Webfoots Face OSU

University of Oregon, Eugene – Oregon's baseball Webfoots, deep in pitching but looking for hitting help, open the 1963 Northern division season this week end in a two-game series against defending champion Oregon State.

Coach Don Kirsch's Ducks, winners of 12 straight in non-conference play before losing a doubleheader to Portland State, travel to Corvallis Friday to battle the Beavers, then return to Howe field Saturday.

Robbie Snow, ace junior righthander, will pitch the league opener for the Webfoots and he'll be opposed by Cecil Ira, Oregon State's southpaw mound star. These two tangled late last season and Snow hung a 1-0 defeat on the Beaver lefty.

Saturday's game is scheduled for a 3 p.m. start rather than the customary 2 p.m. time to avoid conflict between the baseball game and a home dual track meet between the Webfoots and Brigham Young.

H. D. Murphy, better known as a football halfback, is the leading hitter with a .556 average, but he's been at bat just nine times through the first 14 games. Top swatter among the regulars during that span is third baseman Fred Pettengill with a .400 mark.

SAFE AT SECOND – Howie Goss (45), Houston centerfielder, is safe at second after blasting a double into left field in second inning in Houston-San Francisco National league baseball game yesterday at San Francisco. Giant shortstop Jose Pagan protests the call by umpire Mel Steiner who ruled Willie McCovey's throw from the outfield was too late. Houston won 2-1. (UPI)

Skowron's Hit Ends Bat Slump

Los Angeles–(UPI)–Bill Skowron, the man the Los Angeles Dodgers got to bring them clutch hitting, today happily hoped he had given an indication of things to come.

The ex-Yankee first baseman snapped out of his batting slump Wednesday night after having gone hitless for 10 straight times at bat. Although the hit that snapped the streak was only a single, it came in the bottom of the 10th and scored Lee Walls from second to give the Dodgers a 1-0 win over the Chicago Cubs.

That key run was the first Skowron had driven in this season. His batting average had dropped to .087 before he singled in the run.

"It certainly made me feel good to get that hit," Skowron admitted. "I think I began pressing too hard when I failed to hit in the first few games. Now maybe I'll be able to relax and get a few more hits to help the club."

Bo Miller, fighting to become the fourth starter in the Dodgers' pitching rotation, hurled nine scoreless innings during which he gave up only three hits before he was lifted for a pinch-hitter. But the Dodgers failed to get him a run for 16 2/3 innings in the two games he worked during which he did not give up a run.

The win went to reliefer Ron Perranoski who worked the final inning. And the loss was charged to Dick Ellsworth who last week shut out the Dodgers 2-0 at Chicago. During the first nine innings, Ellsworth did just about as well as Miller, giving up only four hits.

He weakened after two were out in the 10th, giving up three straight singles to go down to defeat.

Milwaukee, Using Old Formula, Wins 6th Straight Game

By FRED DOWN

A new manager and an old formula have the Milwaukee Braves laughing it up like the glory years of 1957 and 1958.

The new manager is Bobby Bragan and the old formula is to let Lew Burdette and Warren Spahn handle the bulk of the pitching and Hank Aaron and Ed Mathews take care of most of the hitting. It's a formula that paid off in National league pennants in 1957 and 1958 although it was as interesting as stale beer the last few years.

They say Bragan doesn't have an outfield and lacks pitching depth but Bobby says he'll get by if the old-timers get some occasional help – and the Braves have a six-game winning streak today to prove that it isn't one of pixie-like Bob's jokes. The streak is the longest in the National league this season and only one short of the best the Braves were able to accomplish all last year.

The Braves made it six in a-row Wednesday night when they beat the Philadelphia Phillies 6-5 behind Lew Burdette who needed help in the ninth from reliever Claude Raymond.

Burdette's win marked the second straight time he has followed Spahn with a triumph. The pitching heroes of 1957 and '58 have scored four of the Braves' six victories so far this year.

The Braves took over first place when the Houston Colts beat the San Francisco Giants, 2-1, in 13 innings. The Los Angeles Dodgers scored a 1-0 10-inning win over the Chicago Cubs, the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-3, and the Cincinnati Reds defeated the New York Mets, 5-0, in other NL games.

Jim Campbell broke up the long struggle in San Francisco when he homered off Don Larsen with two out in the 13th.

Bill Skowron, only 2-for-23 when he went to the plate, delivered the third of three successive two-out singles to win for the Dodgers.

Stan Musial and Carl Sawatski hit homers and Ray Washburn pitched a six-hitter and struck out eight for the Cardinals. The Cardinals iced the game with three runs in the fourth inning on three singles, a walk, a balk and a wild pitch by Tom Sturdivant.

Jim O'Toole pitched a five-hitter and Johnny Edwards drove in five runs with a grand slam homer and a sacrifice fly as the Reds extended the Mets' losing streak to eight games.

