

Dave Steen Eyes NCAA Shot Put

By JAMES F. COUR
Eugene — (UPI) — Boyish-looking University of Oregon shot putter Dave Steen doesn't think much of his chances in the NCAA track championship meet at Albuquerque, N.M., this week.

"I don't expect to win," the soft-spoken 6-foot-4, 220-pound senior from Canada said. "I'm not in Gubner's (Gary Gubner of New York University) class yet." He emphasized the word "yet."

But veteran Oregon Coach Bill Bowerman disagreed.

"That sounds like something Dave would say," he said. "He's real shy and modest but always is striving to improve himself. I think he's got a good chance of winning."

Statistics back up Bowerman.

Steen, who is from Vancouver, B.C., holds the top NCAA distance in the shot put this season — 61 feet, 8 3/4 inches. Gubner ranks second at 61-5.

Bubner finished second to Dallas Long of Southern California and Steen was fifth in last year's NCAA meet here. Long went 64-7, Gubner had 63-4 and Steen was 58-5 1/4.

In their only meeting this spring, Gubner took second in the Modesto Relays while Steen failed to make the finals. It was the Oregon senior's only loss of the year.

The Ducks won the NCAA championship last year but will be without miler Dyrrol Burleson, hurdler Jerry Tarr and sprinter Harry Jerome this time around.

"I don't think that the fact that we are defending champions and that three of our top men aren't back will put any added pressure on me," Steen said. "The pressure is so tremendous anyway."

The 21-year-old Canadian also has a chance at getting Oregon some points in the discus. His best of 177-1 1/2 ranks ninth in the NCAA statistics.

Local Legion Crew Eyes Heavy Slate

Medford's American Legion junior baseball season, slow in starting because of a late high school slate, rolls into high gear this week.

The Medfords, starting Thursday, will have six games in four days.

On Thursday they open their home season and celebrate the reopening of the fairgrounds field to hard ball by entertaining the Astoria Legion team at 7:30 p.m.

Coos Bay Here Friday

On Friday evening Medford will be host to Coos Bay. It will meet the same club in a twinbill Saturday afternoon and on Sunday afternoon will play a doubleheader at Grants Pass.

The Ashland game and the first one with Grants Pass will count in Area 4 Southern division standings.

Jackson County Judge Earl Miller will throw out the first ball Thursday for the inaugural in the renovated ball park.

Medford on Saturday and Sunday will be without the services of pitcher Stuart Young and shortstop Dan Miles. They'll be playing for State in the Oregon prep all-star series at Eugene.

Meanwhile, on the playing field, Oklahoma City blanked the Padres 7-0 and Spokane topped Seattle 4-1. Denver dropped a close 8-7 exhibition game to the Minnesota Twins and Dallas-Ft. Worth was rained out at Salt Lake City.

Peden, a 40-year-old veteran of 17 years of minor league baseball, joined Portland as a playing manager last year and the Beavers finished sixth in the PCL with a 74-80 record.

Peden also played in 47 games and compiled an impressive .351 batting average.

This year Peden concentrated on his managerial duties. He just recently placed himself on the active list and belted a grand slam home run Saturday night. The Beavers are currently in third place in the Northern division with a respectable 28-28 record.

But this did not satisfy the Kansas City Athletics, parent team of the Beavers.

"We hoped the Beavers would be doing better at this stage of the campaign," Hank Peters, Kansas City's farm director, said in announcing Peden's dismissal Monday. "We feel a change of managers might perk up the club."

The feud between Ellis and Heffner had been building up for some days and finally exploded Monday with Heffner's statement: "There's not room for both of us on the ball club, either he goes or I go."

The suspension was a direct result of an incident Sunday, although Ellis had already been assessed two fines for run-ins with Heffner.

When Heffner went to the mound Sunday in the second inning to remove Ellis, the pitcher argued with the manager for several minutes before 4,495 fans. Ellis said Heffner accused him of not doing his best.

"Heffner knew my arm has been aching and I didn't want to cause any further damage to it by throwing too hard," Ellis said in his own defense.

Ellis, who led the PCL in winning percentage last season, had a 5-5 record and was leading the league in strikeouts with 90.

The Padres did not fare too well on the field Monday night against the pitching of George Brunet. He scattered five hits and fanned 12 for his third win in five decisions.

Hardy, Danny Murphy and Hal Smith sparked the Oklahoma City attack as the 89'ers scored four runs in the seventh and three more in the eighth to break up a mound duel between Brunet and Scott Breeden.

Al Ferrara's hitting and Nick Wilhite's six-hit pitching highlighted Spokane's victory at Seattle. Ferrara drove home three of the Indians' four runs with a home run and single. Wilhite lost a shutout when Seattle's Dave Hall hit a bases-empty home run in the eighth.

Denver put up a good fight against Minnesota, but a five-run outburst by the Twins in the eighth inning overcame the Bears' three-run advantage and settled the issue.

Portland Manager Les Peden Fired; Carnevale Takes Over

United Press International
If you're looking for a brief rundown on Monday's Pacific Coast league action, forget the league standings and game results.

