University Faculty Members Receive Fulbright Grants

Eugene—Three University of Oregon faculty members and a graduate student have received Fulbright grants for teaching, study, and research in foreign countries during 1963-64.

Dr. Joel V. Berreman, professor of sociology, will leave in August on a teaching grant to the University of the Punjab at Lahore, West Pakistan.

He previously spent 1955-56 in the Philippines under a Fulbright grant.

Howard P. Goldfried, teaching fellow in anthropology, will be based at the University of San Marcos, Lima, Peru, under a research grant.

A Fulbright teaching grant to Iran for J. Spencer Carlson, director of the university counseling center, was announced earlier.

continuously since early 1958, the year in which he was first elected governor, according to his executive assistant, Warren Sawall.

He is no newcomer to the platform, the local committee emphasized in assuring the dinner crowd "food for thought" as well as a menu of turkey with "all the fixings."

Entertainment Planned Entertainment, with a surprise innovation for the 13th anniversary, also is assumed by Ted Phillips and Phyllis Christian, co-chairman for the dinner.

Reporting on the personal life of Senator Nelson, the program committee said he is married to the former Carrie Lee Dotson, whom he met while both were on active duty with the U.S. Army during World War II.

His family before him was active in politics in the progressive Republican movement in Wisconsin. A relative on his mother's side was one of the people who helped form the Republican party at Ripon, Wis., in about 1856.

In modern days, Senator Nelson's father was a staunch supporter of LaFollette. Upon the death of the LaFollette progressive movement in 1946, Senator Nelson along with other progressive Republicans moved into and helped recognize and revitalize the Democratic party of Wisconsin.

Million People Over 65 Could Receive Benefits

About a million people over 65 years of age may be eligible for monthly social security benefits, but have not yet applied for them, according to Edward B. Jacobson, social security district manager in Medford.

He said many people over 65 who are still working have not applied for social security benefits. These people may be losing money every day, he said and added that just because they are earning over $1,200 a year does not mean that they may not be entitled to some social security benefits.

Gives Up Some Benefit "If you are over 65 and earning more than $1,200 a year, you should check with your nearest social security office," Jacobson said, "if you are eligible for back payments, you may lose some of them for every month you delay in applying for benefits. By applying now, you are protected for the last 12 months," he noted.

A social security beneficiary who earns more than $1,200 in a year gives up $1 of social security benefits for every $2 that he earns from $1,200 up to $1,700. For every $1 that he earns over $1,700, he gives up a matching $1 of benefits.

However, Jacobson stated, "no matter how much a beneficiary earns in a year, he can still be paid a full benefit for any month in which he does not earn wages of more than $100 and does not actively engage in self-employment. In addition, a beneficiary who is 72 years of age or older, can receive his full benefit regardless of how much he earns."

The Medford Social Security district office is now located at 1017 North Riverside ave., and is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.
