orchid from her bridal bouquet. The couple traveled to the Oregon caves. They now are living at 514 West Jackson street.

The bride, a Medford High school graduate, is a receptionist and bookkeeper for the Kogap Lumber company. The bridegroom, who was graduated from Corvallis High school, is employed by City Sanitary service.
