

Paris To Become Booming, Modern City by 2000

By SCOTT B. BRUNS
Paris - (UPI) - Paris will be a booming, modern city of 12 to 16 million persons by the end of the century, according to a government forecast.

The forecast was released by Paul Delouvrier, government planner for the Paris area.

It has become more and more evident that modern Paris, with eight million residents and two million vehicles, cannot operate on the same streets laid down in the eighteenth century. The city then had two million residents and 100,000 horses.

The planner's design calls for expansion of the city's two suburban superhighways to make a network of 10 express roads skirting the city. Then fast subway trains would carry workers to their jobs.

Poorly Lodged
The report said present-day Parisians are among the country's most poorly lodged persons, with 80 per cent of the city's homes more than 30 years old and two million of the city's 3.3 million homes having neither a bath nor a shower.

Some 500,000 of these homes and apartments don't even have water on the same floor, according to the report.

Delouvrier's report was concerned principally with the city's future growth through 1975, but included additional surveys of the probable situation through the year 2,000. It was felt that any sensible planning would have to take into account the city's development over the next 30 years or more.

The report hailed the rapid growth of provincial cities as a factor which would save Paris from strangling itself, predicting Lyons might attain two million inhabitants and Marseilles, Lille and the Nancy-Metz region might reach 1.5 million inhabitants between now and the turn of the century.

Parking Garages
But to keep traffic moving into Paris and give cars places to park, the report proposed parking garages for 30,000 cars near the city's main railway stations and another 30,000 scattered through downtown areas.

The completion of present work turning the rest of the scenic riverside walkways along the Seine river in central Paris into high speed roadways for east-west traffic also was suggested.

Students Freed on Plotting Overthrow Of Government

Bloomington, Ind. - (UPI) - Three students who might have had "too much college" were free on bond today on charges of plotting the overthrow of the government. A county prosecutor said he was determined to "stamp out communism" before it got a foothold in Indiana universities.

Ralph Levitt, 25, Indianapolis, president of the IU chapter of the Young Socialist Alliance, and Thomas Moran, 22, Terre Haute, YSA treasurer who recently made a hitchhiking tour through Russia and Africa, surrendered to Bloomington authorities Thursday.

They, like James Bingham, 24, YSA vice president, were released on $1,000 bond. Bingham surrendered earlier.

A special Monroe county grand jury handed down the indictments Wednesday after investigating a pro-Cuban demonstration on the IU campus at the time the Cuban blockade was announced last October.

Special Workshops Planned at Pacific

Forest Grove - Six special workshops and seminars highlight offerings in education at the 1963 summer session at Pacific university, beginning June 17. Dr. Fred Scheller, acting director, has announced.

Highlights of the session will be a workshop in team teaching and a number of short courses and workshops in counseling. Featured here will be a special session June 24-30 to help the high school counselor understand problems in college admission.

The Team Teaching workshop is set for June 24-26, and will be concerned with practical as well as theoretical aspects of the subject. Guest lecturers will discuss their experiences with the new teaching device.

NAME CHANGED-Actress Bette Davis' daughter, Barbara Merrill, right, shown with her mother, got a 16th birthday present in Los Angeles Superior Court... a name change. The girl was given legal permission to change her name to Barbara Davis Sherry after telling Commissioner A. Edward Nichols: "I have nothing to do with my stepfather (actor Gary Merrill) anymore, and he has nothing to do with me." Barbara's mother has been divorced from Merrill for three years. (UPI)

Two People Hurt In Medford Mishap

Two persons were slightly injured in a two-car collision about 10 p.m. Thursday in front of 1045 South Riverside ave., according to Medford police.

Driver of one of the vehicles, James Evan Darland, 23, of 922 Park ave., and a passenger in his car, Thomas Eugene Darland, 19, same address, told officers they would see their private physician.

Driver of the other vehicle, Eugene Morris Hanawalt, 56, of 341 South Oakdale ave., was cited by investigating officers for improper lane usage.

