

MANOR-ISMS

By ETHELYN EVANS

Once more our monthly Manor birthday luncheon table was extraordinarily beautiful. A very, very long table, it was proportionately perfect for an immense centerpiece of huge scarlet tulips (from our own Manor flower beds) with contrasting white. Also, we now have a birthday musical ensemble for leading the birthday song which all of us join singing. Miss Emma B. Munday plays a melody (a glorified melodian or, maybe, mouth-organ to you), Lawrence Bragg Sr. plays the violin, Mrs. Charles Cooley the accordion, and Mrs. James Freese the trumpet. It all adds up to a gay time.

Another Manor member has produced a shining (literally) example of talent in arts and crafts. Hiram Salisbury has designed a large plaque for all the world like a lovely stained glass altar window—which is hung at the back of our auditorium stage each Sunday evening for vesper service. It effects an immediate transformation from an entertainment stage to the appropriate religious atmosphere. Mr. Salisbury made this plaque of plastic pieces in beautiful colors, held in place by narrow, black tape.

Splash Party Set by Parents

A social meeting will be held for Parents Without Partners Monday, May 6, at 7:30 p.m. in the Girl Scout headquarters, 208 South Oakdale avenue.

The parents and their children wishing to go on the splash party will leave from the meeting to join at the YMCA swimming pool. Those who wish to remain at the meeting place will be able to participate in card games.

After the swimming and games they will all join at the headquarters for refreshments.

Any interested parent without a partner is invited. Those who need transportation may obtain information by calling Homer Smetz, 664-1789.

Three of the larger blocks in the plaque have bible quotations lettered in red, and Mr. Salisbury is a past master in the art of handsome script lettering.

Manor residents, as well as many residents in the valley, missed a very, very fine musical and dramatic program when the Philharmonic Society of Southern Oregon presented the light opera "Martha" in Senior High school, Saturday, April 27. The performance rated a much larger and more representative audience from the valley and, for the first time I can recall, I attended a musical affair and saw not a single Manor member present—other than my companions, Mrs. Reese Braley (Philharmonic patroness) and my husband. Perhaps my own enjoyment was enhanced by nostalgic memories of hearing the opera regularly throughout an entire season while I was with the Elwyn Concert bureau out of Portland, Ore.—but every one I talked with was as enthusiastic as I.

However, I do realize that—like freshmen Congressmen—a new resident should be seen often and heard not at all, and that I am making like an up-start Johnny come lately in voicing this lament. I'm sorry!

Thursday evening in our auditorium, a friend who has been with us often, Miss Audrey Brist, violinist and string instrument instructor at Southern Oregon college, as well as Ashland Junior High school, presented her high school orchestra in a brief but enjoyable concert. This group has recently won for the second time the award for the No. 1 Superior orchestra in the Southern Oregon Music contest.

Miss Brist also brought a group of young men from the college who played three highly appreciated stringed instrument numbers. The young musicians hurried off immediately for a local broadcast. I understand. We were glad our auditorium was large enough to accommodate, without crowding, our own members and quite a large number of valley guests who joined us for this music.

Eagle Point Garden Club Holds Spring Flower Show

Eagle Point—Two Shady Cove women, Mrs. Charles Cushman and Mrs. William Shepherd, were sweepstakes winners in the Eagle Point Garden club's annual standard flower show held last week end. Mrs. Cushman won the arrangements sweepstakes and Mrs. Shepherd was horticulture division sweepstakes winner.

An estimated 400 visitors attended the show both Saturday and Sunday. There were 125 entries and various displays set up by non-competitive groups and organizations. Members of the Garden club set the stage in the grade school gymnasium with 3 to 5 foot spruce and fir trees arranged in a forest setting around the sides and back of the stage. Arrangements of Oregon grape, gold alyssum, trillium, violas, azaleas and dogwood, set in moss covered containers, appeared to be growing in the midst of trees. A moss and stone arrangement set in the front of the stage held a United States flag, proudly flying in the breeze from its pole.

Mrs. A. Wattenburg was general chairman and Mrs. Ted Flury is president of the club.

Highlighting the Saturday afternoon program was a style show presented by Town and Country Dress Shop, White City. Guests were seated at tables along the outside of the display tables and drank their tea as the latest fashions in swimwear, summer sportswear, suits, party dresses and cotton frocks were modeled by Mrs. Charles Hoover, Miss Cindy Smith, Miss Vicky Vaughan, Miss Jean Clark, Miss Judy Clark, Miss Mary Alice Peska, Mrs. Donald McGovern, Mrs. A. Wattenburg, Mrs. Dick Chamberlain, Mrs. Verne Skyrman, Mrs. F. Grebb and Mrs. C. E. Green. Mrs. Doreen Vaughan was moderator for the show, accompanied by Mrs. Ray Chamberlain at the piano.

