

Eight Schools To Vie at GP In Rotary Meet On Saturday

Grants Pass - One northern California school and seven from southern Oregon will contend here Saturday in the annual Rotary track and field meet.

Weed will be the contender from California. Other entrants are Medford high, Rogue River, Myrtle Creek, Phoenix, Brookings, Eagle Point and host Grants Pass.

The meet will open at 1:30 p.m. with first of the field events. First running event is set for 2 p.m.

Both varsity and novice divisions will be run in the 14-event program. Ribbons will go to the first five placers in the varsity events. First place winners also will receive medals.

Saturday's meet, while it will make the third rivalry this season between Medford and Grants Pass, will mark the first regular-type track meet for the two schools this spring. Medford's Black Tornado was victor in its class in the Ore-Cal relays and took the Rogue relays. The host Cavemen and the Tornado are picked to battle it out for team honors tomorrow.

Rogue River goes to Grants Pass in the wake of its Class C triumph last Friday in the Hayward. The Chiefs ended the reign of St. Mary's in both the Little Rogue and Hayward relays. St. Mary's, Myrtle Creek, Phoenix, Weed and Eagle Point were Ore-Cal meet rivals and Phoenix and EP ran against RR and SM in the Little Rogue.

Myrtle Creek is from the Umpqua Valley league and Brookings from the Sunset loop.

Individual Battles

A number of individual battles are expected to flavor the meet. In the mile, Myrtle Creek's Ed Cadman probably will challenge Medford's Dennis Brumback and Grants Pass's Cliff Lyons. Cadman may run, also, in the half-mile against Medford's Steve Toews and Jim Snodgrass and GP's Rod Waterman.

The hurdle races will have such timber toppers as Roy Shaw and Don Driskell, of Medford, Randy Clark, of Grants Pass, Steve Charters, of Eagle Point, and Don Salyer, of Rogue River, GP's Dennis O'Leary is out of action because of an old foot injury.

Jim Hill, of Medford, sidelined two weeks by a boil and blood poisoning, will be back in action in the sprints but not in top shape. He'll be joined by the Tornado's Mike Diebele. Rich Ireland, top dash man for the Cavemen, has been ill and is not scheduled to run. Jim Christensen and Steve White, then, may carry the sprint load for Grants Pass.

In the 440 GP's Fred Perry and Larry Lindquist may run against Medford's Scott Hampson and Walt Verstrate. Jon Granby, of Phoenix, will bear watching in the shot put. He has sent the iron ball over 52 feet this season. He'll vie against Mart Bauer, of Grants Pass, Chuck Kimball, John Tungate and Jeff Hardrath, of Medford, and Bob Bonner of Eagle Point.

Theron Bone, sidelined so far because of a hernia, is billed to return to competition for the Cavemen and will challenge such as his teammate, Marty Bauer, and Medford's Tim Murray, Tungate and Kimball.

In the pole vault Salyer may test his mettle among GP's Gary Van Koten, Tom Sparlin and Bill Coe and Medford's Lloyd Hammons and DeWayne Turpin. He may vie against the likes of the Cavemen's Bob Shepard and Al Hutchins in the high jump.

The broad jump may see EP's Charters against Medford's Jim Hill and GP's Christensen and Mike Cain.

Coach Dean Benson is expected to take a sizable Medford varsity and novice crew to Grants Pass. Coach Vern Steward said that he would enter around 20 Eagle Pointers, mostly as novices. He reported that Joe Meyer, freshman runner and javeline man, has a pulled muscle and may not compete.

Leafs Take Stanley Cup

Toronto - (UPI) - The Toronto Maple Leafs had just completed a sweep of honors for one National Hockey league season and the word from champagne guzzling players was that they all would be back next year.

That included goalie Johnny Bower, who hides his age like a woman but is at least 40 years, and David Keon, who has just begun to terrorize the NHL.

And, from the horse's mouth, came an assurance that manager-coach Punch Imlach would return in his dual capacity although winning the NHL pennant and his second straight Stanley Cup was now an accomplished dream.

"I have no plans to quit," Imlach said between gulps of French vintage champagne. "Of course it's up to the players," he said but quickly added "I'm joking so don't take me seriously."

