

Consider Color For Rooftops, Experts Advise

A good home maintenance rule is to make a thorough inspection of the roof in the spring. The purpose is to detect any winter damage before it becomes serious enough to cause harm to the rest of the building or its contents.

Patching an old roof is seldom advisable. Most roofing wears uniformly, and the first leak is a sign that others probably will develop soon. In fact, climbing on an old roof to patch it often causes other leaks.

Today, the selection of a satisfactory roof color is easier than ever before. Asphalt shingles, for example, the most popular roofing material, are now available in a variety of attractive colors, including white, rich earth color, blends, and pastels.

Color counts. Use it wisely and it adds to the beauty of a house; misuse it and it can't help but detract, professional color stylist point out.

In planning the exterior color scheme of either a new house or an older one, most color authorities agree that a good place to start is the roof - usually the largest unbroken area of a house.

When houses are essentially alike in exterior design, different roof colors will have a greater effect than different body colors in making each house distinctive.

Families who like to change the color of their homes when they repaint would be wise to choose either white or a medium gray blend for their roof, since these neutral shades permit the widest variety of body and trim colors.

If a side wall of any two materials is painted one color, the house will appear larger and taller. If two colors are used, the house will seem broader and lower.

Asphalt shingles can be applied directly over a worn-out roof, eliminating the mess and expense of removing old roofing.

Painting is easy if you plan ahead. Everything goes quicker if you have all your supplies at hand and follow your plan step by step.

Whether you're a novice or an old hand, a talk with your paint dealer is sure to be helpful. He can advise you as to the best product for the surface, how much paint to buy, the supplies you'll need and how to make the job easier.

Follow directions on the can. Use good quality brushes or rollers. Prepare the surface properly.

Paint at comfortable temperatures in a dry, well ventilated room. Wipe up spatters and spills immediately before they harden.

Clean brushes, rollers and other tools as soon as you finish using them. Wear rubber gloves while painting and cleaning brushes or rollers to protect your hands and hasten clean-up time.

Consult your dealer if you have any questions.

Do-it-yourselfers, particularly those concentrating on home improvements, have had their world of projects and ideas considerably widened in recent years with the introduction of translucent fiberglass reinforced plastic panels.

Projects ranging from $10 to $250 can now be easily performed by one handyman on a weekend or during several evenings. When working with these colorful plastic building panels, everyday tools found in nearly everyone's garage or workshop will do the job: a hand saw, hammer, screwdriver and hand drill.

Plans and data sheets on a wide variety of projects possible with translucent fiberglass reinforced plastic panels are available free of charge from Filon corporation, one of the world's largest manufacturers of these panels.

Plans for luminous ceilings, patios, fences, backyard greenhouses, pool cabanas, carports, awnings room dividers, partitions and shoji screens are available.

Simply state the project you are interested in on a postcard and address it to: Filon Corp., Dept. SC, 333 N. Van Ness Ave., Hawthorne, Calif.
