

Girl Scout Day Camp Announced by Council

Rogue Valley Girl Scout council will hold a day camp for all girls ages 8 to 17 starting June 24. Registration fees for the camp will be $3 and it will run June 24-28 and July 1-3.

The camp site will be Tomlin Forest, in the Little Switzerland area east of Medford, and bus transportation will be available.

The bus will start out at 8 a.m. from Oak Grove school, proceed to the Library park on Eighth street at 8:15 a.m. and then on to Roosevelt school at 8:30. Returning bus transportation will leave the day camp area at 2:30 p.m. each day. There will be no day camping Saturday or Sunday.

Included in the activities of day camp will be the shared experience of camping, hiking, preparing food over camp fires, and other woodland adventures.

Mrs. J. A. Carrara will be day camp director this year. Applications for the camp may be secured and made out at the Girl Scout center office, 431 West Ninth street.

The day camp aides held a potluck dinner at the Girl Scout center on June 10. These girls will assist the unit leaders during the camping period. It is stated that many hours of time have, and will be, given freely to operate a good camp program this year, and that these older scouts are to be commended for their efforts to be of service to this scouting program.

Shady Cove Group Makes Convention Plans at Meeting

Shady Cove - Plans were made to attend the state convention of auxiliaries to the Veterans of Foreign Wars in McMinnville, June 19 through 22 when members of the auxiliary to the Steelhead post, VFW met recently.

During the meeting a message from the state auxiliary president, Mrs. Lillian Hawkins, was read in which she commended the auxiliary for winning a citation from the national president, Mrs. Alfreda Tice, for having a fully paid membership.

Mrs. Dale Sawyer, president of the Past Presidents club, presented the group $25 as a gift from the club.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Roy Vaughn and Mrs. Robert Hammons. Post members joined the women for the social hour.

Returns

Hornbrook - Mrs. Harry Chapman returned Friday from Livermore, Calif., where she had been visiting her son and his family, Dr. and Mrs. Oliver Fick, and year-old son, Douglas. She also visited in Burlingame, Calif., with an aunt, Mrs. George K. Harris.

Magazine To Honor Winners

New York - Miss Annette J. Richmire, home economics teacher at Rogue River High school, Rogue River, Ore., and 16-year-old Loretta Wirtane, a junior at John Sweet Union High school, Crockett, Calif., will be honored as Seventeen Magazine's "Home Making Teacher and Homemaking Student of the Year" at a pre-American Home Economics association convention breakfast in the Grand ballroom of the Hotel Muehlebach, Kansas City, Mo., Monday, June 24 at 7 a.m.

Miss Richmire, who lives at 615 N.W. Fourth street, Grants Pass, Ore., won the award for initiating and carrying out a consumer buyer program designed to teach girls how to use money wisely. Miss Wirtane, of 653 Edwards street, Crockett, was cited for her project, "Teaching Nutrition to the Primary Grades."

At the breakfast, Mrs. Sigana Earle, Seventeen's director of food and homemaking education, will present plaques from the teen publication to the Misses Richmire and Wirtane for their "vital contributions to the enrichment of home, family and community life." Mrs. Earle also will deliver the keynote address of the morning, entitled "Enhancing the Image and Appeal of Home Economics."

Other honored guests at the breakfast, along with some 250 leading home economists in education, business and government, will be the four runners-up in the fifth annual "Seventeen Salute to Home-making Teachers of the Year" program, and four educators representing the four runners-up in the first annual Seventeen salute to homemaking students of the year.

Family From Orland Visits in Hornbrook

Hornbrook - Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith were their son and his family, Dr. and Mrs. Edward M. Smith, son Michael and daughter Karen of Orland, Calif. This was Dr. Smith's first visit home since he was critically injured in an automobile accident near Orland last November. Also home at the same time was the Smith's other son, Robert Smith, of Medford.

Visitors

Hornbrook - Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dunn of Long Beach, Calif., visited briefly last week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ardon Burns. The two families were neighbors in Long Beach, and had not seen each other for 20 years. The visitors were en route to Canada on a vacation.

Hilt-Hornbrook Club Adjourns for Summer

Hornbrook - Several members of the Hilt-Hornbrook Friendship Circle club met Thursday at the Mark Anthony hotel, Ashland for a luncheon and an afternoon of cards.

With this special event, the club adjourns for the summer months.

