New Campus Center Opened At College Of The Siskiyou

Weed - Dedication ceremonies for the new campus center of the College of the Siskiyou here, in memory of John Mantle, were held May 25. A large crowd attended and toured the building before and after the ceremonies.

The center includes administrative office, library, lounge, student store, health center, cafeteria and kitchen. The rooms are laid out in the form of a cross and the center room is the lounge which is centered with a huge fireplace with glass doors back and front and a large raised hearth made of hundreds of small rocks cemented together. The view of Mt. Shasta from the east windows is majestic.

The dedication ceremonies were held outdoors, with the speakers standing at the entrance of the building, over which a name plate honoring John Mantle was unveiled by members of the family. Two daughters and two sons were present.

W. E. Roberts, president of the College of the Siskiyou, gave the welcoming speech and introduced old and new members of the board of trustees. Dr. Donald L. Meamber gave the address. He was a member of the first board of trustees. He gave a history of John Mantle who was the manager of International Paper company at Weed and was responsible for the vision of a future college there, getting the company to donate some 25 acres for the college. This was large enough to allow for expansion as needed.

This being a new college, everything had to start from scratch. E. W. Roberts, then the county superintendent of schools, appointed the first board of trustees. Dr. M. Greenfields was the first president. Since his death E. W. Roberts has been president.

After the unveiling of the John Mantle name plate, Mrs. Maureen Mantle Kolda, a daughter, gave a brief thanks in behalf of the Mantle family. To conclude the program the Weed Elementary school chorus sang two numbers under the direction of Mrs. Joan Welch, director.

Radio Amateurs To Enter Alba Contest

Medford radio amateurs have been invited to participate in a contest to contact similar operators in Alba, Italy. The contest started Saturday.

Verl G. Walker company, Medford electronics distributor, has offered to donate all of the prizes for the contest, which ends Aug. 31. Contest officials said prizes will be announced soon.

Secondary and intermediate monthly prizes will be awarded during "Alba" week in September.

Any direct contact with another amateur station in Alba will require many hours of intent listening and careful transmitting, the contest committee stated.

Amateur operators in the Alba region are being notified of the event. They will be listening for a Medford contact. Periodic progress reports on contacts closest to Alba will be made by the Friends of Alba committee.

Contest rules may be obtained at the Walker company or from the mayor's office in the Medford city hall.

Special Meeting Is Set by Committee

The Christian Social Relations committee of the Medford Council of United Church Women will hold a special meeting at 10 a.m. Monday, June 3, in the fireplace room of the First Presbyterian church.

To be considered will be matters pertaining to the detention home and the juvenile court. The Rev. Fredrick Ross Evans, of the First Christian church, will speak on mental health and assistance in the establishment of mental patients to a normal life in the community.

Lawrence Tweedy, of the juvenile department, will discuss aid needed in the work with delinquents. Maj. William Ricken will present the problems of the transient and migrant workers.

The meeting is designed to study possible means to aid in speeding the work of the several departments toward a workable cooperative body in which the community shares concern.

Reforestation Work Sets BLM Record

The reforestation work completed by the Medford district of the bureau of land management during the past seeding and planting season represents the largest annual accomplishment to date according to Jack Thomsen, reforestation specialist.

During the past winter and spring, 5,791 acres were planted with approximately 3,000,000 tree seedlings and 5,639 acres were seeded with 4,167 pounds of tree seed for a total of 11,430 acres reforested.

Site improvement work consisting of herbicide treatment and snag felling was accomplished on 1,935 acres, and thinning of young timber stands was done on 1,085 acres, Thomsen said.

BLM foresters are now making plans to plant 5,000,000 tree seedlings next season, he said. New records have been set each year since 1957 when funds in substantial amounts first were appropriated for BLM reforestation work.

Gold Hill Minister To Attend State Church Conference

Gold Hill - More than 300 Methodist ministers and laymen will be delegates to the annual session of Oregon Annual Conference meeting on the campus of Willamette university and at First Methodist church, Salem, June 4 through June 7. Presiding officer will be Portland Area Bishop A. Raymond Grant.

Attending from Gold Hill Community Methodist church will be the Rev. Loclen L. Gregory, pastor. A lay delegate from this church will be unable to attend.

Guest speakers will include Dr. Theodore A. Gill, noted preacher and former editor of the Christian Century at Wednesday and Thursday evening services and Friday; Dr. Dwight E. Loder, president of Methodist Garret Theological seminary, Evanston, Illinois, speaking on "The Secret of Christ" at a Tuesday evening banquet, and on "Fishers of Men" and "The Spirit of Power" at Wednesday and Thursday morning devotional services; and Bishop Grant at a luncheon on missions.

Conference delegates will meet in study sections Wednesday to prepare proposals for conference business sessions on Thursday and Friday. A proposed budget of $553,683, an increase of 4.8 per cent will be considered for the purpose of underwriting the mission of the church reaching out in Evangelism of Persons, Mission Projects, and Social Concerns Programs. The educational enterprise of the church exists to deepen the commitment of churchmen in the above areas of service.

Memorial Worship
Opening session of conference will find delegates at worship in memory of those who have died in the past year and in Holy Communion. Ordination of new ministers and retirement of those who have completed their service will be highlights of the week. Reports on membership growth and financial condition as well as effect of the past year's program will be heard Tuesday afternoon.

Special feature of this year's session will be election of ministerial and lay delegates to General Conference, national quadrennial Methodist legislative body meeting in Pittsburgh in 1964.

One hundred sixty-seven Methodist churches will be represented by pastors and laymen. The current membership is 54,674.

Happy Camp High Principal Resigns

Happy Camp - James Foote, principal of Happy Camp High school for the past three years, has announced his resignation, effective at the end of his current contract, July 1.

According to Foote, he will probably accept a position in the Bay area where he plans to resume his own studies toward a master's degree in education and superintendent's credential. He expects to take a contract as a vice principal, which will include part-time teaching.

Foote said he and his family have enjoyed the years spent in Happy Camp, especially the cooperation of the people in the community. Mr. and Mrs. Foote and their three children will probably move shortly after July 1.