Sentenced to Jail
Marvin A. Wilsbacher, 58, of 324 North Front st., was sentenced to 10 days in jail in municipal court today after he was arrested Thursday on a drunk in public charge.

Officers said Wilsbacher was the driver of a car which struck a vehicle registered to Ervin Booly Hogan, 1852 Nie-

Official Search For Boy Cancelled

Longview, Wash. - (UPI) - The official search for three-year-old Ricky Krugle was called off Thursday after an estimated 1,000 officers and volunteers failed to find any trace of the child.

Cowlitz County Sheriff Merle Bevins said a private search by volunteers probably would continue.

The child disappeared Tuesday evening from his home about one-half mile from the Cowlitz river.

Morse Pledges To Support Federal Dunes Legislation

By A. ROBERT SMITH
Mail Tribune
Washington Correspondent
Washington - Sen. Wayne Morse has pledged to support federal legislation for creating an Oregon dunes national seashore under the National Park service, according to the two sponsors of such legislation.

Sen. Maurine Neuberger and Rep. Robert B. Duncan said Morse denied to them that he supported the idea of the state taking over the dunes for a state park as suggested last week by Glenn Jackson, state highway commission chairman. Jackson said he had discussed it with Morse and that the senator liked the idea.

The subject came up Wednesday during a closed door meeting of the Oregon Democrats in Congress. Later Mrs. Neuberger reported that Morse said during the meeting: "I'm for the dunes. I'll support any bill that comes out of the House."

Provision Objectionable
Neither the House bill sponsored by Duncan nor the Senate version sponsored by Mrs. Neuberger would give the government power to condemn private property in the area. Such a provision in earlier bills was objectionable to Morse.

A Senate hearing on the Neuberger bill is scheduled in Eugene Saturday, followed by hearings in Washington, D.C., on May 8. Duncan has talked about hearings on his bill later this year on the Oregon coast.

Washington - (UPI) - President Kennedy plans to spend his third consecutive week end at Camp David near Thurmont, Md. The President is expected to be joined there Saturday by his wife, who flew to New York Wednesday.

Youth Wins Right To Operate Stand

Portland - (UPI) - A 15-year-old boy has won the right to run a soft-drink stand at a local golf course.

County commissioners upheld the right of Gregory Pulos to keep his enterprise going at the public Colwood course. A spokesman for the course said play was slowed by golfers stopping at the stand.

"A boy who is willing to get out and work, particularly at this age, should be encouraged," said Commissioner M. James Gleason.

Corvair Monza Club Coupe

Who needs muscles?

Do you know how easy it is to take a corner with a Corvair or park one? Turn this newspaper sideways and it will give you a pretty good idea. The wheel handles just about that easily.

The Corvair's engine is in the rear, you see, for not only greater traction but more balanced weight distribution. And that's what makes the steering so completely effortless.

The engine is air cooled, too. No radiator. No water or antifreeze. No boiling over or freezing up to worry about. It takes the weather and the terrain as it comes.

Think about those trips to the beach this summer, those bright sunny days and balmy moonlit nights.

And besides, looking at it from a very practical point of view, it's Trade 'N' Travel time right now at your Chevrolet dealer's. He's got some beautiful buys.

But you had better hurry before somebody muscles in ahead of you. Spring's here. Summer's coming fast. And with these sporty good-looking Corvairs selling the way they are, he who hesitates will want to kick himself.

Could Gordon's possibly be older than the London Bobby?

Surprisingly enough, yes. It was in 1829 that Sir Robert Peel reorganized the London Metropolitan Police, who promptly became known as "Peelers" or "Bobbies". But this was sixty years after Alexander Gordon had introduced his remarkable gin to London and given it his name. Happily, the Gordon's you drink today is based on that original 1769 formula. That explains its unique dryness and delicate flavour. Explains, too, why Gordon's is the biggest selling gin in England, America, the world.