Campbell Blow Gives Colts Nod

By SCOTT BAILLIE

San Francisco – (UPI) – Jack Sanford, the San Francisco Giants' winningest hurler with a 2-0 mark in the early going, faced the Houston Colts and George Burnet (0-1) today in a battle to regain first place in the National league race.

Jim Campbell, the Colts catcher with the deceptive .182 batting average, drilled a line homer over the left field fence in an unlucky 13th inning Wednesday night to give Houston a 2-1 win over the Giants. The loss dropped the Giants out of first place, which Milwaukee took by a half-game.

"I never like to lose ball games," manager Alvin Dark of the National league champs said afterward. "And this is one that we should have won, 1-0."

Dark was referring to a ninth inning homer that Willie McCovey hit to tie the score at 1-1 and send the contest into extra frames.

But Don Larsen served up a pitch just to Campbell's liking in the 13th and then relief pitcher Don McMahon, taking over for Ken Johnson in the bottom half of the inning, fanned Willie Mays with the tying run on third to cement the triumph.

Houston's first run had come in the second inning when Howie Goss of South San Francisco slid home as the front end of a triple steal that the Colts pulled on starting hurler Billy O'Dell.

"Goss is just a better base runner than I am a pitcher," O'Dell said in his straightforward manner.

Johnson, a specialist in knuckleballs, was the big man on the mound. He held the power-packed Giants to five hits in 12 innings while squaring his season mark at 1-1 and avenging a three - hit loss which O'Dell pinned on him last week at Houston.

Larsen was making his first appearance of the season when he took over to pitch the 12th inning for San Francisco. Then came the gopher ball to Campbell one frame later.

Things Even Steven In Coast Circuit

United Press International

Everything is more or less even-steven in the Pacific Coast league today where nobody trails anybody by more than a game.

The leveling process was most noticeable at Honolulu where Salt Lake, flattened in two shutouts Tuesday, bounced back Wednesday night to sweep a pair as a stream of Islander errors paved the way.

Elsewhere around the widespread loop, it was Seattle 6 Dallas-Ft. Worth 3, San Diego 4 Spokane 3 in 10 innings, Denver 9 Tacoma 8, and Portland 5 Oklahoma City 1.

At Honolulu, four Hawaii errors helped Salt Lake score twice in the first inning of the opener and the Bees went on to take a 4-2 decision. Wayne Carlander and Don Prince combined on a 3-hitter for the Bees with Prince getting the decision.

Salt Lake grabbed the nightcap 5-4 when it pushed three unearned tallies across in the fourth and wrapped it up on Billy Cowan's two-run homer in the sixth.

Joe Tedrazzini and Billie Harrell each batted in three runs to account for the Seattle scoring against Dallas-Ft. Worth. Jay Ward hit his sixth homer in as many games for the losers.

Wilbur Wood grabbed the win, but needed help from George Spencer in the 8th.

Spokane loked like a sure winner over San Diego when it held a 3-0 lead in the 8th behind Phil Ortega, one of the loop's best, but the Pads knotted the score on three hits and a passed ball and took the decision in the 10th when Dan Dobbe doubled in Bud Zipfel.

Denver trailed Tacoma 7-3 in the eighth, but then scored five runs after two were down. Ethan Blackaby's two-run pinch hit homer helped spark the rally.

At Oklahoma City, junkball pitcher Jim Archer of Portland silenced the 89er bats, while Hap Ritchie had two singles and double for the winners.

Tigers Burn Bright; Top Yanks 2nd Time

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Tigers, Tigers burning bright; will they collapse in June fright?

That's the question in the American league today after the Detroit Tigers let loose a couple of roars that shook even the sedate calm of the New York Yankee clubhouse.

Following Tuesday's 7-2 victory, the Tigers downed the world champions, 4-2, behind Don Mossi's 10-hit pitching Wednesday and completed a sweep of the two-game set. The two victories vaulted them into sole possession of first place and quieted talk that the Yankees could win the pennant this year without even trying.

The rub from the Tigers' point of view, of course, is that they accomplished the sweep against a Yankee team that had such Tiger tamers as Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris on the bench. The two home run hitters were sorely missed against left-handers Hank Aguirre and Mossi.

True Test To Come

The true test of whether there will be a race in the AL won't come until M&M are playing regularly – presumably they will be when the Tigers next visit Yankee Stadium in June – but why spoil all the fun American leaguers are having now at the expense of the Yankees?

The Los Angeles Angels got splendid pitching from Don Lee and beat the Minnesota Twins, 4-0, and the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Boston Red Sox, 5-4, in other AL action. Washington at Cleveland was rained out.

Former Yankee catcher Gus Triandos swung the big bat in the Tigers' victory with a homer, a double and single good for three runs batted in. The Tigers were shut out by World Series hero Ralph Terry for six innings but took a 2-1 lead in the seventh, with the "lead" run coming on Triandos' homer, and added two more in the ninth against Hal Reniff.
