Musa Sees Move For Tax Reform

Salem — (UPI) — If Oregonians want income tax reform, they'll have to initiate it, Senate President Ben Musa said Tuesday.

"Ninety legislator's can't sell tax reform to 1.8 million people," Musa said.

He pointed to the 1960 election where voters turned down a proposal to eliminate the federal income tax deduction by a 5-1 margin.

Musa criticized Gov. Mark Hatfield who Monday warned against a conference committee compromise of the House-Senate tax procedure.

Musa termed the governor's blast a case of "the pot calling the kettle black."

WAR EXERCISE

Toulon, France—(UPI)—French and American military forces took part Tuesday in the "fair game" exercise off the southern coast of France. The U. S. aircraft carriers Saratoga and Enterprise were among the vessels participating in the one week air-sea exercise which started Monday.

Eugene Man Will Appear on Program

Leslie Fleming, Eugene, coordinator for the John Birch society for the area south of Eugene, will be in Medford Monday, May 13, to appear on a program sponsored by the Jackson county chapter, Oregon United Nations association.

Fleming will oppose Dr. Urban Whitaker, associate professor of international relations, San Francisco State college, and a member of the board of the American Association for the United Nations, in debating the question, "The United Nations – Right or Wrong."

The debate will be held at a luncheon set for noon at the Jackson House and the public is invited. The program will be limited to an hour. Tickets may be purchased at Lawrence's Jewelers, 21 North Central ave.

Dr. Whitaker will also speak at Southern Oregon college and at a dinner meeting to be held at 6:30 p.m. that day at the Jackson House.

The Family Council

Editor's note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a physcialtrist, three clergymen, three editors and a women's editor. Each article is a summary of a family disagreement presented to the Council. The Council deals with problems, major and minor, encountered by guidance counselors and social workers. Edited by Mrs. Alma Denny. (Copyright by General Features Corp.)

Mrs. R. E. – They broke their promise and my son is heartbroken.

Mr. B. B. – Our daughter must pay a price for their sinning.

• • •

Mrs. R. E. – A boy was born a month ago to my son and his girl friend. Because her parents went back on their word, it arrived out of wedlock and they're about to turn it over for adoption. My son is heartbroken over this. I'd like to know if he has any rights to the baby. The girl is so upset she signs any paper her father hands her. She went steady with my son for five years, encouraged by her parents.

• • •

Mr. B. B. – Those kids were supposed to wait till they graduated from college to get married and start their family. Instead they tried to get away with marital relations two years ahead of time. Well, God punished them. Mrs. E. can't expect us to stick to our promise and let them marry as though nothing wrong had happened. They may still marry, but they can't keep that baby.

• • •

The Council: How presumptuous of Mr. B. to speak for God. The God in whom the truly God-fearing believe could never be as cruel as some of the men who put words into His mouth. But we have an encouraging word for Mrs. E. and her son. A lawyer advises us that this youth is legally the baby's "putative father": although there is no legal bond between him and the teen-age mother, a quick claim, instituted by his attorney, could establish his rights against the signing away of his illegitimate son. Then, despite the girl's lack of backbone in the face of her parent's domination, a marriage may well ensue . . . As to its chances for success-we'd advise these mixed-up kids to set up housekeeping around the corner from a good marriage-counseling clinic.

The owner of one of Southern Oregon's largest jumping bean farms was completely wiped out last week.

His crop jumped over the fence.
