Romney Leads 'Freedom March' In Michigan

Negroes Arrested In Mississippi

Jackson, Miss. — (UPI) — Police arrested 10 Negroes in Mississippi when they refused to leave a white park Saturday, and in Michigan, a potential candidate for the presidency led a "freedom march."

Michigan Gov. George Romney pulled off his coat, hummed a brisk tune and led about 450 demonstrators through the fashionable Detroit suburb of Grosse Pointe to protest alleged racial discrimination.

The Republican presidential possibility drew criticism from Detroit Negroes for failing to attend a big racial demonstration last Sunday.

He said Saturday civil rights is "the most critical and urgent domestic problem in the United States."

California March

Demonstrations spread to the far West, where about 1,500 orderly, hymn-singing Negroes marched through an all-white housing tract at Torrance, Calif. There were no reports of violence, but 15 youngsters were handcuffed and taken away by police after they shouted and jeered the demonstrators.

In the South, Greenville, Miss., city police arrested 10 Negroes, eight of them juveniles, who refused to leave a segregated park. It was the first such incident in Greenville since a picket was arrested there two years ago.

In Chapel Hill, N. C., about 200 white and Negro students from high schools and the University of North Carolina paraded down a main street demanding desegregation of business establishments.

Prospect Man In Fair Condition

A prospect man, Paul Joseph Pearson, was reported in fair condition in Sacred Heart hospital Saturday night after a two-car collision about 1:45 p.m. on Bliddle rd. near the freeway interchange.

Driver of the other car, Maynard Walter Haller, Terrence, Ore., was cited for failure to yield right of way. Haller's wife, Donna M. Haller, was treated as an out-patient at Rogue Valley hospital following the collision.

Ashlund city police reported that a vehicle operated by Hugh Raymond Engstrom Jr., 625 Elkader st., struck a parked vehicle registered to Roy Rave, 520 South Mountain ave., about 1:07 p.m. Saturday on Ashland st. near Mountain ave. Officers said no injuries were reported and no citations were issued.

Young Republicans Pick Goldwater Man

San Francisco — (UPI) — The National Young Republicans Saturday had a chairman who supports Barry Goldwater for president, agrees with the objectives of the Liberty Amendment to abolish the federal income tax, and believes that the United States should put out of the United Nations.

Hospitals Present Court With Bills Totalling $47,000

Jackson county's three hospitals presented unpaid bills to the county court Friday afternoon totalling $47,000.

The county court promised to review the bills, but took no action Friday. The money will come from the $80,000 county relief fund if an allocation is authorized.

Rogue Valley hospital presented total bills of $25,000, Ashland Community hospital $5,000 and Sacred Heart, $17,000. The indigent patient bills are presented each year to the county court in October, March and June.

$3 A Day
The three hospital administrators and business managers, Jack Sturmburg, Sacred Heart; William Huntley, Ashland; and Charles Gustafson, Rogue Valley, said each hospital expends the equivalent of $3 a day in charity.

The Rogue Valley representative estimated that the hospital's $1 1/2 million annual income it should receive, 10 per cent represents unpaid bills.

Transients make up a large portion of the bills, the three representatives agreed. Quite a few come from elderly residents. The state welfare commission's new extension of the medical aid to the aged program will help, they said.

Loss Some Income
However, they also estimated the three hospitals are losing 40 per cent income on welfare patients due to the welfare commission's system of pro-rating hospital bills.

Jackson county people are apparently healthier and fewer are unemployed compared to other counties which has resulted in fewer charity patients in Jackson county hospitals than in other counties, the three men agreed.

The county pays about one-third of the overall unpaid bills from the three hospitals, it was estimated. About 20 per cent of the local hospital admissions are from out of county.

Hole Blasted in Berlin Wall; 'K' Facing New Crises

Berlin — (UPI) — Anti-Communists blasted a hole in the Berlin wall Saturday in defiance of the East Berlin visit of Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, and signs multiplied that Khrushchev was running into some fresh new political crises.

