

Nixon Assured of Leadership Share At Future Date

Washington — (UPI) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon didn't quite make the appearance on the "Ev and Charlie Show" this trip, but he has an option to appear on the GOP production later.

The assurance that he will share the Republican congressional leadership platform at some future date may make Nixon feel more comfortable in his strange new role of being more practicing politician than practicing politician.

GOP sources said it was an assurance he was looking for. Nixon arrived Wednesday, 24 hours too early for today's scheduled "Ev and Charlie" leadership meeting and news conference of Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) and House Leader Charles A. Halleck (Ind.).

The 1960 GOP presidential nominee lunched with Senate and House Republican leaders Wednesday.

Nixon made it clear to newsmen he was not out gunning for any 1964 presidential candidate, be it Sen. Barry Goldwater (Ariz.), New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller or anyone else. He said "Eisenhower-Nixon Republicans" could and should be able to support any of the prominently mentioned White House prospects. Neither "kingmaker" nor candidate, as he said, the transplanted Californian now is experiencing the problems known by Republican Thomas E. Dewey and Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson as defeated presidential nominees.

Like Nixon, both Dewey and Stevenson turned to the law, travel and international affairs in fashioning new careers after years in politics.

Now a New York attorney, Nixon plans to leave for an extended European tour June 11. The combined vacation, work and study trip will bring him home in August ready to make speeches and write articles in the months before the 1964 election. The former vice president emphasized that he expected to speak out on the issues. Wednesday's visit, which included breakfast with his old "Chowder and Meringue Club" colleagues in the House, helped to lay the foundation for his future operations.

NEW YORK — (UPI) — The average cost of operating an auto has declined to 14.47 cents a mile from 15.60 cents two years ago, according to the Automobile Legal association.

Democrats Expected To Help Pass Tax Bill

Salem — (UPI) — House Speaker Clarence Brown said today Democrats would help pass Gov. Mark Hatfield's net receipts bill if it comes out of the Senate-House tax conference committee.

"That's Hatfield's bill that the House conferees are proposing. We are not being partisan, we are trying to solve this thing (tax deadlock)."

"If the Republicans insist on a net receipts tax and a cigarette tax we'll have plenty of votes here to pass it, and I have reason to believe it can even pass the Senate," Barton commented.

Business Teachers Meet in Ashland

Ashland — Members of the Southern Oregon college business department hosted the Southern Oregon Business Teachers' meeting recently, according to Dr. Loy Prickett, department head.

Conference highlights included addresses by Mrs. Edith T. Smith, associate professor of secretarial studies, Lewis and Clark college, and Dr. Adele Thompson, SOC associate professor of business. Mrs. Smith, treasurer of the National Business Education association, discussed the Diamond Jubilee Series of lectures currently being conducted throughout the U. S., and Dr. Thompson spoke on the subject of "Employment — Facts and Fiction."

Valley teachers attending the conference included Gerald Eulich and Jean Fowler, Ashland High school; Donna James, Phoenix High school; Myrtle Hayes, Grants Pass High school; Martha Boshears, Crater High school; Audrey Butler, Medford High; Marjorie Redkey, Dorothy Ballie, Elma Bushong, Meredith Bear, and Aletha Shannon, from Klamath Union High school.

Forest Humidity Regulations Set

Salem — (UPI) — Humidity regulations will go into effect at midnight tonight in forest operation close-down zones 3, 8, and 9, State Forester Dwight Phipps said.

That means power-driven machinery on forest land or within one-eighth mile of it will have to stop when humidity is 30 per cent when humidity drops to 35 if high winds prevail.

Zone 3 takes in the Tillamook Burn area, zone 8 includes eastern Multnomah county, and zone 9 covers southern Clackamas, Marion and Linn counties.

Prineville To Have No City Tax Levy

Prineville — (UPI) — The Central Oregon city of Prineville, population some 3,200, will have no city tax levy during the coming fiscal year.

City Recorder Francis Juris says the decision reached at a Tuesday evening meeting means Prineville will be the only city in Oregon of more than 500 population without a city tax levy.

The city's budget committee was able to make the no-tax decision by asking the city-owned Prineville Railway to increase its allotment to the city next year from $70,000 to $79,000. Last year's city tax levy was $29,600.
