

Congressional Delegation Votes on Party Lines on HR12

By YVONNE FRANKLIN

Washington (Special)—Oregon's congressional delegation split its vote along party lines on HR 12, legislation for the construction of medical facilities and student loans.

Rep. Walter Norblad (R-Ore.), voted against the bill, while the three Democrats, Reps. Al Ullman, Edith Green and Robert Duncan voted affirmatively.

HR 12 provides $175 million in matching grants up to two-thirds of total cost, to be made over three years to help build teaching facilities for medical and dental schools. It also authorizes $61 million in loans to medical students up to $2,000 a year per student.

Mrs. Green was successful in persuading the floor leader of the bill — she had the votes — to offer amendments which would forbid the use of federal money for schools for sectarian purposes. There was some confusion on this issue.

Not for Sectarian Purposes

Harris' amendment stated that money cannot "be used for sectarian instruction or place of religious instruction." Some opponents argued that if the religious organization constructing the facility uses its own money to provide, say, a chapel in a teaching hospital, that the amendment would bar funds.

Harris gave assurance at one point to a protesting member that funds would not be barred if such were done. However at a later point, when asked if funds could be barred if medical ethics of a religious group were taught, he stated that "religious worship" would be the barring criteria. The interpretation of the law will be left up to the Surgeon General, Public Health Service, who will administer the legislation.

The Oregon Democrats disagreed on another controversial amendment providing that funds should not go to schools which discriminate because of race, color or creed. Ullman voted against the Republican amendment which was defeated, while Mrs. Green and Duncan marched down the aisle in a teller vote with Republicans and few Democrats in support. Norblad did not vote, but said he would have voted for it.

Adam Clayton Powell was the only one of five Negro members who voted for the amendment. Speaker John McCormack contended that the amendment would kill the bill. Ullman agreed, saying he has never voted for such an amendment.

"... The purpose has been to defeat the legislation because even though it might pass the House it would not have passed the Senate or gotten through Conference; and it would have resulted in defeating the legislation."

Ullman however supports civil rights measures, but does not think a rider on important legislation is the way to go about it. Republicans who introduced the amendment harpooned the liberal Democrats for helping defeat the anti-discrimination amendment, saying that "it showed where the so-called liberals really stood on civil rights." When Harris was successful in shutting off debate on the amendment, the charges were more insistent.

SEN. GAYLORD A. NELSON
Memorial Dinner Speaker

Enthusiasm Noted As Part of Reason For Acceptance

Enthusiasm for Jackson county's annual Roosevelt Memorial dinner on the part of his U.S. Senate colleagues and other Washington dignitaries who preceded him here, as well as personal invitations from Sen. Wayne L. Morse and Congressman Robert B. Duncan, combined in his acceptance as guest speaker for the 13th annual Roosevelt Memorial dinner at Hedrick Junior High school Saturday, May 11, at 6:30 p.m.

So declared U. S. Sen. Gaylord A. Nelson of Wisconsin to the Roosevelt Memorial Dinner Chairman Ted Phillips and Mrs. Frank Christian. "I am looking forward to this occasion," he said.

Nelson, a personal friend of President Kennedy, said to be one of the ablest younger members of the U. S. Senate, is close to the president's own age. He is 46.

Started as Republican

Starting out as a Republican of the LaFollette liberal mould he was elected to the state senate as a Democrat when only 31 years old. He served 10 years, then was elected governor of Wisconsin in 1958, the second Democrat to hold this office.

He broke a precedent in 1960 by being elected to a second term as governor. During his four years as the state's chief executive, he won wide acclaim from non-partisan newspapers such as the Milwaukee Journal, for his reorganization of state government, his revision of a 50-year-old tax system, and his strong championing of education and the conservation of natural resources.

In 1962, Governor Nelson unseated the long entrenched Republican U. S. Sen. Alexander Wiley, who, with 24 years in office, was still Wisconsin's senior senator. He serves on the senate public works and interior and insular affairs committees in addition to sub-committee assignments.

Tentative plans are that the speaker will be introduced at the dinner by Congressman Robert B. Duncan, while State Representative James A. Redden will act as master of ceremonies.

Miss Mullin Wins Speaking Contest

The 1963 public speaking contest sponsored by the Knights of Pythias lodges Internationally got under way here last week in the Pythian building with senior high students of Jackson county discussing the subject of "Rights and Responsibilities."

Winner of first place was Miss Linda Mullin of Talent, a senior at Phoenix High school.

Because of unforeseen circumstances in the Josephine county contest they did not place a contestant to compete with Miss Mullin. Therefore the contest scheduled for Tuesday, April 30, has been cancelled, and Miss Mullin automatically becomes first place winner in both counties and eligible to compete in the state contest at 8 p.m., Saturday, May 18 in Portland.

