Ron Beaman, Central Point, ex-Crater high athlete, now in the Marine Corps, got the thrill of his life when President John Kennedy paid a visit to San Diego, Calif. F-man drew the assignment of presenting his unit's guidon to the president. Kennedy spoke to the marine, asking how he likes the Marines. The Central Pointer answered that he liked the Marines very much.

GOOD FOR GAMES
 Why is the State-Metro high school all-star baseball series continued when it fails to draw fan support? (The Saturday night game this season drew 852 persons and the Sunday doublebill 472.)

Mel Krause, baseball and basketball mentor who's leadership keeps the series going, supplied this answer for George Pasero, sports editor of the Oregon Journal:

"Because this is good for high school baseball. The kids have something to work for they never had before. Track is big now and I have no complaints about that. I just think we ought to do the job in baseball, too."

(Krause moves from North Eugene to Sheldon high for the new school year.)

GOOD SERIES WANTED
 Bob Gilbert, Eugene auto dealer, is the financial "angel" for the all-star series. Telling why he has been willing to make up the deficits of the series, Gilbert told Pasero:

"I have not wanted anything other than to see a good series and to have it financially successful. If I can get it self-sustaining, with a bank account, I'll gladly turn it loose."

It seems to this writer that the series would be more of a success if the games were spread over three days with games in three separate towns.

LOOK LIKE MAJORS
 "You're seeing major league ball tonight." That was a press box comment made Wednesday evening during the Medford and Central Point American Legion junior baseball clubs.

Now, it's not exactly reasonable to consider Legion ball on the same level of caliber as that of the major leagues. But, that's not saying that Legion ball can't be just as thrilling or just as entertaining. We've seen some of the Legion players come up with plays and rousing smashes with the bat that would make a major leaguer look great.

Truth is there are good plays and bad plays and good games and bad games at every level of the game. And the Legion variety provides its share of thrills. Fact is, the Legion players are worthy of larger attendance games than they've been getting. Medford's home opener had a good crowd and Medford and Central Point seem to draw well when they meet. There was a host on hand last Wednesday. But, the crowds could be larger.

We particularly hope for better turnouts for Ashland games than the 50 or so that were on hand for Monday's game with Central Point. Then, maybe, the Ashlanders on the gate would not think they have to charge the press.

GOOD CHANCE

Koufax Using Index Finger For Okch Sign

United Press International
 Sandy Koufax's left index finger has come around so well that he now uses it to form a circle with his thumb.

That's the sign everything is perfect again and it also could be a sign the Los Angeles Dodgers are on the way to their first National league pennant since 1959.

Koufax's finger probably cost the Dodgers the pennant last year when a circulatory ailment in it forced the left-handed fast-baller to the sidelines during July.

Not Bother
 But the digit doesn't seem to be bothering him now and if there's any question about it, Koufax can point to his record of 11 victories against only three defeats.

He pitched the Dodgers within a game and a half of first place Friday night when he beat the St. Louis Cardinals 5-3 for his fourth victory in a row.

Koufax struck out nine and had a four-hit shutout, going until the ninth when a single, a walk and Tim McCarver's two-out homer brought reliever Ron Perranoski in from the bullpen to get the final out.

 The Lloyd Hoffines are parents of three-fifths of a basketball team. A son, their third, was born to the Hoffines here yesterday. Lloyd is head basketball coach at Crater High school. The Hoffines' other sons are ages 7 and 4.

PICK LINFIELD
 Two press releases from Linfield college in separate envelopes, each postmarked 6 p.m. June 20, arrived on the sports desk Friday. They were announcements from Baseball Coach Roy Helsler and Football Coach Paul Durham, respectfully concerning the registration at Linfield of Medford pitcher Stuart Young and football linebacker Gary Griffin.

Young, a southern Oregon conference and American Legion all-star, pitched in the state all-star series last week end. Griffin was named all-conference and all-state as a member of the Medford state title grid team last fall. He was chosen to the State all-star team which plays in Portland in August.

GAME MOVES FAST
 Another remark at Memorial field, White City last Wednesday — this after the Central Point - Medford Legion game: "If we hadn't had lights, they wouldn't have needed them."

The fast-played tussle was over by 9:10 p.m. It was still quite light although it did help to have the field arcs on.

Metke Named To Game Post

Salem—J. Pat Metke of Bend was appointed to a five-year term on the Oregon game commission by Gov. Mark Hatfield Friday.

Metke, a former state representative, will succeed Rollin Bowles of Portland, whose term expires July 17.

Medford American Legion baseball team, with an 18-hit barrage led by Jim Calhoun and Tom Barker, swamped Tri-City here Friday evening to pull into a first place tie in the Southern division of Area 4 American Legion junior baseball.

Barker and Calhoun each lashed four hits and Calhoun knocked in four runs in a 16 to 1 verdict over the Gems.

