Gilpatric Faces Senate Questions

Washington - (UPI) - Roswell L. Gilpatric, deputy defense secretary, was scheduled to appear today before Senate investigators for questioning about why he turned down Navy recommendations in the award of the $17 million X-22 plane contract.

Chairman John C. Stennis (D-Miss.) said Gilpatric's testimony was expected to end the initial phase of the Senate preparedness subcommittee's interest in work to develop vertical take-off and short take-off aircraft.

It was likely the Defense Department official would be questioned about the basis for his decision to award the contract to Bell Aerosystems Co. over the Douglas Aircraft Co. which the Navy favored.

The Defense Department's director of research and engineer, Dr. Harold Brown, has told the committee that Gilpatric's decision was based on relevant past experience of the two companies and their past performance.

He said Bell had built several vertical take-off prototypes and a wide variety of helicopters while Douglas had little experience in vertical rising planes.

READY MADE FAMILY

Milwaukee - (UPI) - Howard L. Landry, 42, and Elizabeth Garna, 35, will have a jump on most newlyweds when they get married June 22. Mrs. Garna is the mother of 10 children, and Landry is the father of eight. Their former mates died last year.
