Seniors Hold Open House; Summer Activities Slated

Over 100 guests attended the open house held last week end at the Senior Activity center on East Jackson street.

It has been estimated that about 500 senior citizens have participated in center activities.

The senior orchestra played from 4 to 5 p.m., and guests also joined in singing.

Refreshments were served at tables and chairs placed in the yard.

Center of attraction for the event was a composite abstract painting which guests were asked to name.

New Programs The summer now are available at the center. The Saturday bridge group is slated to meet Saturday afternoons but no classes will be held until fall.

The week of June 3 through 8 will open with an Arm

Chair Travel show at 1 p.m., to be given by Mr. and Mrs. George Hammond of the Rogue Valley Manor. Slides will be shown of scenes taken on a trip from northeastern Canada, the French provinces, through the New England states, the Eastern Appalachian mountains, and Virginia taken during the fall season.

Fourteen members have registered for art classes directed by Mrs. Victoria Staley which opened May 28.

On Monday, June 3, the Spanish class will meet from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. On the following week the group will meet Wednesday morning, June 12, at the same time.

Mrs. Alicia Carter will conduct the class that day and arrangements will be made for classes during the remainder of June. Mrs. Edith Brandenburg and W. H. Walwyn will be in charge of arrangements.

The Wednesday copper classes are to continue from 1 to 3 p.m., and new members may join at any time.

The orchestra will continue to meet Thursday afternoons at the center.