Judges for the flower show were Mrs. Arnold Bohnert, Mrs. Lester Gordon, and Mrs. Randall Kay, Central Point, Mrs. Drew Lamb and Mrs. E. A. Bay, Ashland, and Mrs. Olin V. Poe, Phoenix.

Winners in the horticulture divisions were:

Mrs. Cushman was one of two sweepstakes winners. Mrs. Flury is president of the club, and Mrs. Wattenburg was show chairman. The arrangement was entered under the "Freedom of Religion" title.

Homemaking Groups Plan Events at High School

The homemaking classes and the Future Homemakers of America at Medford High school have planned two important events for May.

The first of these will be a Spring fashion review to be given by the homemaking classes Thursday, May 9 at 7:30 p.m., in the lecture center at Medford High school.

Spring cotton dresses, dressmaker and tailored suits, party dresses and original designs will be presented. About 200 garments will be modeled by girls in all levels of clothing construction. One of the senior girls, Miss Judy Hueners, will construct a dress on stage during the style show and model it at conclusion of the show.

All interested persons are invited. At the close of the review, students in foods classes will serve refreshments.

Honored

O'Brien—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Causey were honored guests in the Laurel Hill rest home of Grants Pass recently in celebration of Mr. Causey's birthday and their twenty-eighth wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Mason and their children with other patients at the home participated. Mr. and Mrs. Causey were served dinner. Mrs. Causey has been a patient at the home for some time.

Tips on Liver

Liver is all meat and no bone. It has little fat, so needs additional fat during cooking. Too high temperature or too long cooking tends to make the liver less tender and also tends to destroy the flavor.

The other event being looked forward to is the Future Homemakers of America annual recognition dinner on Thursday, May 16 at 6:30 p.m., at the school. The dinner is given for mothers and daughters.

At that time, awards in foods, clothing and home management will be given. Recognition for participation in class and club activities will be a part of the program, as will modeling of award-winning garments from clothing classes.

Installation of officers for the coming year will be conducted at the dinner meeting. Miss Georgia Mitchell will preside as president.

Student Nurse Holds Office

Miss Ruth Coovert, a senior nursing student in the University of Oregon school of nursing in Multnomah County hospital, Portland, has been elected vice president of Alpha Tau Delta national nursing fraternity.

The student is a daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Coovert, 1541 South Jasper street, and is a Medford High school graduate.

Miss Coovert also has just been awarded a $100 scholarship from District 4, Oregon Nurses association, from which she has received previous scholarships.

For the past year she has been treasurer of the Student Nurses of Oregon. Miss Coovert also is secretary of her class and is a member of the student council.

Flower Show To Salute Schools

Central Point—"Salute to Our Schools," the 17th annual flower show planned by the Central Point Garden club, was discussed at an executive meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Schedules were distributed for this show planned for June 12 and 13 at Jewett school.

The flower show has been planned around the conservation project of the club for the past two years. In 1961 members of the club began planting trees on the grounds at Jewett elementary school. With the assistance at that time from the Sears Foundation and small trees given by the Eagle Point Grange through C. C. Hoover, nearly 200 trees—blue and Engelmann spruce, Russian olive, arborvitae and scotch pine—have been planted.

Regular horticultural classes are planned and the artistic design classes will feature designs suggested by school subjects—languages, music and art, social studies, geology and mathematics.

Mrs. L. C. Gordon is chairman of the show.

VALENTINE BISCUITS

Add instant minced onion to your favorite biscuit recipe and use tomato juice for the liquid. Roll out and cut into heart shapes. Bake and serve hot with butter for breakfast lunch or dinner.

Leaf Cleaning

Leaf cleaning tip: Clean the leaves of your green plants by wiping them gently with a cloth dipped in a solution of half milk and half water. However, brush the leaves of fuzzy-leaved plants, advises the Society of American Florists.

Hair Fashions by Glenn

Brings to you another great, sincere, naturally talented and well trained hairdresser. Now a few comments from Lorna Flury.

Dear Ladies: To me the occupation of Cosmetology is not just a job but a most enjoyable career. In being a Cosmetician I find it a pleasure to please my patrons, both past and future, in every way possible by being conscientious, courteous and efficient. I take great pride in pleasing you. Upon graduating from Medford Beauty School, I worked locally for two years. Then I moved to a well-known where I worked under a well-known hair stylist for some time. For the most in service, relaxation and hairdressing come in and see our shop, "Hair Fashions by Glenn," located on West Main and ask for Lorna or call 772-5252 for an appointment.
