

Bigfoot To Appear In Dunsmuir Parade, Ashland Group Told

Siskiyou County - The fabled Bigfoot is going to be captured in time to march in a parade at Dunsmuir the week end of June 22 and 23, members of the Ashland Chamber of Commerce good will tour learned yesterday.

While visiting with the Dunsmuir chamber yesterday morning, the Ashland group learned of the bold plan, being put into action by the Dunsmuir Rotary club.

In fact, club members have already been out in planes flying over the area in an effort to spot the Bigfoot, the mysterious abominable snowman type creature whose person, and footprints, have been spotted on occasions everywhere from Josephine county in Oregon south to the hills east of Fresno, Calif.

The Dunsmuir Rotarians are anxious to locate the Bigfoot in time to invite him to the 18th annual Railroad Days in their community over the June 22-23 week end.

Club members flew over the town of Hayfork in the Trinity wilderness the other

Crater Senior's Painting Bought By Magazine

A transparent watercolor of students leaving a school bus in the rain, the work of a Crater High school senior, Miss Judy Wilson, has been purchased by Margaret Hauser, editor of CO-ED magazine according to Warren Holbrook, district 6 art coordinator.

Miss Wilson's watercolor which received a first place award with a blue ribbon label in state competition received an honorable mention in national competition at the annual Scholastic Art awards sponsored by Scholastic magazine in New York City.

Miss Hauser, who viewed the painting in New York, corresponded with Holbrook concerning the purchase this month.

Miss Wilson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wilson, Lane Creek rd., Central Point.

Talent-Phoenix Group Plans Meet

Talent - The Talent-Phoenix Businessmen's association will meet Monday at the Talent City Hall at 9 p.m.

All businessmen and women in the area along Highway 99 from the north city limits of Ashland to Barnett rd., south of Medford, are urged to attend this meeting.

Interstate 5 will be open this summer and it is the object of this organization to maintain traffic on Highway 99 between Medford and Ashland instead of it staying on the new Interstate highway and thus completely bypassing the whole trade area.

Burning Permits Now Required In Talent

Talent - Chief of Police Chuck Roberts has announced that a written fire permit is now required for anyone to burn trash. Such a permit can be obtained by residents of the Town of Talent from Chief Roberts.

For persons residing outside the city limits, fire permits are obtainable from Ralph Connor, chief of the Talent Rural Fire Protection district.

4-H MEMBER RECEIVES TROPHY—Miss Mary Anne Barker, right, Ruch 4-H club member, receiving the Ralston-Purina trophy for the grand champion barrow at the Jackson County 4-H fair last summer. The award was made recently at a meeting of Upper Applegate Grange. Joseph Casad, center, field man for Monarch Seed and Feed Company, and Robert McGahey of Ashland, district sales manager for Ralston-Purina, presented the trophy. Mary Anne also is a member of the Grange. Members of audience at right applaud the award presentation.

BUSINESSMAN HONORED—Miss Mary Ann Cantrall, right, and William Travis, center, members of Ruch 4-H club, present a merit of service award to Kenneth Cearley, owner of Farmers' Packing company of Medford in appreciation of assistance he has given Ruch 4-H clubs. The presentation was made at a recent meeting of Upper Applegate Grange.

By R. E. NEALON
Mail Tribune Table Rock Correspondent

The members of the Table Rock ladies club are rehearsing a play "The Hidden Letter," to be presented Saturday, May 25, at 8 p.m. at the Table Rock schoolhouse. The play was written by Mrs. O. T. Wilson, who is well known around the Central Point area for her clever composing. The play dates back to the turn of the century, and describes the living conditions and dress of a pioneer western family. This is the first time anything of this nature has been attempted for some time, and the ladies have gone to quite a bit of work in preparation, so we should show our appreciation by giving our support and attending the program.

Last Sunday we attended the Sams Valley Grange picnic at the Valley of the Rogue park. This, we believe, is one of our most attractive parks and with some needed work on facilities and lawns will be one of the popular parks of the valley. The setting of beautiful shade trees is framed on three sides by a chain of blue mountains. At the picnic we met the Master of the Oregon State Grange, and other dignitaries, also several Grangers who in the past were residents of Jacksonville which made it seem like old times to us. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Sims, who were active here in Grange work, but are now living in the Willamette valley, where they work with the Granges, Ted being a state deputy.

The other day a lady called by phone, telling us that her children had found a killdeer with a broken wing. She wanted to know where she could get some one to patch up the injured wing. We referred her to the bird watcher of the Mail Tribune.

The master of the national Grange a few years ago said the farmers were paid less for what they did than any segment of the national economy. During rush seasons, like at present, many farmers work 16 hours or more each day. Compared to this, we recently listened to an employment agent naming jobs that could be had in the Eugene area. The jobs started at $3.40 an hour. He named many jobs between that and the last one, at $6.50.

This, we dedicate to the daylight time savers.

