

Medford Sweeps Coos Bay Series In Legion Ball

Medford American Legion baseball aggregation overcame Al Pierce Lumber in a doubleheader at the fairgrounds ball park here yesterday afternoon to sweep a three-game series from the Coos Bay Legion crew.

Verdicts of 14 to 12 and 6 to 3 were added to a 4 to 2 triumph on Friday night. Victory in the high first game Saturday came hardest for the Medfords. They had to wipe out a 10-run deficit of 12 to 2. This they did with rallies of four runs in the fourth inning two in the fifth and six in the sixth.

Coos Bay had built its bulge by erasing a 2 to 0 Medford gap with one run in the second panel, five in the third and four in the fourth. Mike Barnes doubled and Jim Calhoun and Darryl Stockton each singled as Medford got on the comeback trail in the bottom of the fourth. Barnes brought home two runners. A walk, a hit batter, a fielder's option and an error figured in the runs. Two miscues, a base on balls and a Jack Mullen hit gained the fifth inning score.

Stockton led off the sixth canto with a double. Relief pitcher Jim Calhoun helped his cause with a two-run two-bagger. Two runs came in as Gary Miller went all the way to third when his blast went through Ken Bastendorff in sunny center field. On the play Calhoun crossed with the tying run.

Tom Barker brought Miller home for what proved the winning marker with a perfect squeeze bunt single. Barker swiped second base and went to third on an error. Jim Cox singled him home for insurance.

Calhoun, who had three hits for the tussle, and Mike Neathamer each hit safely in Medford's two-run first frame. Sacks Filled

Coos Bay in the fourth had singles by Zane Hoffman and Bill Hessler after starting pitcher had loaded the sacks with two walks and a hit batter. Three errors helped the Lumber team. In the fourth stanza, the coast club loaded the bags again on hits by Terry Falls and Doug Inman and a base on balls. Hoffman and John Meacham got safeties and another walk was issued before Calhoun relieved on the hill. And Calhoun gave up a two-run hit to John Calhoun before the side was retired.

Hoffman scored on a double steal in the frame and there was an error and a passed ball. Medford's Jim Calhoun gave up just one other hit and fanned five in his 3 2/3 innings of relief.

Bill Hessler had three safe blows for Coos Bay and Hoffman two. Stockton had two for Medford.

A three-run third inning broke a two-all deadlock in yesterday's second fray. Hits by Ron Edmonds, Ken Phipps, Gary Miller and Jim Brennan were used with a walk, error, wild pitch and two steals. Two Medford runs in the first inning were on hits by Edmonds and Cox, a Neathamer groundout and a wild pitch. Hits by Bill Piche and Jim Calhoun were used for the sixth inning run.

Coos Bay scored in the first inning on two walks and a Bud Black hit, in the second on Hessler and John Briggs singles and two bases on balls and in the fourth on three walks, an error, two steals, a wild pitch and a passed ball. Dane Smith, in his pitching start for Medford, gave up three hits and seven walks. He fanned four. Medford got eight hits off Ron Cadarette who walked three and whiffed two.

Edmonds had two hits for Medford. Three runs in the fourth inning made the difference in the Friday encounter. Medford collected these on doubles by Miller and Mike Barnes and singles by Jim Calhoun and Edmonds. Calhoun tallied on a wild pitch after Miller's double. Miller came home on a groundout by Phipps. Edmonds stole second to be in position to score on Barnes' blast.

Other Medford counter was in the third inning. Barnes walked and swiped second base, going to third on an overthrow on the play. He crossed home after the catch on Don Anderson's flyout sacrifice.

Two Hits Each Coos Bay gained a run in the fourth frame on a walk to John Meacham, error and a single by Hoffman. In the fifth inning Harold Smith got all the way to second on an error and scored for the Pierce Lumber club on John Calhoun's two-bagger.

Rowan Gould of Coos Bay and Edmonds each had two hits. Barnes went four innings on the hill for Medford. He allowed one run and three hits while fanning one, walking two and hitting one. Bill Enyart was on the mound the last three. He also permitted three hits and two runs. Enyart fanned five and walked one. Hoffman, in a six-inning for CB, whiffed six, walked four and hit one.

The Lumbermen threatened in the seventh when Rowan Gould and Inman singled with no one out and were advanced on Falls' sacrifice. However, Cadarette fanned a and Bastendorff flied out to end the game.

Ref Awards Jones Decision in Bout Teaneck, N. J. — Promoter Murray Goodman sought to arrange a return bout between heavyweight contenders Doug Jones and Billy Daniels today following Jones' controversial decision over the Brooklyn battler Friday night in the Teaneck Armory.

Referee Paul Cavlier, the lone voting official, awarded Jones a 5-4-1 verdict over Daniels. The decision was greeted by mingled boos and cheers from the 4,000 fans.

