Jack Sanford says he'll "hold the cotton pickin' ball" for five minutes between pitches if National League umpires insist on calling so many balks. That'll be okay with NL.

Only One Thing Sure In Pro Loop

By JOE SARGIS
New York—Only one thing was certain today in the wake of the National Football League's betting scandal:

Paul Hornung, the "golden boy" of the Green Bay Packers, and all-pro tackle Alex Karras of the Detroit Lions will not play in 1963. Whether or not they will play in 1964 or over depends on their behavior, according to Commissioner Pete Rozelle, but from there on in, for all intents and purposes the investigations into betting by players, which were triggered in January, are over. That's the official line from the NFL today after an exhaustive study which failed to show anything more than that Hornung, Karras and four other members of the Detroit Lions made wagers on the outcome of regular NFL games betting on their own teams or on games in which they were not involved.

However, there is reason to believe that the matter will not die there as indicated. It's too early to assess fan reactions, but early samplings show most fans were shocked at the severity of Hornung and Karras' punishment. Most league officials, including general manager and coach Vince Lombardi of the Packers, agreed that Rozelle had no other alternative but to suspend Hornung, the league's greatest player, and Karras. Breach Of Contract

Other officials, inside and outside of the sport, seemed to feel the same way, claiming that there was a definite breach of contract by the two players, and inasmuch as the sport depends on public patronage for its existence the players had to be suspended. There are indications, too, that the Senate subcommittee headed by John L. McClellan, (D-Ark.) may call for a comprehensive report on the entire investigation by Rozelle as part of its inquiry into gambling and reported fixing in football and other sports. Whether or not such an inquiry would involve the calling of witnesses is problematical. If, however, Hornung, Karras et al were called in then they would have to testify under oath. In the NFL inquiry they were simply called in by Rozelle, confronted with evidence and then admitted they had bet on games.

hitters if the big San Francisco pitcher carries out his threat. In fact, anything Jack does differently should be an improvement as far as the batters are concerned because he's become the "Mr. Invincible" of the league.

Sanford reeled off his third victory in the row for 1963 Thursday when the Giants beat the Houston Colts, 6-3, and now has won 21 of his last 22 decisions in NL competition. The 200-pound native of Wellesley, Mass., won 18 of his last 19 decisions in 1962, including 16 in a row treated between June 17 and Sept. 15.

Sanford blew his top after the game because of two balks called against him, but he didn't lose control of himself or his stuff during the game. He merely coasted behind a 12-hit attack that earned the Giants their sixth victory in eight games.

Braves Keep Lead
The Milwaukee Braves retained their half-game hold on first place when they beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-5, the Pittsburgh Pirates shaded the St. Louis Cards, 3-2, and the Chicago Cubs scored a 5-1 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers in other National League games.

Sanford, 24-7 in 1962, yielded five hits and struck out four. Howie Goswold in all three Houston runs with a two-run homer and a single but his one-man attempt couldn't overcome a San Francisco attack led by three hits each by Willie Mays, Willie McCovey and Felipe Alou.

Ex-Boston Red Sox rookie of the year Don Schwall gained a victory in his National league debut for the Pirates

Alstan Alters Dodger Lineup

Los Angeles—(UPI)—Nothing went right for the Los Angeles Dodgers Thursday night so today manager Walter Alston shook up his lineup in an effort to find a winning combination.

The Chicago Cubs surprised themselves and a crowd of 16,412 fans in Dodger Stadium by beating Don Drysdale the first time in three years, capitalizing on three Los Angeles errors to score a 5-1 victory.

Although Alston thought Drysdale pitched "well enough," the Cy Young Award winner as the top hurler of 1962 was frustrated by the efforts of his teammates and left the game after seven innings charged with his first loss of the young season after two complete game victories. Houston Next

Tonight the Houston Colts open a four-game stand against the Dodgers and manager Harry Craft announced fireball hurler Dick Farrell would try to take the measure of the hometown club for the second time this season, having beaten them 2-1 in 12 innings in Houston.

Strikeout King Sandy Koufax makes his home debut for the season against the Colts, a team he has never defeated. He started against them five times in the brief history of the new club without a win.

Alston's revised lineup called for Wally Moon to start in left field, Jim Gilliam to take over at third base and Ron Fairly to replace Bill Skowron at first base.

when Bill Virdon singled in the winning run in the ninth. Schwall retired with an upset stomach after eight innings but Erloy Face protected the one-run lead in the ninth. Ken Boyer homered for the Cardinals and Stan Musial doubled bringing him to within one extra base hit of Babe Ruth's major league record.

