Teacher Guide To Be Considered
 Salem - (AP) - The State Board of Education will resume consideration of a proposed teacher's guide on Communism when it meets here June 5.
 The guide is planned for use in teaching course on Democracy and Communism in Oregon schools.
 The board will elect a new chairman and vice chairman to take over in September.
 Other items on the agenda include:
 -Personnel changes.
 -A hearing on the teaching certificate of Willard McKinny of Klamath Falls.
 -Contracts with three school districts for migrant summer school programs.
 -Appointment of members to the State Board of Textbook Commissioners.

Seaman Killed in Portland Crash
 Portland - (AP) - Seaman Clifford R. Igou, 22, USN, Dennison, Iowa, was killed in a one-car accident here early today.
 Police said he died at a hospital shortly after the crash. Another sailor, Gary Eaton, 29, suffered bruises when the car driven by Igou apparently went out of control.
 Both sailors were attached to the USS Skagit, an attack cargo vessel undergoing major overhauls at a shipyard here.

Two Americans Killed in Viet Nam

Saigon, South Viet Nam - (AP) - Two U.S. Army special forces men, a captain and a sergeant, were killed from ambush by a platoon of Communist guerrillas Wednesday, a U.S. military spokesman said today.
 The names of the slain Americans were not made public immediately.
 The spokesman said the two were leading a patrol of mountain tribesmen in jungle-matted mountains of the central highlands in Quang Ngai Province, about 325 miles north of here.
 Several Communist guerrillas were killed or wounded when the mountain men returned the fire, the spokesman said. None of the tribesmen was hit.
 The fatalities brought to 87 the number of U.S. servicemen killed in South Viet Nam since the U.S. buildup began in 1961. The total includes 63 killed in combat and 24 killed in accidents.

Hired Farm Workers Are Building Social Security

Almost 2 million hired farm workers are now building social security credit toward future benefits for themselves and their families.
 But, according to Edward B. Jacobson, social security district manager, many others who should be getting credit toward old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits, are failing to do so.
 Jacobson said a farm worker is covered by social security if he is paid $150 cash wages or more in a year by an employer, or if he works for an employer on 20 or more days on a time, rather than a piecework basis. In either of these two situations, the employer is required by law to report the worker's earnings and pay the social security taxes due.
 "These reports are due in January of each year," he said. "But right now, in the growing season, the farm employer needs to make sure that he is keeping a record of the people he hires so that he will be in a position to make his report when January rolls around."
 No elaborate record-keeping system is needed, Jacobson pointed out, but the farm employer should make sure that he makes a record of the correct name and social security number of each employee, copying it carefully from the worker's social security card.
 Then he will need to enter the cash wage payments he makes to each, and the amount, if any, he deducts from those wages as the employee's share of the social security tax, Jacobson noted.
 If he has not kept such a record at first because he did not expect the employee to meet the $150 or the 20-day test of social security coverage, but it turns out that one or both of these tests will be met, he should begin keeping records for the employee. He can estimate for the record the amount he has already paid the employee in the year.
 Farm employers who want more information about how to report their farm employ-

New York - (AP) - A Tiros weather satellite capable of photographing the earth's entire surface at least daily will be put into orbit some time next year, according to plans announced by the National Aeronautics and Space agency.
