

WELCOME SIGN - Billboards, similar to the one pictured, are located in a number of Oregon communities through a cooperative program between chambers of commerce and the travel division of the state highway department. Purpose of the billboard is to tie-in Gov. Mark O. Hatfield's "welcome" program and direct the traveler to visitor information facilities. Billboard display space has been made available without charge in both Medford and Grants Pass by the Ryan Outdoor Advertising company. This "Welcome to Medford" sign is on a billboard on South Riverside ave. (Knackstedt photo)

Prince Charles May Be Caned Because He Nipped Brandy

London-UP-Prince Charles, 14, day night in the bar of the Crown Hotel in Stornoway, on the Isle of Lewis in the Outer Hebrides.

"I cannot pre-empt the issue, but if he is guilty the normal punishment for an offense of this nature is a beating or a demotion," the headmaster said Wednesday night. "The latter is the likelier of the two."

Gordonstoun rules permit no drinking. The usual form for a beating is with a cane.

There also was the question of drinking under age. Scottish law sets 18 years as the minimum. According to witnesses, this is the way it happened:

Freeman Rehearing Denied by Court

Salem-UP-The Oregon Supreme Court Wednesday received a United States Supreme Court order denying a rehearing to condemned child slayer Jeannette June Freeman, 21.

This paves the way for the Oregon court to send a mandate next Wednesday to the Jefferson County Circuit Court at Madras to set a new execution date for Miss Freeman.

She was sentenced to die in the Oregon gas chamber for the 1961 slaying of a 6-year-old boy.

The U.S. Supreme Court refused to hear her appeal, then denied a rehearing of its refusal.

The court also has refused to hear the appeal of Larry West Shipley, 21, sentenced to death for the slaying of a teen-age girl in Lincoln county. The high court has not yet acted on his petition for a rehearing.

Eluded Bodyguard

Charles and three companions left the school yacht Pinta and went into Stornoway with police bodyguard Donald Green to have dinner. The prince eluded the bodyguard and went into the bar where he took a seat, ordered and was served a cherry brandy.

Moments later a grim-looking Green entered and read a very restrained riot act.

"What are you doing here?" he asked.

There was no answer. But the prince pushed away his glass and left for a dinner of steak and potatoes in the hotel dining room.

Later he and his friends went to a movie starring Jayne Mansfield. Then the Pinta sailed to continue its cruise - until Monday.

Washington Man Dies on Gallows

Walla Walla - UP - Joseph Chester Self, 31, was hanged early Thursday for the murder of a Seattle taxi driver three years ago.

A direct line from Warden Bob Rhay's office to the execution chamber was held open until the end for a call from Gov. Albert D. Rosellini that never came.

Rosellini had announced at 10:52 p.m. Wednesday that he would not commute the death sentence.

Self was executed for the slaying of Ralph J. Gemmill Jr., Seattle taxicab driver, during a robbery in 1960. Self was the 74th man to be hanged by the state.

Self ended his lonely death row stay by spending his final hours with Father George McCabe, Roman Catholic chaplain at the prison. Self had embraced that faith during his stay on death row and died clutching a rosary in his hand.

Speaking in a hushed voice before he mounted the gallows, Self said only, "Ask me if I've said my prayers, warden."

About 15 pickets protesting the execution maintained a vigil outside the prison walls until the execution. Rhay said it was the first time in his memory that pickets had protested at the prison during an execution.

Khrushchev Plans to Visit Scandinavia

Oslo, Norway - UP - Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has accepted invitations to visit Norway, Sweden and Denmark next spring, the Norwegian government announced Wednesday.

Khrushchev originally planned to visit the three Scandinavian countries in 1959. But he called off the trip because of the "unfavorable atmosphere" created by the Scandinavian press.

Dangers of Using Cortisone-Like Drugs

Many people write anxiously to ask what are the dangers of taking cortisone or one of the cortisone-like drugs; also, is there any way of avoiding the dangers? There certainly are dangers in the path of a person who wants to keep taking fairly large doses of "corticosteroids" for a long time. Some people, of course, can tolerate a larger dose of cortisone than others can. Many women who take much of the drug every day (perhaps to relieve the pain of a rheumatoid arthritis) will get a roundish face with extra hair on it.

In the worst cases the person can develop a psychosis with a mental upset, or he can get a stomach ulcer, or a diabetes, or a flare-up in an old tuberculosis, or a distressing disturbance in his body chemistry.

Fortunately, some of the cortisone-like drugs have less tendency than does the old cortisone to cause troubles. The important point is to use as small doses as possible - doses that will make a disease bearable, or will hold it in check. There are many persons, perhaps with a rheumatoid arthritis, who, by using small doses, have succeeded in remaining on the drug for years without getting into serious trouble.

The parents of some youngsters with diabetes insipidus - in which the child drinks enormous amounts of water and voids enormous amounts of urine, have written me to say that the usual treatment with pituitary extract has not worked well. They may be interested to know that I was just reading an abstract of an article by E. E. Reimer and others from the University of Vienna who say that they have obtained good results with 25 mgs. of hydrochlor-thiazide three times a day. They say that, in some cases, this worked perfectly. After getting the disease under control, the patient can reduce the dose to 25 mgs. once a day. I hope this note proves to be helpful to some of the unhappy youngsters who suffer from this curious disease.

Persons who suffer shortness of breath might find helpful Dr. Alvarez' booklet, "Pulmonary Emphysema." If you would like a copy of the booklet, send 25 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request for it to Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, Dept. MMT, Box 957, Des Moines 4, Iowa.