Glen Hobbie, aided by Don Elston's ninth-inning relief, beat the Dodgers for the first time in three years and only the fifth time in his career when three Dodger errors treated the Cubs to three unearned runs. Don Drysdale, 25-game winner and Cy Young Award winner in 1962, suffered his first loss of 1963 after two wins.

Marichal Tries Again

San Francisco—(UPI)—Juan Marichal, who has been well bopped in his first two appearances with the San Francisco Giants this season, takes another shot at regaining his form tonight when he faces the Chicago Cubs.

Larry Jackson, former St. Louis Cardinal star whom the Cubs acquired in a big mid-winter trade, will face Marichal and brings a 1-1 mark to the mound. Don Juan, 0-1 this season, has worked a total of seven innings so far and has an earned run average of 7.71.

But manager Alvin Dark is not about to panic. "Juan will be okay," Dark says. Marichal owns a 2-1 lifetime mark against the Cubs while Jackson is 15-15 in his decisions with the Giants.

Five More Balks

Five more balks went into the books Thursday as the Giants defeated the Houston Colts, 6-3, but failed in their bid to regain first place from the Milwaukee Braves who also won.

Two of the balks were called against Jack Sanford, who posted his third win of the season without a loss. Three others were at the expense of Houston hurlers, with two of these infractions bringing Willie Mays home twice from third base for a pair of gift runs.

"They are making a joke of the game," Harry Craft, the Houston manager, said of umpire Augie Donatelli's crew who have called a total of 20 balks in eight contests this year.

OSU Heavy Favorite

Houston—(UPI)—A trio of fuzzy-cheeked youngsters, whose average age is little more than 23 years, defended their top three spots today against a field of 156 in the second round of the $50,000 Houston Golf Classic.

Tommy Aaron, a 26-year-old Georgia boy, went to the top of the heap Thursday with a 6-under par 64. Jack Nicklaus, 23, took second with a 65 and amateur Kermit Zarley, a mere 21, was third with a 68.

At La Grande, Jack Rainy announced his resignation as head basketball coach to take a similar job at Albany.

Apparent Easy Victory Turns To Loss for D-FW In Pacific Coast Loop

United Press-International
A funny thing happened to Dallas-Ft. Worth on the way to an easy win Thursday night. It got clobbered by Seattle in the Pacific Coast league.

The Rangers led 5-3 going into the ninth with reliever Don Williams breezing along to victory. Then the roof caved in.

Don Gile walked and Archie Skeen singled. Pinch-hitter Stan Johnson was hit by a pitch and the bags were jammed. Williams gave way to Bruce Swango.

Rac Slider singled in two runs and a third came on a wild throw from the outfield. Dalton Jones doubled in the final run and Seattle had a 7-5 victory.

The Rangers fought back in the last of the ninth, loading the bases against George Spencer with just one out. But Jay Ward, the loop's top

Idaho State Picks Nau

Boise—(UPI)—A Bakersfield, Calif., junior college coach was named today the basketball coach for Idaho State College at Pocatello.

James L. Nau was selected by ISC Athletic Director John Vesser from some 70 applicants and unanimously confirmed today by the Idaho Board of Regents.

Nau, 33, attended Oregon State, graduating in 1953, and coached high school basketball in Oregon and California before going to Bakersfield Junior college.

He coached at Crater high of Central Point, Ore., before going to California.

UO Duck-OSU Beaver Series Postponed

Eugene—(UPI)—This week end's opening Northern division baseball series between Oregon and Oregon State was postponed Thursday because of wet grounds and prospects of more rain.

The teams will play double-headers May 24 here and May 25 at Corvallis.

RUBBER MATCH

New York—(UPI)—Ex-champion Emile Griffith will try for a third capture of the world welterweight crown on June 8 in a "rubber match" with champion Luis Rodriguez at Madison Square Garden. Each will receive a guaranteed $40,000 for the nationally televised ABC 15-round, which was announced Thursday night.

Oklahoma City scored all five runs in the fourth inning on five hits, a walk, and two Portland errors. Von McDaniel, ex-pitching sensation now trying to make it as an outfielder, drove in two runs with a triple.

San Diego collected only four hits off Spokane, but made them count behind the smooth pitching of ace Sammy Ellis. Ray Rippelmeyer took over in the seventh when Ellis couldn't get the ball over.

The Pads turned four walks, a hit and a sacrifice fly into three runs in the second and added a pair of unearned runs in the seventh. Oklahoma City and San Diego thus moved into first place in the southern division with 4-2 records. The northern division is still a wide-open scramble with three teams tied for first with 3.00 marks. Only Spokane has played inferior ball with a 2-5 record. No other team in either division has worse than a 3-4 mark.