Look instead for a couple of off field items from the widely separated cities of Portland, Ore., and San Diego, Calif.

Item one: Portland Beaver manager Les Peden was fired and replaced by Danny Carnevale, a scout in the Kansas City organization.

Item two: San Diego pitcher Sammy Ellis was suspended indefinitely for insubordination to climax a running dispute with manager Don Heffner.

Meanwhile, on the playing

Opponent Sought To Go Against Haystack Calhoun

Haystack Calhoun, who at 601 pounds is said to be the world's biggest wrestler, will headline an all-star professional card at Medford armory on Thursday night, June 27.

Promoter Elton Owen is trying to line up a suitable opponent for the outsized country boy but so far has been unable to find a top flight heavyweight who is willing to go against the hefty Iowa farmer.

"We might have to go with a battle royal in order to get enough weight to oppose Calhoun," Owen said today.

Calhoun specializes in a "belly flop" in which he slams an opponent to the mat and then dives on him to produce his falls and most wrestlers are not anxious to have 601 pounds dropped on them.

Hauptert, Peterson Champions In Rogue Valley's Best Ball

Bud Hauptert and Ken Peterson have won the men's best ball partnership golf tournament at Rogue Valley Country club.

They defeated Pat Soran and Max Larson 1 up in the finale.

Winners of the first flight were Bud Wimberley and Dr. Jack Owens. They won from C. A. Holmes and John Sanford 4 and 2.

Ed Simmons and Dr. Bruce Stanley head a group of 37 who have qualified so far for the Rogue Valley men's club championship tournament. They stroked even par 72.

Alan Holmes recorded a 73 and Bud Hauptert a 74. Men have through June 23 to qualify and match play will run from that date through Aug. 11.

Pollard Wins Two Events

Medford driver Art Pollard won two events in auto racing at the Evergreen Speedway at Monroe, Wash., Sunday.

In his car "Martizing Special" he won the main event and the trophy dash. He was second in the fast heat and had the third fastest time, turning the five-eighths of a mile track in 26.68 seconds with an average speed of 102 miles per hour.

Big Fish in Sump Caught by Youths

Central Point — Two young fishermen who reside on Taylor rd. west of here did not have to go out to Rogue river or some distant lake to catch their "big one."

The two, Dave Harper and Darrell Bohnert, combined their efforts to catch a large goldfish from a sump on the property of Bohnert's parents, the Don Bohnerts.

They reported the fish was 12 inches long and six inches thick. It weighed two pounds. It was lured by a mosquito fly and required seven minutes to land, the boys reported.

The pond or sump in which the goldfish had resided was 30 feet long, 16 feet wide and 12 feet deep.

Bowling

BOWLING WIDOWS — The Timber Products Team No. One of Norma Scheel, Betty Cismum, and Claudine Pollard took first place. Gene King, Dolores Crawford, and Joyce Thurston of Team Five were second.

Honor winners of the season were Esther Mohr, high scratch game, 225; Joyce Thurston, high scratch series, 346; Grace Paul, high game handicap, 243; Carol Harvey, high series handicap, 618; Judy Shouts, most improved bowler, 14 pins; Marge Anderson, high average, 137.

QUARTETTES — Four Excuses (2-2) (6-2) Judy Barnum 315; Late Starters (2-2) (2-5) Pearl Crowe 427. Four Squares (2-1) (6-2) Elsie Eddy 425; Few Strikes (1-3) (3-5) Donna Hunter 470. Crazy Darts (2-1) (5-3) Betty Norman 426; Head Aches (1-3) (2-6) Maggie McLean 324. Six Comments (1-3) (4-4) Inez Glints 379; Grin a Bear It's (3-1) (3-5) Donah Benick 465. CP's Cheney Studs Bill GP, KF Nines

Central Point — Central Point Cheney Studs American Legion junior baseball team this evening opens a slate of three games in three days.

They'll go to Grants Pass for a 6:30 o'clock twilight affair with the Grants Pass Mock Ford team.

On Wednesday the Studs oppose the Klamath Falls Hawks at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial field, White City. A Thursday trip will take the Cheney nine to Roseburg for 8 p.m. action.

The Wednesday brush will be an Area 4 Southern division counting fracas. It is important to both the Studs and the Hawks since the Hawks lead the loop with a 2-0 standing and the Studs, although tied for third, are just a half game back with 2-1.

For this evening's game at GP Manager Bill Askwith has indicated Larry Mason as pitcher with Bob Corliss in the back up role. Choice for Wednesday's hill work appears between Wayne Clay and Larry Pepper. Rest of the lineup will be just about the same as usual.

The Studs also have a skirmish set for next Sunday against Tri-City at Merrill.

Chicago Bears Buy Linebacker Bettis

Chicago — The Chicago Bears today acquired veteran linebacker Tom Bettis from the Pittsburgh Steelers for a 1963 draft choice, owner coach George Halas announced.

Bettis, a 235-pound linebacker, played seven years with the Green Bay Packers before he was traded to Pittsburgh last year. He played college football at Purdue.
