ness. The plane is being inspected by Indian guide Alex Van Bibber. The couple camped at the crash site for some time, then moved two miles down hill to a clearing where they were sighted and rescued March 25. (UPI)

Plans for Mercury Lights Announced By Ashland Official

Ashland - Plans to install 100 new mercury lights at main street intersections this year were announced by City Superintendent Elmer Biegel at the council meeting this week.

Also on the immediate agenda are the placing of 50 redwood benches in the business district and at locations convenient for tourists. The heavy benches will be anchored in concrete.

A letter from the Ashland public library trustees was read and discussed in which suggestions were made for a 20-year over-all expansion program. The board recommends purchase of adjoining property on Siskiyou Blvd. and early remodeling of the library building to accommodate the children's department.

It is expected that by 1982, the present space of 7,200 square feet of floor space will be enlarged to 20,000 square feet by an addition to the south. A special meeting with the library board was tentatively set for Tuesday, April 9, in the council chamber.

Zone Change Request
Requests for zone changes included one referred by the planning commission which would permit multiple unit construction on property between Highways 99 and 86. This area lies behind the medical building of Drs. John Bradshaw and Robert Turner, and the residence of Mrs. Edna VanBlarcom. It is bordered by commercially zoned property.

The request for zone change is made in connection with a proposed housing project now under consideration by the Episcopal diocese. If the zoning is approved immediate construction will begin on apartment type units for retired persons and will include a recreation center. Ten fourplex units are planned. A hearing was set for the planning commission April 8.

Another zoning request to be heard at the April 16 council meeting will be area in the rear of the Bellview Lumber yard for business.

A letter from the Lithia Cab company protesting the non-scheduled stops of the Evergreen Bus company within the city limits will be discussed at a later council meeting following further study.

Approve Request
The council approved and sent to the water committee a request from the Wranglers Association for water connection to its property where toilets and drinking fountains have been installed.

Wiley and Reinholdt Agency was awarded the liability insurance contract with a bid of $4,801. Other bids were Erwin Agency, $5,622.63; Farmers Insurance, $5,981.60, and Singmaster Agency, $7,341.91.

Upon recommendation of the city auditors that bonds on the recorder and treasurer be increased was referred to the finance committee.

City Attorney Harry Skerrey advised the council that May 17 is the date set for the Winburn heirs case. The suit is for settlement of title to the former general hospital property.

Following a public hearing at which two property owners appeared curb, gutter and pavement were ordered in on Merrill st. and a portion of Windsor st. Joseph Fader opposed the measure while Walter Bond favored it.

END OF WILD CHASE—Police check the arms of Judith Mary Ellis, 23, for drug injections as they book her in San Francisco on a fugitive warrant from Milwaukee, Wis. On a 90-mile-per-hour chase, which at one time involved 19 police cars, two military police vehicles and agents of the Army's CID, she was captured in a car that was found to contain considerable quantities of drugs and barbiturates. It all started with a visit to a friend at Letterman Hospital, where CID officers recognized her. (UPI)

Sweet and Sour Fish for Change

Pickled onion, honey and sugar give this sweet and sour fish entrée its sweetness; vinegar adds the zest. Garnish with tomato and cucumber slices. Use white fish fillets, fresh or frozen, of your choice. Local fish displays offer several varieties.

- 6 or more fish fillets
- 3 egg yolks
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup sherry
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs
- 1 cup oil for frying
- 1/4 cup cooking or salad oil
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 6 tablespoons vinegar
- 2 tablespoons honey
- 1 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1/4 cup pickled onions, drained
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch

Dip fish fillets in mixture of egg yolks, salt and sherry, turning frequently to coat evenly. Then dip fish into mixture of flour and bread crumbs. Cook in hot fat about five minutes to each side; drain.

Combine salad oil, sugar, vinegar, honey, ginger and onions; cook over low heat for two minutes. Blend water and cornstarch to a paste and gradually add to sauce, stirring constantly. Cook until smooth and thickened. Pour sauce over fish and serve.

Very fine accompaniment for this is canned peach halves topped with bacon bits, broiled until bacon is crisped.

Onion-Cucumber Salad
For a delightful change, make this salad and pass it in a vegetable dish as a generous relish with any meat, poultry or fish.

Thinly slice one unpeeled good-size cucumber. Thinly slice one-half medium-size onion, separating rings. Combine one-half cup vinegar, one-half cup water, 1 1/2 tablespoons sugar, dash of salt and pepper. Pour over vegetables; marinate at least one hour. Drain to serve.

Avocado-Filled Salads Are Popular Specialty
California avocados are readily available at reasonable prices. When you choose avocados for immediate serving, they should feel slightly soft when pressure is applied gently with the palms of the hands. We repeat this vital information for recent comers to our area.

Chill the avocados. Pull off the skin with a small knife; then cut fruit in half, either lengthwise or widthwise. Remove the seed. When you cut them widthwise, cut a thin slice from the ends to make them sit up straight. Sprinkle fruit lightly with salt and lemon juice. Arrange on beds of salad greens and fill with your choice of the following. For each four guests:

Combine lightly one cup diced cooked chicken, flaked tuna or other seafood, three-fourths cup diced celery, one-half cup diced cucumber and one-half cup mayonnaise. Fill avocado halves. Garnish with lemon wedges and greens.

Combine one-half cup sliced ripe olives, two-thirds cup diced celery, two-thirds cup diced tomato and one-fourth cup sliced green onion. Heap into avocado halves and top mixture with one-fourth cup any tart French dressing and one tablespoon catsup.

