Romney Denies Candidate Role

Washington – (UPI) – Michigan Gov. George Romney insists he is not a candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, but he is careful not to insist too hard.

"No one can say what the future holds," Romney said to some reporters after telling a news conference several times that "I am not a candidate and I am not going to become a candidate for the 1964 nomination."

Romney passed up a chance at the news conference to make his stand irrevocable. Political speculation centered around a reception given for the former automotive executive Thursday night by a Republican national committeewoman, Mrs. J. Willard Marriott.

Mrs. Elroy Harth, chairman for the Valley View area, reported a successful 1963 Crusade, with voluntary contributions totalling $143.24. C Day for Valley View, as well for the other outlying communities of Jackson county, continued from April 16 through 19.

Mrs. Ben Dawson, Jr., was the area captain for the Valley View C Days. Assisting her on the house to house educational crusade were the Mesdames Ben Dawson, Robert Young, Hugh Simpson, Jack Kieling, W. H. Wolford, Millard Tinker, Art Sanders, E. G. Childreth, Richard Westerberg, and Dewey Spence.

More than 1,000 volunteers participated in the Jackson County C Day and presented a copy of Cancer's Seven Danger Signals, a leaflet especially prepared for family use. The leaflets were distributed door to door in one of the greatest educational drives in the history of the Jackson County unit of the American Cancer society.
