

J. W. (Bill) Bigham, (right) Eagle Point Castleman, was announced Jackson County Father of the Year at the annual dinner of the Jackson County Stockmen's association and the auxiliary, Jackson County Cow Belles, held Thursday night at Central Point. Mr. Bigham was chosen for his work with 4-H clubs and the Future Farmers of America. Other candidates were Floyd Charley, Central Point, C. C. Hoover, Eagle Point, and the Rev. D. Kirkland West, Medford. The selection was made by members of the Empire Builders, an organization of older 4-H club members in the county.

Eagle Point Man Chosen County 'Father of Year'

J. W. (Bill) Bigham, Eagle Point, has been chosen Jackson County Father of the Year by the Empire Builders, organization of older 4-H club members of the county, and the Jackson County Cow Belles. Announcement of his selection was made during the annual dinner which the Cow Belles give each spring for Jackson County Stockmen's association. It was held at the Central Point Grange hall April 18.

Other contenders were Floyd Charley, Central Point; C. C. Hoover, Eagle Point; and the Rev. D. Kirkland West, Medford. Mr. Bigham was chosen for his many years of work with 4-H clubs and Future Farmers of America; he is a past president of the Stockmen's association. He was presented a gift from the Cow Belles.

About 150 attended the dinner, planned by a committee headed by Mrs. John Bohner, Central Point. Cow Belles provided the beef for the dinner and it was prepared at North's Chuck Wagon as a complimentary gesture of the management.

The four contestants were seated at a table with the Empire Builders who had been chosen to interview the candidates. Coming events of the Cow Belles include presentation of

Auxiliary Officers Announced

Talent-Newly elected officers of the Talent Lions auxiliary were introduced during a dinner meeting April 17 in Tally-Ho restaurant when visiting delegations from county Lions auxiliaries were guests.

Mrs. Lester Davis was introduced as the new president; Mrs. Charles Cory, vice president; Mrs. George Nerton, secretary; Mrs. George Gleim, treasurer, and Mrs. Charles Roberts, lion tamer.

Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Nerton, and Mrs. Frank Christian will attend state Lions auxiliary convention May 23 through 25 in Baker. Mrs. Lewis Hunt and Mrs. Charlie Davis also plan to attend.

Among the visitors were Mrs. George Hubbard, Prospect, district director, with eight other members of the Prospect auxiliary, including Mrs. Sherman Poole, president; Mrs. Andrew Hamstra, president of the Butte Falls auxiliary, and four members from that group, and Mrs. Marvin Hart, Crater Lions auxiliary president, with six members from that organization. Local guests were Mrs. Walter Skundrick, Mrs. Kenneth Millard, Mrs. William Waldrup and Mrs. Russell Davis.

Mrs. Henry Bechtold, retiring president, presided. She announced that a tape recorder purchased by the Talent auxiliary, had been delivered to a girl student at the Oregon State School for the Blind.

Mrs. George Gleim was appointed chairman in charge of refreshments to be served one day during national library week in the Talent Public library in city hall.

Engraved charms for perfect attendance the past year have been presented to Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Mae Lowe and Mrs. Charles Cory. Five-year perfect attendance charms were given to Mrs. Nerton and Mrs. Christian.

The auxiliary's May meeting has been cancelled and instead the women will attend the fifteenth anniversary charter night meeting of the men's group on May 11. Officers will be installed for the auxiliary during the June meeting.

Bethel Members Plan Dinner For Parents

The parents and families of members of Bethel 55, International Order of Jobs Daughters will be honored at a potluck dinner Tuesday, April 23, in the Medford Masonic temple at 6 p.m. Mrs. Harold Gordon is chairman, assisted by her daughter, Miss Barbara Gordon, and the Misses Carolyn Peterson, Andrea Smith, Cathy Thanos and their mothers.

A regular Bethel meeting and short addendum will follow at 7:30 p.m. and parents are invited to remain. Child care will be available during the meeting. Reservations may be made by calling telephone 773-5035.