Daniels, the sixth-ranked contender, dominated the early rounds. He had Jones semi-groggery from six nearly consecutive rights to the head in the second and belabored Doug with a terrific head barrage in the sixth. Third-ranked Jones, though, rallied strongly in the remaining rounds as he opened cuts on Daniels' brows and bloodied his nose but was unable to floor courageous Billy.

Thornton Gets Nod Over Argentina Man In 10 Round Fight

New York — Blond Wayne Thornton of Fresno, Calif., hammered out an unanimous 10-round decision Saturday over mystery man Jose Menno of Argentina and earned the right to a Light Heavyweight challenger's match in August.

Thornton, ranked fourth among 175-pound contenders, earned the right to meet top contender Mauro Mina of Peru in a final "eliminator" at Miami Beach, Aug. 17, because of tonight's victory in the nationally televised 10-round at Madison Square Garden.

Thornton, 22, used a hooking attack to head and body and accompanying rough-house tactics that caused him to be warned in nearly every round for butting, low punches and heeling by referee Teddy Martin, but he was not penalized.

Dark-haired Menno, making his United States debut, provided an excellent fight — much better than was expected of the 3-year underdog. Thornton, 22, weighed 174 1/2 pounds to 175 for 27-year-old Menno, who was previously unbeaten as a professional. Menno suffered his first defeat in 17 professional bouts since he turned pro in 1960 after a long career as an amateur.

Some Latin Americans in the small rainy-night crowd of about 1,500 boomed the decision. Referee Teddy Martin had Thornton ahead, 6-4, and the two judges, Frank Forbes and Tony Castellano, agreed with a score of 6-3-1 for each. The United Press International had Thornton ahead 6-4 because of his strong showing in the second half of the bout.

There were no knockdowns, but Menno suffered cuts at the corners of both eyes to the right in the fifth round and to the left in the eighth, and his nose was bleeding at the finish.

Cornell Nips Navy's Bid In Rowing

Syracuse, N. Y. — Cornell's crack varsity eight ruined Navy's bid Saturday to score a grand-slam in the 61st annual running of the Intercollegiate Rowing association championships.

After Navy's precision-stroking Pikes won the two-mile freshman event and a revamped Middle shell repeated as junior varsity champs, Cornell's Henley-bound heavyweights made a clutch comeback to nail the stubborn Navy crew at the wire in the three-mile skirmish for the Challenge cup.

The Cornell varsity eight thus preserved its unblemished season record against American rivals. The Big Red lost to the world champion West German Ratzburg Flo-tilla in the eastern sprints last month after beating the invaders in the time trials.

Ironically, the Navy shell that bowed Saturday-stroked by sophomore Roger Asbury of Washington, D. C. — still is looking for its first victory of the 1965 season. The Middies never were mentioned among the threats to Cornell, which collected its sixth IRA Challenge cup in the 12 years that the regatta has been staged on Onondaga lake.

In the seventh round, it seemed Menno might be knocked out. Thornton staggered him with a right to the chin just as Menno was "switching" back from his southpaw stance to his normal right-hand stance. And Thornton battered him about the ring for the rest of that session, but the rugged Menno did not go down.

Menno, who surprised the fans with his excellent boxing and sharp punching, buckled Thornton's knees in the second round with a left-right combination to the chin, and had Wayne holding on.

Thornton explained in his dressing room that he had injured the pinky knuckle of his right hand and the thumb of that hand in the third round and was not as effective as he should have been.

All three ring officials gave the first, fifth, sixth, seventh and 10th rounds to Thornton. They gave Menno the second, fourth, and eighth.

Harry Markson, managing director of Madison Square Garden and matchmaker Teddy Brenner conferred after the fight and announced that because Menno had given such an admirable performance in his United States debut, they might match him and Thornton for a return bout at the Garden in August, instead of putting Thornton in with top-ranked Mina of Peru.

Triple Win Big Goal Of Trackman

Albuquerque, N. M. — Julio Marin, a wisp of a lad with legs of steel and a heart of iron, called upon his last ounce of reserve Saturday to try and become the NCAA track and field meet's first triple winner since Jesse Owens' heyday in the mid-1930s.

Owens turned in "quadruples" in 1935 and 1936. He won both dashes, the low hurdles and broad jump. Marin, a wiry legged Costa Rican pre-med student at Southern California, already is the toast of the 42nd annual NCAA championships being held at the University of New Mexico for his stirring endurance triumphs in the six-mile and three-mile runs.

Saturday he went after his third victory in as many nights when he tried to give USC's championship chances another big boost with a victory in the meet's closing event — the 3,000 meter steeplechase.

