Shaffer Resigns as District Manager

Grants Pass - Noel F. Shaffer, manager of the Grants Pass Irrigation district, resigned yesterday during a stormy session of the district board, marked by demands by landowners that he be fired.

The resignation, accepted by the board, was effective at 5 p.m. yesterday. Angry landowners, mostly from the Jerome Prairie area, hurled charges of neglect and incompetence against Shaffer at the board meeting.

Most of the complaints centered around the malfunctioning of an electric motor which normally pumps water into the district's Jerome Prairie lateral. At the beginning of the irrigation season it was found inoperative and was shipped to Portland for repairs.

Landowners complained that their lands meanwhile were drying up because of lack of water and that as a result they faced serious financial losses.

Escapes Injury

Williamina—UPI—Capt. Paul James Blair of Portland escaped injury when his Oregon Army National Guard helicopter crashed in a field near here Tuesday.

Variance Request Denied by Board

A variance request to operate a second hand store in the South Talent interim zoned area was denied Tuesday afternoon following a public hearing held by the board of adjustment of the Jackson county planning commission.

The variance was sought by Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn O. Scammon on Highway 99 about 400 feet northwest of Creel rd. The decision of the board was unanimous.

Five residents of the zoned area spoke in opposition to the request. In denying the request, the board said that ordinance requirements for granting a variance could not be met.

Hatfield also is slated to deliver two college commencement addresses in California this weekend.

Dr. Mulling Invited To Start Clinical Program at Guam

Ashland - Dr. Leon C. Mulling, director of the Southern Oregon college speech and hearing center, has been invited by the government of Guam to begin a speech clinical program for cleft palate children during the forthcoming summer session.

Dr. Mulling, who is also chairman of the department of speech and theater arts at Southern Oregon college, will be at the College of Guam at Agaña for eight weeks beginning June 17.

During this time he will be engaged in diagnosing the nature of the speech disorders, prescribing treatment, and instructing Guamanian teachers in methods of helping children without the specialized aid of a speech therapist.

According to Dr. Mulling, twenty-five school children with cleft palates are already scheduled for clinical help, and an undetermined number of pre-school children and parents will be seen for counseling concerning the use of appropriate speech activities in the home.

Known For Work Mulling is well known in Oregon for his work with children with speech defects, having initiated the present campus speech center in Ashland in 1952. Since its beginning, the speech center has served Jackson, Josephine, Curry and Lake counties, as well as occasional cases from northern California.

He now serves monthly on a diagnostic team held at Rogue Valley hospital under the auspices of the crippled children's division of the University of Oregon medical school, cooperating with medical practitioners, physical therapists, nurses, social workers, occupational therapists, psychologists and educators.

Following the summer assignment, Mulling will continue around the world, visiting Japan, China, Thailand, India, Turkey, Greece, Italy and England, before returning to Southern Oregon college in the fall.

During his absence, Henry De Voss, supervisor of special education of the Medford schools, will conduct the campus clinic and teach the summer course in principles and techniques of speech improvement. Parents who wish summer speech help for their children may call the college at 432-3311 and ask that the names of their children be placed on a waiting list.