The Leafs won last night's game 3-1 and the series 4-1.

DISAPPOINTED

Kansas City, Mo. - (UPI) - Civic promoters working to move the Dallas Texans professional football team to Kansas City were disappointed today by advance ticket sales. Lamar Hunt, owner of the American Football league championship team, said he would transfer the club for the 1963 season if 25,000 advance season tickets were sold. Workers mourned today that only 6,707 tickets were sold during the first three days of the campaign.

THREATENS MARK - Lloyd Hammons, above, is threatening the Medford high pole vault record. He'll be in action Saturday in the Rotary track meet at Grants Pass. Hammons soared over the bar at 12 feet 8 inches last Saturday, one inch short of the Tornado standard.

Dairy Maid Practice On Sunday

Eagle Point-Rogue Valley Dairy Maids softball team will hold its first practice of the season at 1:30 p.m. on Sunday at the Veteran Administration domiciliary's Memorial field, White City.

Manager Shy Callaghan said that all girls of the area interested are invited to turn out for the practice. Elmer Harnish again will coach the team. Sponsor again will be Consolidated Milk Sales.

The Dairy Maids this season will continue their participation in the Northwest Women's Major Softball league. Their home-diamond will be at Memorial field.

There will be six teams in the league this year with the return of Seattle and Port Angeles, Wash. Other members included the Erv Lind Florists of Portland, the Shamrocks of Salem, the Webb Cats of Yakima, Wash., and McCulloch Chain Saw of Eugene.

First league action for the Maids will be on May 18 and 19 against the Florists at Portland. Home league play will be inaugurated on May 25 and 26 against Eugene.

Houston Paced By Youngsters

Corvallis - (UPI) - Oregon State's track and field forces are heavy favorites to defeat Idaho and Washington State in a triangular and dual track and field event on Bell Field Saturday.

The Beavers have the best marks in the Northwest this spring in four events and are tied for the best in two others. Norm Hoffman tops performers in the 880 1:49.5 and is tied with teammate Lynn Eves in the 440 48.2. Tom Wyatt leads in the intermediate hurdles 38.0 and Gary Stenlund tops all javelin throwers at 254.5 1/2. Tom Boswell is tied with Oregon's Dave Blunt in the 100 9.6 and the 220 21.7.

Medford and Grants Pass are the scheduled scenes of combat on Saturday for Southern Oregon conference baseball.

Medford, unmarred in league play and lone leader of the circuit, will entertain the second place Klamath Falls Pelicans. Ashland high will be at Grants Pass. Doubleheaders are to start at 1:30 p.m. In each case, both games count in the conference standings.

Varsity tennis matches are slated between the same schools on the same campuses. At the same time jayvee baseballers are billed on diamonds at Klamath Falls and Ashland.

Spectre of the weather, naturally hangs over the schedules. Right now the outlook is not good. Forecast indicates partial clearing but also showers.

Young Named - The Crater high nine has a bye date in the conference. The Comets were to have had non-league play with Corvallis but the Spartans asked for postponement and the clubs now are set to meet on May 15. Crater tennis team, however, is slated to meet North Bend at Central Point.

Games billed for Medford and Ashland on the diamond Saturday mark the halfway point of their league schedules.

Should weather allow action here, Stuart Young likely will pitch one contest for the Black Tornado. Coach John Kovenz choice for the other starting assignment will be between Jack Forde and Bill Enyart. Klamath's hill probabilities are Gary Benson and Rich Jackson.

Ashland's moundsmen could be selected from among John Rhodes, Bill Tilford and Dave Barger. For Grants Pass, it could be Jerry McCormack and Jim Thompson.

Coach John Kovenz reported that his Medford high team, considering the weather, managed good workouts on Tuesday and Wednesday. He said that the Tornado probably would work out in the gymnasium this afternoon if weather was wet.

SHORTSTOP - Dan Miles, above, is shortstop for the Medford high baseball nine which is slated to entertain Klamath Falls here Saturday afternoon in a doubleheader.

Red Raider Baseball Games Rained Out

Ashland - Rain yesterday forced postponement of a Southern Oregon college-Shasta college baseball doubleheader here. The games have been rescheduled for next Thursday, April 25.
