

French Guessing On Successor To Charles De Gaulle

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International

Paris — (UPI) — President Charles De Gaulle has Frenchmen guessing furiously about his successor.

But he has done nothing to answer the questions his fellow-countrymen are asking.

— Will De Gaulle run for a second term?
— If he doesn't, whom will he endorse?

De Gaulle touched off Presidential speculation by tossing the problem of his successor into his speeches during his meet-the-people tour of Southwestern France.

Almost casually, he reminded his audiences that he would not be around forever. He made it clear he hopes his successor will be a man pledged to carry on the work of his "strong man" Fifth Republic.

But De Gaulle never drops casual remarks without significance.

When he started the national guessing game, he did so quite deliberately.

Plans To Quit
One theory put forward by the French press was that he plans to quit ahead of time and to ensure that a loyal Gaullist is installed as President while he is still around to advise from behind the scenes.

A more likely theory seems to be that De Gaulle simply is launching a long-term campaign to convince the nation's voters that his successor should be the man with his endorsement rather than a hold-over politician from the Fourth Republic.

De Gaulle's seven-year term ends in January, 1966. His successor will be elected by direct popular vote of the whole nation in December, 1965.

Thus, it may be some time before De Gaulle pinpoints his own choice publicly.

But there seems little doubt the General will continue telling French voters that they "never had it so good" and that it is to their advantage to see that the Fifth Republic continues after he steps down.

Pompidou Favored

It is generally assumed, though De Gaulle never has said anything in public to confirm this, that his current choice is Pompidou, the 51-year-old House of Rothschild banker who has headed the government since April last year.

The name of Henri Count of Paris, 54-year-old pretender to the French throne, also has been mentioned recently. But there is nothing to indicate he is a serious candidate.

The leftists and the old-line middle-of-the-road parties almost certainly will put up candidates too.

But, on present form and barring some major political upset, the man with De Gaulle's personal backing will be a tough man to beat.

Sweden Stunned By Spy Disclosure

Stockholm — (UPI) — Sweden was stunned today by the disclosure of the most serious espionage case in its history.

Some newspapers demanded a complete overhaul of the nation's security system following charges which involved a retired air force colonel alleged to have spied for the Soviet Union for 15 years. Other newspapers attacked Russia for carrying out espionage in Sweden.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman said Tuesday that Col. Erik Wennerstrom, 56, a trusted and respected former air force officer and one-time attache in Washington, had confessed to selling American and Swedish defense secrets to the Communists.

Sweden traditionally is neutral, but it has close ties to Norway, Denmark, the United States and other members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Kentucky Orders Discrimination End

By United Press International
Kentucky Gov. Bert Combs issued an executive order Wednesday directing all state agencies to take whatever legal action was necessary to prevent racial discrimination.

Combs indicated such agencies as the Department of Health and the state Alcoholic Beverage Control board would have the authority and duty to revoke licenses of business places which practice discrimination.

His order was a substitute for anti-discrimination legislation in the Kentucky General Assembly.