The anti-Reds blew a two by seven foot chunk of cinder blocks out of the six-foot high wall. The wall was not pierced and the concrete slab on the top was not disturbed. The explosion, the 17th since the wall went up Aug. 13, 1961, was about 250 yards from the Friedrichstrasse crossing point known as Checkpoint Charley.

At New Low
Relations between the Soviet Union and Communist China plunged to an all time low Saturday and Western diplomats were speculating openly that Romanian leader might be snubbing Khrushchev, perhaps to line up with Albania on the side of Red China.

Communist sources said Saturday night Khrushchev was planning to open a Red summit meeting in Berlin today — a day ahead of previous plans. Leaders from Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Bulgaria either were here or expected by this morning, French Communist politburo

Court Approves Change In Curve

The county court Friday agreed that the curve angle near the intersection of Table Rock and Modoc rds. should be changed, but did not say when the work would be scheduled.

Lawrence Delos Hull, 46, a long time orchardist in the Table Rock district, was killed Wednesday morning in front of his home near the intersection when the brake reach broke on a logging truck and the out-of-control loaded trailer hit Hull.

County Commissioner Edwin Taylor, who lives in the area said Friday he had signed a petition to be presented the county court for straightening the curve.

A request earlier that speed limits be set on the road was rejected by the state speed control board, County Judge Earl M. Miller noted. The county court had approved the request made in two petitions presented by the Table Rock Ladies' club.

County Engineer Robert J. Carstensen said the curve could not be blamed for Wednesday's fatality.

CONGO CELEBRATING
Leopoldville, Congo — (UPI) — The Congo celebrates the third anniversary of its independence today in an atmosphere electric with new threats of violence in succession — torn Katanga province.

member Etienne Fajon also arrived Saturday.

But there was still no announcement that Romanian party leader Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej was coming, and no sign that he had arrived. Diplomats said they wondered whether Romania had decided to boycott the expected conference, but some sources said he had been ailing.

It was noteworthy that Romania alone of the East European satellites published a June 14 attack by Communist China on Khrushchev's policies of "peaceful coexistence." Publication of the attack was banned in the Soviet.

Sino-Soviet relations chilled further Saturday with the Peking charge that Russia has demanded the recall of five Chinese nationals, three of them embassy employees, from the Soviet Union for distributing pamphlets containing the attack on Khrushchev.

The Peking move came in the wake of Khrushchev's charge, also published Saturday, that China had pushed relations between the two countries "to the limit."

Other Speculation
In Moscow and other European capitals there was speculation, too, that a July 5 meeting in the Soviet capital designed to heal the rift between the two Communist giants might even be canceled or, if held, almost certainly would fail.

In Moscow Saturday delegates to an international women's congress ended a week-long meeting by howling down the Chinese delegation for attacking, then voting against a congress resolution in favor of general disarmament and peaceful coexistence.

Congress Chairwoman Maria Rossi of Italy even threatened to rule Chinese delegate Madame Yung Yun-Yu out of order for lack of respect toward the congress at a final tempestuous session.

Star Station Crew Fighting Utah Fire

A 25-man inter-regional fire suppression crew from Star Ranger station left the Medford airport Saturday afternoon to help fight a 1,000-acre fire in Utah.

The specialized crew was dispatched to the Splatter Creek fire on Fish Lake National forest near Richfield, Utah, about 100 miles south of Salt Lake City.

The crew, composed chiefly of college students, had been training up until the time it was dispatched to its first fire yesterday, Rogue River National forest officials said. The crew was flown in a coast service C-46 plane based at Redding, Calif.

Such crews are strategically located throughout the country to be dispatched wherever needed. This is the second year an inter-regional crew has been based at Star Ranger station.

80,000 Irishmen Give President Roaring Sendoff

Kennedy Concludes Nostalgic Visit

Galway, Ireland — (UPI) — Eighty thousand Irishmen in full throat gave President Kennedy a roaring sendoff Saturday from a wild and nostalgic three day visit to the land of his forefathers.

