Happy Camp Man Purchases Timber

Yreka—Ted Jensen of Happy Camp was the only bidder for 450,000 board feet of Klamath National forest timber in a sale at Yreka made by sealed bid.

His bid for Douglas fir, the principal species, was $13.65 per thousand board feet. Total bid value was $6,142.50, compared to an appraised price of $4,725.

The sale, known as Sandy Bar Salvage 1, consists of two blocks of timber near Ti Bar, which was windthrown during the Oct. 12, 1962 storm. Salvage of this timber will be done by clearcutting each of the blocks which total 10 acres in size.

MEET INFORMALLY — Medford Chamber of Commerce Member John Snider and Fibber, one of the mules owned by George McOne of Jacksonville, met rather informally last week at a chamber of commerce tourist committee meeting. The group met at Jacksonville in honor of the Peter Britt Music Festival scheduled for this summer. Snider had announced to committee members they should "ride a mule" to Jacksonville for the breakfast meeting, and if anything should happen to the mule, to "get off their dead donkeys and walk." Sparked by anonymous group, McOne brought his mule, Fibber, to the meeting so Snider could personally make the acquaintance.