Miss Gordon, a past honored queen of Bethel 55 and Miss Donna Dell received their majority degree at the last Bethel meeting, conferred by the honored queen, Lynn Langston and the Bethel officers. The honored members introduced their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gordon and Mrs. Roy Dell.

A report was given on the slumber party and midnight supper held at Eagle Point attended by Bethels from Riddle, Kerby, Grants Pass, Shady Cove, Central Point and Medford.

Refreshments were served by Miss Wendy Weixel and Miss Nancy Edwards, assisted by their mothers.

President's Sister Discusses Family

(Editor's Note: This is the first of five profile-interviews of "the other Kennedy women"—President Kennedy's sisters and sisters-in-law. Subject of today's dispatch is Eunice Shriver, eldest of the President's three married sisters.)

By HELEN THOMAS
United Press International
Washington—Eunice Shriver, President Kennedy's sister, Eunice, says it would be "wonderful" if her brother, Robert, the attorney general, moved into the White House some day. But she feels that 1968 is premature to think about having a second chief executive in her family.

She also expects the President to win a second term by a much bigger margin than his first time around. As for her husband, R. Sargent Shriver, director of the Peace Corps, "he'd make a wonderful governor" of Illinois but she wouldn't want to see him run in 1964.

Tall, blue-eyed Mrs. Shriver talked frankly and freely about members of the Kennedy clan as political candidates in an exclusive interview with United Press International. She also discussed a subject on which she is becoming a respected authority—retardation.

"I think it would be wonderful if Bobby went into the White House," she said. "He's so dedicated... he has no other interest than government. But '68 is awfully premature to think about. I frankly have never heard him discuss it in my life."

Looks Like President
Mrs. Shriver looks remarkably like the President. She has the same lankiness, the same mannerisms, talks with the same pointing gesture of the finger. There is the same Boston twang and quickness of speech... and the same intensity when she gets wound up in her cause.

She is extremely candid and confident. She pitched in with typical Kennedy "viguh" to help her brother win the presidency. And she makes no bones about the fact that she thinks he's the right man for the job.

"I really enjoy my brother being president... let's face it," she said. "I think he's the most able, creative young man in government that I've ever met and he's the most understanding of what people want for their own happiness. He's terrifically sympathetic. He's bright and able. He's got a marvelous sense of humor."

She said the President is "more serious now... more absorbed" than in the old days.

Does Social Work
The mother of three children, Mrs. Shriver has been no slouch herself at public service. At the age of 41, she can look back on many years of social work with juvenile delinquents, deserted children, and women in prison. Now her burning preoccupation is retarded children.

She is executive vice president of the Kennedy Foundation which devotes its money to aiding the mentally retarded.

She is far from an armchair executive. The day she was interviewed, at the foundation school in Washington, she took time out to teach her gym class, which she does.

Washington—Mrs. Eunice Shriver, eldest of the President's three married sisters and wife of the director of the Peace Corps, has the same mannerisms and talks with the same pointing gesture of the finger of JFK. Mother of three children, Mrs. Shriver pitched in with typical Kennedy "viguh" to help her brother become president.

Formerly residents of Chicago, the Shrivvers now live in an elegant home in Rockville, Md., a suburb of Washington. They have a cook, a cleaning woman and a governess.

Rumors that Shriver will run for the Illinois governorship keep popping up, and his wife is not unaware of them. But she says "not in '64. I don't think he wants to. He likes the Peace Corps."

"Perhaps after that," she added, "he'd make a wonderful governor."

Woman Feted On Birthday
Ashland—On Easter Saturday Mrs. Jack Beagle was guest of honor at an informal reception and open house in celebration of her 80th birthday. Hostesses were Mrs. Bill Beagle, her daughter-in-law, and Mrs. Richard Westerfield, her granddaughter.

Mrs. Beagle and her husband, who have been married 65 years, make their home at 361 South Mountain avenue. She was born in Iowa and as a small child came to Portland with her parents, but most of her life has been spent in Ashland.

Mistletoe Club Plans Meeting
Mistletoe club, Royal Neighbors of America, will meet Wednesday, April 24, at Girls Community club. Dessert will be served at 12:30 p.m., with Mrs. May Morrison as chairman, and a business meeting will follow.