Four times the normal 21,000 population jammed into this beautiful town on Galway Bay and gave the youthful U.S. President a cheer that sounded like a rebel yell when he received the freedom of the city.

Lord Mayor Patrick Ryan, speaking in Gaelic, told the President he had honored this section of western Ireland which is the home territory of the Fitzgeralds, Kennedy's family on his mother's side.

"We have granted this freedom from our hearts," Ryan said.

And the throng thundered its approval.

As Kennedy entered Eyre square, where the ceremony was held, he faced a forest of outstretched hands. Ignoring pleas from his anxious security guards, he shook as many as possible before going to the dais.

Out in Galway Bay a fleet of fishing trawlers ran up white semaphores spelling out "Kennedy."

As his helicopter approached Galway from Dublin, Kennedy could see below him the Irish national flag formed by 320 children from the convent of Mercy School dressed in green, white and gold.

The weather was chilly and damp, but not the enthusiasm. From early morning Irishmen poured into Galway by train and foot.

"Galway loves you," shrieked a young girl as Kennedy passed in a car.

'Mr. Zip' Will Appear Monday

A life-sized "Mr. Zip" salesman designed to sell the U.S. Post Office department's new zone improvement plan, will be stationed in the lobby of the Medford post office Monday morning to remind the public that July 1 is the day for adoption of Zip codes.

Postal cards will go into the mail the same day, addressed to all post office patrons, informing them, officially, of their Zip code numbers. Al Bradford, acting postmaster, said.

The Zip code numbers, announced Wednesday, will remain as reported, Bradford said. He was informed that there would be no change in the White City number, although the post office becomes a Medford branch Monday.

The same or similar "attention getters" will be displayed in all post offices of the area and postal cards will be mailed from all post offices.

MacAdoo Is Winner Of Rooster Crow; Over 2,000 Watch

Rogue River—The roosters failed to establish a record at the 11th annual Rogue River Rooster Crowing contest Saturday afternoon, but the people did, with well over 2,000 attending, according to contest officials.

MacAdoo, a beautiful Golden Sealwright rooster owned by 16-year-old Don Reid, Grants Pass, crowed 90 times in 30 minutes. This was 19 crows less than the mark set by all-time champion Beetlebaum, a Rogue River bird, in 1953, but it was enough to win its young owner a sack of 150 silver dollars, a small golden rooster trophy and rooster's name on a plaque, 40 is Average.

Most of the crowd totals Saturday afternoon were around 40 with the birds opening wide their beaks and throwing out their feathered chests in the last few minutes of the contest. The sun bursting through the dark clouds which hung low over most of the valley may have helped.

Other winners and their owners were: Jose, owned by Mrs. C. P. McCown, Grants Pass, 80 crows; Willie Win, owned by Susan and Kelly Simmons, Rogue River, third with 67 crows; tied with Billy The Rooster, owned by Ricky Lopez, 15, Evans Valley, also 67 crows; and Geronimo, owned by Carl Sandeen, Rogue River, 65 crows, fifth. Geronimo was first last year with 63 crows.

Visitors to the contest this year came from as far away as Corpus Christi, Tex.; St. Paul, Ark.; Manhattan, Kans., and Washington, D. C.

The rooster, George, in a covered wagon, owned by Robert Miller, Rogue River, was rated as having the most spectacular cage; and Silent

Steelworkers Union, Producers Sign Pact

Pittsburgh — (UPI) — The United Steelworkers Union and the nation's "Big 11" steel producers climaxed one of the most successful collective bargaining ventures in labor history Saturday by signing 21-month contract.

Achieved after 5 1/2 months of informal bargaining within the union-management human relations committee, the contract becomes effective Aug. 1, and is highlighted by a 13-week vacation every five years for top seniority employees.

"Let's hope for good prosperity and steady employment," said USW President David J. McDonald, the union's principal signatory.