Was Right Place

Mrs. Green believed that this legislation was the right place to do something about discrimination. She has introduced legislation that would cut out of funds to colleges which discriminate.

She expressed dissatisfaction with the Democratic performance, especially she said in light of what is currently happening in Alabama and Mississippi where daily acts of violence against Negroes who seek to assert their civil rights are commonplace.

Congress rarely votes on controversial racial matters and has left the matter of civil rights primarily to the Executive and the federal courts.

Desegregation proceeds slowly because court cases take time and money. As a result southern leaders can say with some accuracy that there is no legislation on the books to do what the courts say must be done in desegregating schools — because Congress does not act. And Congress does not act because southerners are in key positions of power.

Duncan believes the civil rights issue is our number one social problem.

Disturbs Duncan

"It disturbs me that we aren't moving faster," he said, "until I look backward and see that we are only 100 years from slavery and that I'm grateful that we have made as much progress as we have."

"I think we can even see substantial changes in the attitude of the South; but it is not just a southern attitude. Very few communities in the State of Oregon can look down their noses at the South."

"We faced this situation in Medford when there was opposition to just one Negro family coming into a residential area. We can't cast the stone at our southern brothers. We better get the mote out of our own eye."

Pre-Registration Set for Kindergarten

Ashtland — Pre-registration for the Southern Oregon college fall kindergarten will be Thursday, May 16, at 9 a.m. at the college business office, Miss Karen O'Conner, kindergarten instructor, has announced.

During pre-registration children will be given a readiness test to determine their placement in either the morning or afternoon session but no child will be excluded because of this test.

The school has a five-day week program consisting of two half day sessions: 9-11:30 a.m. and 1-3:30 p.m.

A child must be five or before Nov. 15 to be enrolled in the kindergarten and he should not be entered unless he plans to attend for the entire year, as it is based on a full school year program. A birth certificate should be presented for verification at the time of enrollment and the sessions are limited to 25 pupils. Each child must also have a physical examination before entering which includes a written report from the doctor, Miss O'Conner said.

Colin Jackson Will Speak at Assembly

Ashtland — Colin Jackson, writer, lecturer, and commentator on world affairs will be at Southern Oregon college, May 1, at 10 a.m. in Churchill auditorium.

Jackson has met such world leaders as Nehru, President Nasser, King Hussein and the chairman of the Peoples Republic of China as well as Chiang Kai-shek. He is a frequent visitor to Asia, Africa and the Middle East, and tours America each year.

He is a regular radio and television broadcaster in Britain, writes a weekly column covering the U.S. and the Commonwealth and contributes to newspapers and periodicals in Britain.

Townpeople are invited to attend the assembly without charge.

Annual Spring Sing by Schools in Area Slated

The annual "Spring Sing" presented by Jackson county elementary schools will be held Friday, May 3, at 8 p.m. in the Medford National Guard armory, according to the Jackson county superintendent's office.

Participating schools and music directors are Miss Elaine Cronk, Applegate; Eric Kissell, Butte Falls; Keith Krambeal, Eagle Point; Richard Gannaway, Elk Trail; William Osmer, Evans Valley; Gary Monica, Phoenix; Kenneth Brew, Rogue River; Richard Gannaway, Shady Cove; Harry Kannasto, Talent; David Greenfield, Prospect; Mrs. Ellor Mae Gail, Sams Valley.

Guest director will be Mrs. Virginia Cecil with Miss Linda Bruno, pianist, Albert K. Krambeal, general chairman, and Mrs. J. W. McCoy, The Phoenix elementary school.

Ashtland — Nine Southern Oregon college students presented the program for an exchange assembly at Oregon College of Education recently under the sponsorship of the SOC Student Council.

Changes Planned In Phone Numbers In Two Exchanges

Oregon Washington Telephone company officials announced Saturday that starting at 12:01 a.m. Sunday, June 2, it will be necessary to dial all seven numerals of the listed telephone numbers of White City and Eagle Point telephone subscribers to complete a local call at those exchanges.

Damage Suit Filed In Circuit Court

Mrs. Paul (Kathryn) Parson, 2846 Merriman rd., Medford, is seeking $22,500 in general damages, plus $110.50 in special damages from the Medford Sears, Roebuck and company store in the Medford Shopping Center as a result of an accident July 5, 1962.

Mrs. Parson claims in her complaint on file in Jackson county Circuit Court she was seriously injured when she tripped over a support on a metal clothes rack. She was looking at dresses in a special sales tent erected adjacent to the store.

Total costs of medical treatment to date are $409.80 of which the company has paid $299.80. The complaint will be amended later to bring the medical expenses up to date.