One stick of butter is equal to one-half cup. Remove butter from the refrigerator and allow it to stand at room temperature to soften slightly before creaming it with sugar for cakes and cookies.

Jewett School PTA Committee Heads Named
Central Point—Standing committees were named at a meeting of the Jewett Parent Teacher association executive committee April 17.

Committee chairmen for 1963-64 are: spring round-up, Mrs. Glen Kenworthy; program, Mrs. E. C. Brittan and Mrs. Lee Johnson; safety and welfare, Mrs. Stanley Snook and Mrs. Gene Snook; budget, Mrs. Dean Wilson; ways and means, Mrs. Robert Jantzer and Mrs. Donald A. Faber; hospitality, Mrs. Max Flowers and Mrs. Herb Edwards; devotions, Mrs. Richard Neill; membership, Mrs. William Langston and Mrs. Norman Smith; magazine and historical, Mrs. Richard Dunn; publicity, Mrs. William Colley; room representatives, first grade, Mrs. Lloyd McQuade, second grade, Mrs. Wesley Offenhauer, and third grade Mrs. Ray Bergman.

It was announced that a budget meeting would be held April 23 at 9:30 a.m. at Mrs. Dean Taylor's home, 1927 Taylor road.

To substitute sweet milk for buttermilk, measure one tablespoon of lemon juice or vinegar into a measuring cup, fill with milk and allow to stand while assembling other ingredients.

Spring Benefit Party To Be Held Wednesday

Ashland—In spite of the weather, it will be Spring when the Ashland branch of the American Cancer society holds its fourth annual dessert card party Wednesday, April 24, at the Mark Antony hotel. The party starts at 1 p.m. and will feature an "Over The Rainbow" theme. Following dessert bridge and pinocle will be played.

Reservations are in charge of Mrs. Keith Kimball, dial 482-2204.

At a recent meeting Mrs. Gerald Scannell and Mrs. Ernest Tischhauser, co-chairmen for the event, announced that many of the decorations are being done by Ashland's school children and should be conversation pieces for the mothers attending. Prizes have been donated by local merchants and feature some unique merchandise.

Assisting the general chairmen are several committees. They are: decorations, Mrs. William Patton; serving, Mrs. Don Provost Jr.; kitchen and refreshments, Mrs. John Balog; publicity, Mrs. Leo van Dijk; tables, Mrs. Dan Engle; clean up, Mrs. Ray Black; prizes, Mrs. Robert Voris; posters, Mrs. John Reid; reservations, Mrs. Keith Kimball.

Meeting Planned By Chapter AA
Chapter AA of the PEO sisterhood will meet at the home of Mrs. Otto Frohmayer, 1656 Spring street, Wednesday, April 24. Assistant hostesses are Mrs. Robert J. Cunningham and Mrs. Otto R. Emig.

Ashland—Mrs. James Madison of Bellview drove to San Francisco the first of the week to visit with her daughter and family and with her sister.

entertainment, Mrs. J. W. McCoy; flowers, Mrs. R. H. West-erfield.
Mrs. Sam Davis is the branch special events chairman and has assisted in this event as well as the downtown coffee and other special April projects.

Plymouth Guild Elects Officers

Ashland—Plymouth Guild of the Congregational church elected Mrs. Glen Prescott president for the ensuing year when the members met last week.

Also elected were Mrs. Tom Carter, vice president; Mrs. Virginia Neuenchwander, secretary; Mrs. Ida Miller, treasurer, and Mrs. M. F. Johnson, program and missionary education director.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Neuenchwander was hostess for a dessert luncheon served from spring flower-centered tables.

The afternoon devotional was given by Mrs. Ruth Monckton on the subject of the "Gift of Choice." Mrs. Prescott reviewed "Risk and Hope, the Hong Kong Story" by Andrew T. Roy.

The day's offering was designated for the missionary Heifer Project Inc.

Ashland—Mrs. James Madison of Bellview drove to San Francisco the first of the week to visit with her daughter and family and with her sister.
