MANTLE BAT EXPLODES, WAKES MARIS

Yankees' M-M May Be Back in Business

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Are M&M back in business? And, if they are, how long will it be before some of those American league "contenders" are out of business?

The questions are enough to give the New York Yankees' rivals the jitters today because it could mean that Ralph Houk's world champions are ready for their long-awaited big push.

Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris have been awfully quiet for $172,000 worth of home run hitters this season and it's no coincidence that the Yankees have made several false starts while other teams shuttled in and out of the AL lead. But Mantle's big bat exploded Tuesday night and the thunder was so loud it apparently managed to wake up Maris, too.

Mantle, the MVP of the 1962 season, who started Tuesday night's game with six homers and a .292 batting average, hit a three-run homer in the first inning and a two-run homer in the fifth in the Yankees' 7-4 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Has Respectable Totals

The outburst gave Mantle respectable season totals of eight homers, 20 runs batted in and a .303 average. And then, lo and behold, the long-slumbering Maris woke up with a homer of his own. Sir Roger's season totals still show only five homers, 10 runs batted in and a .239 average but his history is that he follows Mantle off on a "tear."

Jim Bouton went 5 2/3 innings before turning over a 7-3 lead to Steve Hamilton and received credit for his fifth win. The Yankees remained one game behind the Chicago White Sox and Baltimore Orioles, who are tied for first place in the AL.

The White Sox scored their third straight victory when they shaded the Washington Senators, 4-3, the Orioles beat the Detroit Tigers, 4-2, and the Minnesota Twins whipped the Boston Red Sox, 8-2, in other AL games. Los Angeles at Cleveland was rained out.

Hershberger Shines

Mike Hershberger singled home the White Sox' first run and contributed a single to a three-run sixth-inning rally that also included singles by Floyd Robinson and Ron Hansen and a double by Joe Cunningham. Relief pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm preserved Johnny Buzhardt's fourth win despite being tagged for a two-run homer by Don Lock.

Dick Hall struck out Bill Freehan and Dick McAuliffe to end an eighth-inning Tiger threat and enable the Orioles to score their seventh victory in their last eight games. Joe Gaines homered in the second inning and drove in another run with a sacrifice fly to lead Baltimore's seven-hit attack. The win raised Chuck Estrada's record to 3-1.

The Twins routed rookie Dave Morehead with seven runs in the third inning and breezed behind the eight-hit pitching of Jim Perry, who won his second game of the season. Lu Clinton and Dick Stuart homered to produce the Red Sox runs.

JIM MALONEY FANS 16 AS REDS NICK BRAVES

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Manager Fred Hutchinson and the Cincinnati Reds always said tht Jim Maloney's hard stuff would overcome his hard luck . . .

A 6-foot, 2-inch, 200-pound fireballer from Fresno, Calif., Maloney won nine games for the Reds in 1962 and would have won more except that his teammates developed paralysis of the bat when he appeared on the mound. They didn't score a run for him over the last 20 innings of the '62 season.

Maloney has been getting some runs this season and Tuesday night he didn't need any luck – just a ninth-inning helping hand from Bill Henry – when he equalled the modern major league record by striking out eight straight batters in a 2-0 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. Jim went on to fan a game-total of 16 Braves – the third highest single-game total in modern baseball history.

Ties Surkont, Podres

Maloney's eight consecutive strikeouts tied the mark previously shared by Max Surkont of the 1953 Braves and Johnny Podres of the 1962 Los Angeles Dodgers. Bob Feller and Sandy Koufax share the game strikeout record of 18 and Dizzy Dean once struck out 17 batters in a game.

Maloney began his string of strikeouts with the last out in the first inning and ran it to the first out in the fourth before Hank Aaron grounded out. He had allowed only two hits when he walked his third and fourth batters of the game in the ninth and Henry went in to retire the side.

It was Maloney's sixth win against one loss and he has struck out 58 batters in 60½ innings. His powerful performance has helped to compensate for Bob Purkey's slow start due to a sore arm as well as the 1-7 record sported by Joey Jay.

Frank Robinson singled in the first inning and hit a sacrifice fly in the third to drive in both Cincinnati runs. Bob Hendley suffered his third defeat compared to four wins.

Giants Beat Phils

The San Francisco Giants retained first place with a 3-2 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies, the Los Angeles Dodgers downed the New York Mets, 4-2, the Pittsburgh Pirates nipped the Houston Colts, 6-5, and the St. Louis Cardinals shaded the Chicago Cubs, 5-4, in other NL action.

Jose Pagan, hitless in 20 previous trips to the plate, homered in the eighth inning to give the Giants' Billy O'Dell his sixth straight win. O'Dell found a worthy rival in rookie Ray Culp, who yielded only four hits and struck out Willie Mays and Willie McCovey three times each, before yielding the decisive blow to Pagan.

Johnny Podres pitched a five-hitter to record his third win behind a seven-hit Dodger attack that included two key doubles by Ron Fairly. The game was enlivened in the eighth when outfielder Tommy Davis and coach Leo Durocher of the Dodgers were ejected from the game for arguing over a play at the plate.

Jim Pagliaroni drove in four runs with a single and a three-run homer for the Pirates as Al McBean, who pitched four strong innings of middle-inning relief, increased his record to 4-1. The decisive Pagliaroni homer came off relief pitcher Jim Umbricht, who suffered his first loss.

Bill White knocked in three runs with a homer and a single to help the Cardinals' Curt Simmons chalk up victory No. 6. Curt Flood had three hits and Dick Groat and Julian Javier two each in the Cardials' 10-hit attack.

San Diego Padres Led By Freese

By MICHAEL HUDSON
United Press International

Those league-leading San Diego Padres are tougher than ever now that big George Freese is back in town.

Freese played a big part in bringing the 1960 National league pennant to Cincinnati, but neither the Reds nor he ever really bounced back after he broke his leg in spring training of 1961.

Now the Reds have sent him down to regain his batting eye and in his first game for the Padres Tuesday night he crashed a pair of homers and a double.

Easy Win

He got plenty of help from his mates as the Padres rapped five homers and 20 hits on the way to a 12-1 romp over Portland.

Elsewhere, Dallas-Ft. Worth stayed within a game and a half of the Pads in the southern division with a 6-4 win over Oklahoma City. Tacoma pulled the same distance ahead of Seattle in the northern loop with a 5-3 win; Spokane parlayed a trio of homers into a 7-3 win over Hawaii, and the Salt Lake-Denver game postponed by cold weather.

Freese's heavy hitting accounted for four San Diego runs at Portland, while Rogelio Alvarez drove in five more with roundtrippers in the third and eighth innings. Mel Queen's three-run blast in the seventh took care of the rest of the tallies.