Trieste Finds Huge Crater On Ocean Floor

Aboard the USS Fort Snelling at sea — (UPI) — The Navy's deep-diving bathyscaphe Trieste Saturday reported the discovery of a huge crater on the ocean floor near where the submarine Thresher was believed to have gone down April 10.

The Navy said the Trieste, which completed its fourth dive Saturday, was cruising along the bottom about a mile and a half below the surface of the North Atlantic when it came upon the huge hole.

The crater was said to be about 40 feet deep and 200 feet wide.

Although officials cautioned that the hole might be part of the natural topography of the ocean floor, it had not been noted in any of the previous dives or in any of the underwater photographs taken.

The hole was said to be "quite near" the spot where a 3,000-pound compressed air tank, or "bottle" similar to those used on nuclear submarines, was photographed earlier this month.

Leaders Hammer Out Strategy For Moscow Meeting

Lengthy Talks Held After JFK Arrival

Chelwood, Gate, England — (UPI) — President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan agreed in lengthy talks Saturday night to press hard for a nuclear test ban treaty with Russia as the major issue in the American leader's "strategy for peace."

They met for 90 minutes alone, then called in their top advisers to hammer out strategy instructions for the British and American negotiators who will meet with the Russians on the critical nuclear issue in Moscow July 15.

Concentrate Effort
Macmillan's spokesman, Harold Evans, said the two leaders last night were concentrating entirely on the nuclear test ban issue because they wanted to coordinate specific and effective instructions in an effort to persuade the Soviets to move forward a "meaningful agreement" to halt the perilous nuclear arms race.

Kennedy arrived from his sentimental journey to Ireland Saturday and immediately plunged into major discussions on world affairs with Macmillan. Their talks are expected to take in the new crises hitting the Communist camp.

Evans said the two men discussed the nuclear test ban within "the general context of East-West relations." This was an obvious reference to Kennedy's hope to take advantage of the ferment in the Communist world to persuade Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev to accept tension-easing agreements.

Give Instructions
Evans said the President and Macmillan intended to finish last night the instructions to their two negotiators at the Moscow nuclear talks. These will be U. S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman and British Minister of Science Lord Hallam.

Their meeting coincided with Khrushchev's action in calling his Communist satellite leaders to East Berlin for a Red summit meeting on Monday.

Pope Paul VI To Be Crowned In St. Peter's Square Tonight

Vatican City — (UPI) — Amid the splendors of St. Peter's square, set off by brilliant floodlights and glowing torches, Pope Paul VI will be crowned tonight in St. Peter's square as the 263rd ruler of the Roman Catholic church.

Princes, presidents, prime ministers and ordinary citizens of Rome and all the world will be witnesses to the stirring ceremony which will begin at 6 p.m. and end some three hours later.

The color and pageantry of the papal coronation, almost unsurpassed by any other ceremony in the modern world, are expected to draw 300,000 persons to the square itself and millions of others throughout Europe to their television sets for the live transmission.

It will begin with a long procession of cardinals, priests, Swiss guards and the Pope himself across the great square that has so often down through the centuries been the scene of historic events.

Then the Pope will sing a mass, joined by the crowd in perhaps the greatest choir in church history.

Finally, Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani, senior cardinal deacon, will place the three-tiered jewel-encrusted papal crown on the head and intone in Latin the ritual words that mean:

"Receive the tiara adorned with three crowns and know that thou art father of princes and kings, guide of the world and vicar of Jesus Christ our Lord to whom be honor and glory without end."

Pope Paul, a 65-year-old north Italian intellectual, was elected June 21 on the third day of a secret Vatican conclave. Until then he had been Giovanni Battista Cardinal Montini, archbishop of Milan, a man close to both Popes Pius XII and John XXIII and a leader of liberal thought in the Catholic church.

CORONATION TONIGHT—As last minute preparations for his coronation were being completed, Pope Paul VI waved to crowds outside the Church of St. Charles in Rome Saturday. The pontiff celebrated Mass at the church for pilgrims from Milan, where he was Archbishop before his elevation to the Papacy. (UPI)