Before Daylight Saving Time

They didn't teach kinematics
When I was a kid in school;
We never heard of a "moonsuit"
Nor learned any count-down rule.
Since only celestial bodies
Were our neighbors in outer space,
We studied no sputtering Sputniks
Nor Circumlunar race.
We lived on our earthly biosphere
And wrested our food from the sod;
Our days were measured by daylight
But we left the time to God.
If we needed inertial guidance
We were not aware of the fact;
The earth was our biosatellite
With escape velocity packed.
We didn't have any dyna-soar
To crash through the stratosphere;
Nor testing flights in the dead of night
To disturb our rest while here
Ours was a celestial guidance
Minus cosmic rays and LOX;
But we could get up in the morning
Without tampering with our clocks.

Happy Camp Plans Summer Program

Happy Camp - The Happy Camp Union Elementary school again will offer a summer school program to students this year. The plans are to start the four week school on Monday, June 17, ending Friday, July 19, with a one-week break for the July 4th week.

All academic courses as well as a remedial reading program, under the Siskiyou county schools office, will be offered. The remedial reading program will be available only to those students qualifying, and parents whose children have qualified for this program will be notified by a special letter from the county schools office.

Hanby Students Raise $144 In Drive For Cancer Society Fund

Gold Hill - Eighth graders of Hanby Elementary school in Gold Hill have to date raised $144 to contribute to the American Cancer society.

The students recently conducted a house to house drive. Pupils from Sams Valley area and Gold Hill who are students of Leon Myers and Walter Doherty at Hanby participated in the project.

Mrs. Paul Molloy and Mrs. Delos Walker had charge of arrangements. Anyone who was missed by the house to house drive that wishes to make a donation or desires information provided by the American Cancer society may contact either Mrs. Molloy or Mrs. Walker.

According to District Superintendent John Sugden Jr., all children are urged to attend. Summer school is an extension of the regular school program, he said, giving a child low in academic work a chance to work closer with the teacher. Children of average and above in academic ability have a chance to broaden their background. Funds for the program are paid to the school district by the state on the basis of attendance, Sugden said. Whenever students are absent, the local taxpayers must pay for the program. It is then imperative that children enrolled in the program, attend the school full time. Sugden emphasized that parents who enroll their children in summer school, give their full support to keeping their children in the program for the entire four weeks.

Jacksonville Boosters Club Organizes, Plans Next Meet

Jacksonville - The Jacksonville Boosters club, which held its organizational meeting last Friday night, will meet again Monday evening. All persons interested in the future development of Jacksonville are urged to attend.

Members of the boosters club have expressed a desire to get more people out to the next meeting than attended the first, so that the organization may represent a wider cross-section of the community.

Robertson Collins served as chairman at last Friday's organizational meeting.

The group decided that its principal aim would be to assemble overall planning information in such areas as schools, parks and recreation, tourist promotion and economic development.

Disseminate Results

This data will be gathered through research, interviews and inventory, with persons assigned to collect certain information. The reports the club comes up with will then be discussed, correlated and disseminated to the public.

Rudy Teirault suggested that data be made available to all citizens, the planning commission and the city council.

The Rev. Oliver Summers spoke of three agencies that could be called upon to aid in gathering data. Collins listed these agencies as the Bureau of Municipal Research, the League of Oregon Cities and the University of Washington town development program.

Collins also urged residents to read the book "Democracy Is You," which is available through the Jacksonville library. Mayor E. O. Graham of Jacksonville commented that there was no limit to the amount of work that could be done. Many reports have been filed by city groups already, he noted, adding that he thought the club would be a good organization.

Graham went on to predict that there would be some hardships, however. Financing is difficult to obtain, he said, and volunteer help has a habit of petering out. The mayor said he thought the club could work together with the city planning commission. Mayor Graham made mention of the fact that information could be obtained from the Jacksonville city recorder.

Don Wendt, city councilman, said he felt present problems should be taken care of first. He brought up the question of how to carry the research project through, how far to go at the present time, what would be the end result and how long would it take to reach it.

One member present suggested that the club start with just one area. Another suggested that a committee be appointed for each category to

LINDA SMITH

Linda Smith In Running For Queen

Montague - Linda Smith, captain of the Yreka Rough Riders, is another of the eight young girls who has entered the competition for the title of junior rodeo queen here.

Linda, who is the 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Smith of Yreka, is a freshman at Yreka High school, and has ridden horses since she was a small child.

She has participated in many rodeo events and horse shows and placed third in western horsemanship at the Siskiyou County fair when she was 12.

community would be present at the next meeting.

A steering committee for the club was appointed, composed of the following members: Councilman Wendt, Planning Commission Chairman John Keaveny; Collins, who is acting chairman; George McUne of the Pioneer village and Helen Roberts, Jacksonville librarian, who will be secretary.

At Wendt's suggestion, the group decided to hold off naming committees in hopes that a wider cross-section of the

20 Sign Up For Reading Program

Central Point - Twenty youngsters have signed up for the 1963 summer reading program at the Central Point library according to Mrs. A. D. Van Horn, librarian.

The reading program this year will be based on space and will run from June 3 to August 3. Members must read ten books, three of them about space, to receive a reading certificate she said.

Children 6 through 14 years of age are invited to participate and are asked to bring models or projects pertaining to space to display in the library.

Sometime in August a parade will be held, with participants in space costumes. At this time reading certificates will be presented Mrs. Van Horn continued.
