They will be of Colorado, where Mrs. Lyon spent most of her married life. Well informed of the history of her home state, with its 52 peaks over 14,000 feet high among the great Rocky mountains, Mrs. Lyon will narrate the story of Colorado as she shows the pictures.

Last week, over 30 men and women attended the show given by Edward Dahack on the Hawaiian Islands and the Dahack gardens on the Tiller Trail road. Many of the audience expressed a desire to hire a bus and spend a day in the gardens if such a tour could be arranged. The pictures Mr. Dahack took of the flaming river of lava which descended from an eruption of a great mountain during his time in Hawaii were hailed as most spectacular.

The new group is now working with a hundred pounds of clay which they are molding into life size heads. All groups will take part in this annual celebration to which the public is invited each May.

Each year, the members of the center show their appreciation of the free use of the center and for the volunteer help of the teachers by holding this open house. The event is always open to the general public and especially to newcomers and seniors who have not yet entered any class.

New programs for the summer season will be available at the time.