Talent Garden Club Installs

Talent - Mrs. Jerry Marsh and children from Mercer island, Wash., are guests at the home of Mrs. Marsh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bechtold, Talent.

Social Events

Long-time Rogue valley residents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Conover, Shady Cove, were honored recently at a surprise party in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary. The event was planned by their two sons and daughters-in-law.

Shady Cove Couple Feted On Golden Anniversary

Shady Cove - Feted recently on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Conover, Shady Cove, descendants of pioneer Rogue Valley families, who have spent their entire married life in the area.

Planned as a surprise by their two sons and daughters-in-law, the Sunday afternoon event was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Conover with Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Conover assisting with arrangements. The surprise element was achieved under the guise of plans for a family dinner party in celebration of the anniversary.

The serving table was centered with an arrangement of gold-colored flowers accented with a large bow of gold ribbon. Nearby another table was laden with gifts for the honored pair. A decorated anniversary cake and other refreshments were served to more than 90 friends and relatives from throughout the Rogue Valley area who called during the afternoon to greet the couple.

Mrs. Conover was born Ann Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson, Shady Cove, who came across the plains by covered wagon. Mr. Conover's parents, also pioneers of the area, were Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Conover.

The goldenwed, in association with their sons, operate a cattle ranch on the Butte Falls-Prospect road, but all maintain homes at Shady Cove.

For the occasion, Mrs. Conover was attired in an afternoon dress of white with which she wore a gold orchid corsage.

Bridegrooms Give Varied Answers for UPI Survey

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK

New York - UPI - Here's help for the bridegrooms of tomorrow who wonder what thoughts will zig and zag through the cranium when they utter "I do."

Patricia McCormack is abandoned. United Press International asked bridegrooms of yesterday two questions: —How long have you been married? —What is your best recollection of what went through your mind when you said "I do?"

Those surveyed have been married from two to 41 years. An analysis of the questionnaires shows that initial enchantment dims around the tenth year of married life. The original glow goes but isn't forgotten. It tends to reappear after the silver wedding anniversary, growing more mellow with each subsequent year.

Some participants in the survey didn't wear wedding bands. It was necessary to ask, "are you married?" Their comments, as they spurned the questionnaire, included: —"No. But my wife is." —"I wish I wasn't."

Typical recollections of the bridegrooms: —"Oh, heck, I kept thinking, How am I going to get the cat out from under my feet." He said "I do" at a home wedding where even pets were invited.

"It'll be for a long, long time," recalled a husband of 22 years. —"I don't think I had a chance to say 'I do' loud enough for even me to hear it. She had the last and loudest word then — and still has."

"I kept wondering if I'd get a ticket," said the bridegroom of 20 years. "I was double-packed." —"There, I did it and I'm glad," responded a man married two years. —"What am I letting myself in for?" answered another.

Was Happy —"I thought of nothing at all," said a husband of 13 years. "I was too happy to think — happy about marrying the girl I loved at the time." —"I just wished my knees would stop knocking," said a veteran of 10 years. —"When I said 'I do' I thought that I'd make it a better marriage than the one my always-fighting parents had."

When I said 'I do'...

—"When I said 'I do' as we do when married in Argentina — it was seven years ago. I'm about to develop a serious case of seven years' hitch!"

—"I said the words and kept wondering why didn't we get out of here quick. It was snowing and I was afraid we'd need a tow. I didn't have snow tires."

Felt Trapped —Some of the bridegrooms just felt trapped, putting it this way: "Well, old boy, you can't get out of it now. You just said 'I do' and a promise is a promise." Several admitted the mind went blank. These men have absolutely no recollection of even saying the two words.

Others wondered about the possibility of making a mistake, saying at ceremony's end: "Oh, well, now it's too late." One bridegroom said he never said "I do." The ceremony was in French. He didn't speak a word of French, his bride's native language.

"I simply nodded," he recalled, "and I remember that I was pretty groggy that day." Other comments: —"I sure could use a drink." —"What in the world am I doing here?" "How in the world did I get into this?"

Sentimental —The most sentimental recollection came from a man married 41 years. He said: —"As I said 'I do,' I remember thinking — thank God. I got what I wanted. Now I'm happy." And what do women think when they say "I do"? A husband of 15 years guessed it this way: —"All women remember is the sound of a steel trap snapping shut," he said. "Clink. That did it."