He won the six-mile Thursday night in 30:32.9, collapsed at the end of the race but refused an offer of oxygen, then came back Friday night to whip a good field in the three mile in 14:24.9. Marin, whose winning performances came as a surprise in the other two events, will provoke an even bigger one if he pulls off his triple in the steeplechase. He's never run it before. His nearest comparative event is the two-mile run in which he has been clocked in 8:50.2.

USC may need every point Marin can pull from his stout legs if the Trojans are to dethrone champion Oregon or keep speed-packed Arizona State from cutting inside and edging both the favorites.

Al Downing Pitches Yanks To Win And First Place In American League

By United Press International Al Downing, troubled more by his own wildness than the Detroit Tigers, pitched the New York Yankees into first place in the American League Saturday with a 9-2 victory.

Downing, registering his second route-giving victory since being recalled from Richmond, issued seven walks and gave up seven hits. But he also struck out nine batters for the second time in as many starts. Tom Tresh hit a two-run homer and Hector Lopez drove in four runs with a double and a single.

Mickey Lolich, ninth straight lefthander to start against New York, worked the first six innings for Detroit and took his third loss against one victory.

The Yankees scored twice in the second on Estion Howard's double, Harry Bright's single and Clete Boyer's double. Two walks, Jake Wood's error and Lopez's double added a pair in the fourth.

Against Bob Anderson in the seventh, the Yankees got two on Tresh's 10th homer. Dick Egan gave up three in the eighth on three singles, a double and an infield out.

Jay Hawkins' two-run triple and three-hit relief pitching by Dale Willis and John Wyatt carried the Kansas City Athletics to a 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox. The loss dropped Chicago into second place behind New York.

Hawkins' triple came in the fifth inning and got by the left fielder to score Wayne Causey and Ted Bowsfield, wiping out a 2-0 Chicago lead. Willis took over for Bowsfield in the fifth and in turn gave way to Wyatt in the eighth.

Angels Beat Twins In the other games, the Los Angeles Angels scored four unearned runs in the third inning and went on to defeat the Minnesota Twins, 9-6, and the Cleveland Indians downed the Washington Senators on a one-hitter by Pedro Ramos and Ted Abernathy.

He will talk on the legislation before Congress affecting the refuges.

OSU Places 3 Players On All-Star

Seattle — Three players were unanimous choices on the all-star Northern division baseball team named today by the coaches of the five schools.

Champion Oregon State placed five men, runner-up Oregon had three, Washington State two and Washington and Idaho one each.

Unanimous choices were Tom Seidel, third baseman, of WSU; Oregon State pitcher Cecil Ira, and H. D. Murphy, Oregon outfielder.

Others on the team were Frank Peters, of OSU and Larry Schreck of WSU tied for left field; Al Lehrer, OSU, center field; Dave Long, OSU, second base; Mike Stowe, Idaho, first base; Doug Stahl, OSU, shortstop; Stu Thompson, Washington, catcher, and Robbie Snow and Arba Ager, both of Oregon, pitchers.

If you're planning to make an extended trip in the not-so-far-off future and you haven't taken a cross-country trek lately, you'd better be prepared for some rather surprising changes on our national highways.

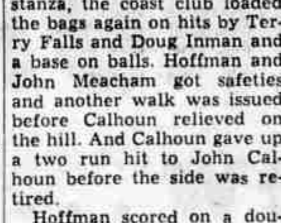

They're not what they used to be in the good old days. There's a lot more traffic these days than there used to be, and with the advent of so many more cars on the road, cross-country jaunts just can't be the easy-going, relaxed excursions they once were.

You should be as skillful as the pros, the big rig drivers who make their living on long over-the-road hauls, if you want to make your trip safely. Don't try to get there in one day. Steady driving does it and it will eat up the miles to.

You'll want your car in good shape for the trip, too. Drive in to 700 E. MAIN where CARL'S EASTSIDE SHELL is completely equipped to give your car fast, efficient service from bumper to bumper. If you're busy, call 772-9017 for FREE Pickup and Delivery.

Sammy Ellis Beats Dallas

United Press International If Pacific Coast league strikeout leader Sammy Ellis of San Diego had a sore arm or wasn't giving his right-handed best, you couldn't tell it.

His curve ball was darting and his fast ball was humming Friday night as he beat Dallas - Ft. Worth 2-1 on a four-hitter. It was his first mound appearance since being suspended indefinitely Monday for insubordination by Manager Don Heffner.

Heffner had accused the 22-year old pitcher from Youngstown, Ohio, of not throwing hard enough last Sunday against Oklahoma City. Ellis said his arm was aching and he didn't want to aggravate it.

During the past two weeks Ellis had been fined $50 for second-guessing Heffner and $75 more for reporting half an hour late for practice. But manager and pitcher dissolved their feud Thursday and both wore satisfied smiles Friday night.
