House Bill 1178 To Be Discussed

Central Point - House Bill 1178, recently passed by the Oregon legislature and signed by the governor, will be discussed Thursday night at the meeting of the Jackson County chapter of the Oregon Fish and Game Council at the Central Point Sportmen's club.

The regular monthly meeting of the organization will start at 8 p.m.

The bill provides that the state game commission be given authority to open the season on elk and all sub species by geographical areas, according to Walter Craig, president of the Jackson County chapter of the Oregon Fish and Game Council.

"Under the provisions of this bill," Craig said, "the game commission will be able to tell us where we can and where we can't hunt these animals."

The Jackson county organization also will discuss a petition to be circulated to get a measure on the 1956 election ballot, calling for the election of members to the state game commission, Craig said.

Hornbrook Students Visit Weed Firm

Hornbrook - The 53 children making up the first four grades of the local elementary school were taken by school bus one day last week to Weed, where they toured the Medo-Bel creamery.

Manager Pete Belcastro explained the process of making ice cream, and took students into the cold room where the ice cream is stored. The children also were shown how and where their school milk is cartoned and sealed.

En route home, the group visited the Siskiyou County Museum at Yreka. Accompanying the students were teachers Mrs. Alice Rutledge and Mrs. Jeanne Cunningham, and one mother, Mrs. E. E. Fisher.