The victory knotted Medford with the Klamath Falls Falcons at the top of the division heap. Tri-City was more firmly settled in seventh place.

Sponsoring Post 15 has announced a contest to name the Medford American Legion junior baseball team. A prize will be offered for the name chosen. Details of the contest are yet to be determined but the post will start accepting entries as of now. Suggestions may be mailed to Post 15, American Legion, Medford, Ore.

The Medford team has been known as the Cokes in past recent seasons but that name has been dropped because of change in the means of financing Legion baseball.

While the Medford hitters were unloading, pitchers Bill Enyart and Dane Smith teamed to hold the Gems to four hits, never more than one an inning. Enyart went four frames on the hill. He whiffed batters seven times and did not walk a man. He yielded doubles to Jim Moore and Brad Slezak.

Six in Third
 Smith gave up a run, two hits and two walks. He struck out two and hit a batter in his three cantos on the mound. Medford, which scored in every inning, pounded Tri-City the hardest in the third panel when eight hits contributed six runs. Ron Edmonds tripled and singled in this inning and the other singles were by Enyart, Don Anderson, Dan Miles, Calhoun, Barker and Mike Barnes. Barker came home on a double swipe.

Miles three-baggered in a four-hit, five-run second inning. Calhoun, Barker and Barnes whacked safeties. Barker tallied in this stanza also on a double steal. Anderson, Neathamer and Barker each had hits in a two-run first canto.

Tri-City scored in the sixth inning on a walk to Brad Slezak, an error and Jim Moore's groundout.

Miles Scores Four Times
 Anderson, Miles, Barnes and Edmonds each had two hits for Medford. Miles, who drove in two runs, crossed the plate four times. Anderson scored three times.

Dennis Barry, who started on the hill for the Gems, was charged with 11 hits and 11 runs in two innings plus. He was relieved by Dave Hill with two runs across in the third inning and with two on base with no one out. Two other runs in the inning were charged to him. Barry walked three, hit one and fanned one. Hill allowed seven hits, five runs and four bases on balls. He struck out six.

Seven errors hurt the Gems. Medford errors at Klamath Falls today while Tri-City entertained Ashland at Merrill.

 Medford 236 111 3-16 12 2

MISSES FIRST GAME
 New York — After 17 years of perfect attendance, veteran American league umpire Bill McKinley Thursday missed his first game when he was sidelined by a virus. McKinley was ordered to remain in his hotel room, leaving Nestor Chylak, John Rice and Bill Valentine to umpire the New York-Washington game.

Hodges Itching To Play After Nats Lose Again

Los Angeles — UFL- Likable Gil Hodges was itching to get his hands on a bat Saturday as he tried to puzzle out some way to snap his Washington Senators' losing streak.

Hodges was not quite ready to put himself on the active list but the famed slugging star of the National league didn't close the door entirely on that possibility.

And Friday night's 1-0 loss to the Los Angeles Angels, if anything, opened that door a crack wider.

"We've been getting good pitching but just can't seem to find the hitting," the rookie manager said.

And Hodges pulled out all the stops Friday night in a desperate effort to find a run that would keep his club in the game, using four pinch-hitters and runners in the ninth inning. But it was no avail as their losing streak extended to nine games.

But the Senators ran into some excellent pitching by the Angels as Dean Chance and Julio Navarro combined their talents for the shutout victory.

St. Louis — Former Oregon State star Darrell Horn went 26-4 to finish second in the broad jump in the national AAU track meet Friday.

Ralph Boston won the event in 26-10.

Gary Stenlund of Oregon State was sixth in the javelin with a throw of 230-11 1/2. Southern California's Larry Stuart won with 255-3.

Glenn Winningham, ex-Grants Pass High school standout, was fourth in the javelin in 238-6 1/2.

Oregon State's Morgan Groth and Norm Hoffman gained the 880-yard run finals by winning their heats in 1:50.0 and 1:51.4, respectively.

Former Oregon stars Daryl Burleson and Jim Grelle ran first and third in their heat to gain the finals for the mile run. Their clockings were 4:10.3 and 4:10.7, respectively.

Heard any Volkswagen jokes lately?

Remember the one about the lady who looked under her front hood and thought somebody stole her engine?
 Or the one about the guy at the gas station who didn't know where the gas went? Or the water?
 Today, the gas station attendants know enough to put the gas in front. And they don't bother checking your water or trying to sell you some antifreeze.
 (After all, they've seen enough VWs to know that our engine's in the rear, and that it's cooled by air, not water.)
 The point is this: People used to make fun of our car, now they have fun with it.
 Which helps explain why our joke file's been getting a bit low. So, if you've heard any good VW quips or sayings or jokes, why not send them on?
 Just write to John Stanley, Volkswagen of America, Englewood Cliffs, N. J. He'll start them on their rounds.
 After all, nobody enjoys a good VW joke better than we do.
