

Pop Wants Clothes For Fathers' Day Present

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
New York - (UPI) - To please Pop on Father's day, give him some item of clothing - preferably shirts, ties, pajamas or handkerchiefs - in that order. A survey of what the man who runs the power mower wants on his day June 16 found the preference for clothing running three to one over any other wishes. That is, clothing, unless money spent was no object.

Then, father would like say a new car, new house, or a boat.

Pipes and cigarettes, often pictured as synonymous with Father's day presents, were way down in popularity. Only one per cent of the men surveyed put them on the most wanted list.

The Father's day study is part of a continuing look at the national gift market, done by Tie-Tie, Chicago, which calls itself the country's largest maker of gift wrappings. Many interviewed.

The company reached its conclusions from "several hundred" interviews in Chicago, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Dallas and Atlanta.

It estimated that close to $1 billion would be spent on gifts for Dad. It did not estimate how much of the bill Fathers eventually would foot themselves for the gifts.

And, it found that 16 per cent of the husbands interviewed did not receive Dad's day gifts last year.

The researchers concluded that the "average" father will receive two presents worth a total of $19 come Sunday. They also decided fathers are pleased easily - 97 per cent said they were completely satisfied with what they received last year.

In clothing items, here was how the preferences were listed:

- Shirts, 42 per cent wanted;
- socks, 25 per cent; ties, 21;
- pajamas, 21; handkerchiefs, 21; underwear, 18; shoes, 6; hats, 5.

In accessory items:

- Leather goods, such as belts and wallets, 24 per cent;
- cuff links, 18; sport coat, 14;
- lounging robe, 9; tie clasp, 6;
- special accessories such as a fancy shoe horn, 5; and key chain, 3.

In the non-clothing category, the fathers listed sports equipment including golf clubs, gun, fishing tackle, bowling ball, ping pong table, 15 per cent; camera and camera equipment, 10; tools, 7; television, radio or phonograph, 6; car, 5; jewelry including watches, 4; money or bonds, 2; pipes and cigars, 1; and books, 1.

OSU Specialist Gives Tips on Credit Buying

If you pride yourself on being a real bargain hunter, use the same resourcefulness when it comes to shopping for credit. Credit charges may range all the way from "nothing" to 18 per cent a year.

Mrs. Alberta Johnston, Oregon State university extension specialist, says many department stores now offer credit services unknown a few years ago. With the various types of credit and accounts available, it's the wise shopper who finds out which one fits her family's pocket-book.

Under an open account, the customer is able to buy whatever he needs, sign a sales slip to signify intention to pay, with no down payment required. Usually an open account carries no interest or credit charge.

Revolving charge accounts, those with payments scheduled on the installment plan, have also become more popular.

Mrs. Johnston describes how they work: When a customer applies to open a revolving charge account, she agrees to pay a certain amount of money each month on purchases from the store. The minimum payment each month is about $10 and the maximum set by the store. The store then sets a credit limit for the customer, equal to 12 times the selected monthly payments. In this way, the customer has continuous purchasing power.

For example, if a customer decides to pay $10 a month, she has $120 worth of credit and may buy $120 worth of merchandise. At the end of the month, she is billed for $10 if the charge against her is between $10 and $120. When this bill is paid she may buy enough more goods to bring the balance back up to $120. Because this can go on indefinitely it's been called a "financial merry-go-round."

Service Charge

If the store makes a service charge of 1½ per cent per month on the unpaid balance, the customer with a debt of $120 at the end of the month would owe a service charge of $1.80 which would be added to the balance.

Revolving credit was designed for customers who couldn't pay for purchases of any considerable size within 30 days. Others who could use regular or open charge accounts prefer revolving accounts because they like the "budget" feature, says Mrs. Johnston.

Customers should be aware that cost in terms of annual interest charges may range between 12 and 18 per cent. Stores like revolving credit because it increases business and streamlines their book-keeping. Interest charge or service charge takes care of the cost of servicing and carrying the accounts.

Advice Aids Purchaser Of Wedding Champagne

New York - (UPI) - If you're looking for bargains in bubbly, buy non-vintage champagne for the wedding reception, but stick with a well-known brand.

This advice comes from the Champagne Producers of France, a trade organization. Many non-vintage champagnes are considered excellent by connoisseurs, said the group.

Here are a few simple rules about buying, chilling and serving the traditional wedding reception beverage.

Figure about 8 glasses per bottle. For a single toast, one case of 12 bottles should be enough for 90 to 100 guests. If you plan to serve champagne only, the French producers recommend about three glasses per guest, or between three and five cases for 90 to 100 guests.

