Mother Founded Father's Day

New York — (UPI) — The founder of Father's day is a mother. She is Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Wash., whose crusade to honor the nation's fathers with a special day was begun in 1910 as a tribute to her own father, the late William Smart.

Mr. Smart was a Civil War veteran and a widower who raised his six children "in the old fashioned, God-fearing way" on a farm in eastern Washington.

Summer Clothing Coordinated

United Press International Coordinated outfits for mid-lady's summer possess chambray-like qualities and convert from playsuits to at-home dresses as easily as from town dresses to bathing suits. Claire Golden, of Country Calicos, for example, coordinates patch-work calico, sewn in a floral print for an outfit that changes from a playsuit to an at-home dress.

Bra manufacturers are putting their shoulders to the stretch strap, reports Women's Wear Daily. But there are problems — excessive shrinkage, curling and fear that the elastic eventually will get tired.

Schoolboy breeziness marks summer hair-do's. For a cool effect, bangs grace the forehead and circlettes of hair at the sides brush each cheek while the back flips upward into a soft swirl.

Watch for a new era of elegance in at-home entertaining for summer. The National Cotton Council reports the romantically feminine look of long cotton dresses and skirts is "in" for outdoor as well as indoor entertaining.

The camel-colored blazer is the new back-to-school entry for Joe College. Predictions are that will be second only to blue.

The insides of the raincoat count most for fall-with men who want to be fashion bright. Pile linings in solid and split colors are joined by wool plaids. Many of the lightweight linings are laminated.

An innovation from France: Fashion's newest pet, the vest, in a red Helanca version buttoned over trim black Helanca boy shorts.

Red is up — and coming in children's shoes for fall. Especially new — and bright — is the red patent.