Macaroni Magic
Macaroni and cheese becomes a dish of distinction when grated onion, chopped green pepper and/or sliced stuffed olives are added. Bite-size pieces of cooked sausage or frankfurters will give added flavor and texture contrast to this popular dish.

Custard Topping

Caramel-flavored baked custard is sensational when served with cinnamon-flavored whipped cream as a topping.

Soup Dress-Up
A spoonful of lightly salted whipped cream or dairy sour cream dresses up any cream soup. Sprinkle with bit of paprika or chopped parsley.

April Abundance Brings Bargain Beef
Beef continues to be the big buy as west coasters consume more beef than do residents of other areas. Beef in all cuts is lower than noted in many years and it is thought likely that it may not be as low again in the foreseeable future.

All of which means that if you have freezer space, you'd be wise to fill it with beef.

Lamb is in the limelight as Spring lamb comes to market. No bargains to be sure, but mighty fine eating that justifies the extravagance if its fancy chops you have in mind.

Poultry and eggs continue to be excellent values, encouraging cooks to try new ways with broiler-fryers and encouraging more frequent serving of eggs at breakfast.

Fish and shellfish in April abundance include Dungeness crabs, fish sticks and portions, halibut, flounder, oysters, rockfish, sablefish, salmon, scallops, shrimp. Stock up on canned tuna which is often specialized and on sardines which are good values.

Cheddar Cheese Specialized
All dairy products are plentiful. Cheddar cheese, most popular of all cheeses is specialized for making of sandwiches, biscuits, custards, fondues, rarebits; for cooking with macaroni, with potatoes and with rice. Try cheese slices broiled over mayonnaised toast, tomato halves, topped with bacon and then all broiled. Keep plenty of milk on hand for offering youngsters from a pitcher encouraging them to drink more milk.

Plentiful staples include potatoes, canned corn, rice, peanut butter, shortenings, cooking and salad oils, canned apple sauce, canned cranberry sauce.

Vegetable bins are piled high with asparagus with prices lower than last week, broccoli, cabbage, topped carrots, celery, cauliflower, greens in great variety, lettuce, dry yellow onions, winter squash, sweet potatoes. Artichoke season is short so make the most of this fine vegetable now. Celery, fresh, crisp and tender is plentiful for relish trays, salads, seasoning soups, stews and for salad making.

Fruit displays offer fine variety in crisp apples, winter pears, avocados, Emperor grapes and oranges. Plenty of rosy rhubarb. Strawberries increasing in supply right along. For fine appetizer or dessert, combine cooked rhubarb and strawberries.

Boating Given Boost Through Credit Plan

New York—(UPI)—With a potent assist from installment credit, recreational boating has mushroomed from a $905 million business in 1947 to a $2.5-billion-a-year industry today.

Robert E. Tobey, manager of the marine products financing department of Universal C.I.T. Credit corporation says amateur yachtsmen throughout the United States "now own 7.5 million recreational craft—a broad base of ownership that would have been impossible without installment credit." It's estimated that seven out of 10 boat sales involve use of credit.

Receiving the telegram, to be sent to U. S. Senators Thomas H. Kuchel and Clair Engle, is Jack Bronson, manager of the Western Union's Santa Monica office. (UPI)

Russian Action Irritates China

Moscow—(UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev pushed his drive for friendship with Yugoslavia today despite bitter criticism from Red China.

Western experts on Soviet affairs said the Kremlin leaders seemed to be challenging the Peking regime deliberately in courting the Yugoslavs, chief targets of the Chinese Reds in the ideological and political dispute splitting the Communist world.

The Peking regime considers "Yugoslavia's" "independent" communism "revisionist" and accuses Yugoslav President Tito of being a traitor to the Communist cause. But Khrushchev says Yugoslavia is a socialist country which should be kept in the Communist camp.

As a precondition for a reconciliation with Moscow, Communist China has insisted the Kremlin quit its rapprochement with Belgrade and take a firm stand against "Tito's revisionism."

Khrushchev has rejected Peking's demands and has gone out of his way this week to make it clear he is not about to be bullied on the question.

Charitable Trust Legislation Urged

Salem—(UPI)—Atty. Gen. Robert Thornton Thursday urged passage of legislation to supervise charitable trusts and similar tax-free groups. He said it would help turn up "forgotten" money.

Thornton's statement on HB1393 was made to the House Committee on Planning and Development.

Thornton said the bill would not apply to religious organizations, educational institutions, hospitals or other public bodies.

The bill would require charitable corporations, trustees and others holding similar funds to register and file periodic reports.

Thornton said states with such legislation have "uncovered millions of dollars in forgotten and dormant charitable trust funds."

'Full Crew' Train Law Clears Senate

Salem—(UPI)—The railroad brotherhoods scored a victory Thursday when the Senate voted 20-10 to retain the present "full crew" law.

The move came after more than a hour of parliamentary wrangling and six ballots—one of which was the first party-line vote in the Senate this session.

In effect, the Senate voted to retain the present law which requires three brakemen on main line freight trains. The law was amended to delete reference to "steam" locomotives.

The railroads had submitted legislation which would have eliminated the statutory requirement for a third brakeman. The railroad brotherhoods opposed, and charged it would not be safe to operate the trains with two brakemen.

Approximately 4,850 high school students representing 104 high schools competed in the 1963 contest.