Idea serving temperature is 44 to 50 degrees Fahrenheit. A few bottles may be chilled in the refrigerator. Larger quantities are best chilled in a tub filled half and half with ice and water.

Opening Bottle

—Before opening a bottle, dry it well, remove the tinfoil and wire fastener. Hold the bottle in one hand and the cork in the other, then slowly twist the bottle — not the cork. This method produces a "pop" without losing any of the wine.

—Traditionally, the first toast to the bride is proposed by the best man. The bridegroom rises to answer it in the name of his bride and himself, and he may then toast his bride and her mother.

—At parties for the bride before the wedding, the toast is offered to the bride by her maid of honor and her bridesmaids.

—At a bachelor dinner, the bridegroom proposes a toast to the bride, his guests drink with him, and, following an old French custom, they break the glasses. Originally, tradition called for the toasters to break the stems of their glasses, as they said, "May this glass never serve a less honorable purpose."

Citrus Slaw Tangy Complement for Patio, Picnic Meals

Citrus Slaw is a new version of an old favorite and will make a tangy complement for picnic and patio meals.

Use one medium head green cabbage, shredded; one green pepper sliced; one can (one pound) grapefruit sections; three-fourth cup mayonnaise; one-fourth teaspoon Tabasco; one-fourth teaspoon mace; one-fourth teaspoon ginger.

Toss cabbage and green pepper. Drain sections, reserve juice. Blend together six tablespoons grapefruit juice with mayonnaise. Stir in Tabasco, spices and grapefruit sections. Yield, six to eight servings.

High Temperatures Curdle Sour Cream

When heating dairy sour cream, remember it is "allergic" to high temperature and may curdle. It may also do this when held for a long period of time at a high temperature.

In most cooked dishes it is best to add the dairy sour cream near the last and keep the temperature low. If it does happen to curdle, only the appearance is affected, not the taste.

Washday Formula

One way to be sure you won't have to wonder how to launder various new fabrics is to follow this advice from home economists with the Gas Appliance Manufacturers association: As you remove laundering - direction tags from new clothes, write an identification of the garment on the tag, then file until washday. Check the directions with those in the use-and-care book that came with your washer and dryer. This procedure will produce perfect laundering results and eliminate guesswork.

Scouts Hold Outing At Ranch

Gold Hill - Girl Scout Troop 55 under the leadership of Mrs. Paul Holderness spent Friday night on an outing at the Dale Hodson ranch on Galls Creek. Mrs. Hodson and Mrs. John Dotson assisted.

Friday evening the Scouts prepared a meal which consisted of weiners and hobo stew with "smores" for dessert.

Saturday morning breakfast consisted of bacon, eggs, and pancakes which were cooked on tin can stoves made by the girls. Three Scouts were assigned to each stove; one was responsible for gathering fuel, one fed the fire, and one cooked the meal.

Fifteen Girl Scouts participated in the outing.

On Saturday a court of awards was held under the trees in the Hodson yard. Colors were presented and the ceremony of Girl Scout laws given by the troop.

Second class badges, back-yard camper badges, and adventure badges were presented to Jane and Joan Czernowski, Teresa Dodson, Nita and Karen Harding, Marjorie Hodson, Renee Holderness, Maurie Kinney, Jerry Martin, Gail McGrade, Melody and Terry Wheeler, Donna Yule, Cindy Hartung and Karen Vaterlaus.

A second class badge was also presented to Patty Stroth, member of the troop who is ill, and at present a patient at Childrens Orthopedic hospital in Seattle, Wash. Those who wish may send cards to Patty to the hospital.

On Friday evening, Mrs. Gene Holderness and Mrs. Vernon Czernowski, whose daughters were among those on the outing, joined the troop for a community sing and games.

Mrs. Paul Holderness, troop leader, said the next outing will be a bicycle trip on Tuesday, June 18 to Valley of the Rogue State Park. Girls planning to go are asked to be at the city park by 9 a.m. on that date, and are to take a sack lunch. This will be the first of three bicycle trips that are planned for the summer.

Catherine Anhorn, Central Point, was sweepstakes winner in the junior arrangements division of the annual show of the Medford Rose society, held June 8. Miss Anhorn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Anhorn, Freeman road, Central Point.

Dinner Dance Set By Twirlers Group

Twirlers Square dance group plans a swim party and dinner dance for Saturday, June 15 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Ray, Old Stage road, Central Point.

The dinner will be a potluck event and swimming is to begin at 6 p.m. Dancing will be conducted until 12 midnight from name caller tapes.

This Diamond Jubilee rose entered by Mrs. Pearl Davis, Grants Pass, was judged queen of the show in the ninth annual show of Medford Rose society June 8. Diamond Jubilee, introduced to growers several years ago, is described as a buff-yellow.
