

Art Departments Plan Conference

Ashland - Representatives and staff members from Oregon College of Education and Eastern Oregon college will confer with Dr. James Doerter, head of the Southern Oregon college art department and members of the staff May 10 in Britt Student center. Purpose of the meeting will be to discuss new art programs and common problems in the state college art program.

Those attending will be Mrs. Pearl Heath, head of the OCE art department; Dr. George Nightingale, head of the EOC art department and his staff; and Dr. Doerter, Otto Wilda, Marion Ady, and Richard Doi of the SOC art staff.

Silkworms Used For Experiments

Madison, N.J. - UPI-Alan Smith, a student at Madison High school, uses silkworm caterpillars to study the immunological barrier. This is the biochemical system which causes members of different-or even the same-species to reject organ transplants. His experiments indicate the presence of an effective immunological barrier in one silkworm species but not in another.

LAURA MAY NOBLE Wins in National Contest

Eagle Point Girl Places Fourth in U.S. Competition

Laura May Noble, Eagle Point, is the fourth place winner of the senior division of the Pinto of the year and top 10 award for 1962 in the United States and Canada.

The top 10 awards are presented each year to Pinto Horse association members who, with their horses, have accumulated the most points during the show season.

Miss Noble is the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Noble, Brophy rd. She is a junior at the Eagle Point High school. Recently she was selected to represent Eagle Point High for Student Government day in Jackson county.

Her registered Pinto is named "Senorita Cindy," was purchased in Eastern Oregon, has broke and trained it herself as a 4-H project.

Miss Noble is an active seventh year 4-H horse club member of the Lake Creek Ranch.

erment day in Jackson county.

Bill Picaro of the Hotel Edson says he sizes up the guest he is catering to and tailors his material accordingly. It's a great challenge to get the guests in a good humor," said Picaro.

ipates in the school band, Pep club and girls athletic association.

Miss Noble is a granddaughter of V. R. Mattheews, pioneer of the Eagle Point area.
