

ESPIONAGE ACTIVITY—The FBI released these pictures Monday which purport to show espionage activity of Genadiy G. Sevastyanov, an attaché at the Russian Embassy, who was ordered expelled from this country by the State Department. He is accused of attempting to coerce "John", a native Russian who is about to receive U.S. citizenship and who works for the U.S. government. "John's" brother, Volodya, using the false name of Vladimir I. Gridnev, was brought over from Russia to assist Sevastyanov in making contact with "John". In the left photo, made at a Virginia bus stop on April 30 during a pre-arranged meeting with "John", Sevastyanov, left, leaves to get an automobile as Gridnev, center, contemplates "the pitch" he will give his brother, "John", right. "John's" face has been blocked out by FBI. In the right photo Gridnev, left, employs the cupped hand technique as he talks with "John" while they wait for Sevastyanov to return. The story is on Page A2. (UPI)

Labor Leader's Demand Enrages Prime Minister

Name-Calling Flares In Commons Debate

London—(UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan angrily defended his part in the "third man" security case today in a bitter, name-calling House of Commons debate.

Opposition Labor party leader Harold Wilson enraged Macmillan by demanding he appoint a minister of security to end the nation's series of security scandals.

Macmillan pigeon-holed the demand and accused Wilson of "investive and insolence."

The parliamentary battle erupted over Monday's revelation that Harold Philby, former British diplomat in Washington, was indeed the "third man" whose tipoff allowed turncoat diplomats Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean to skip behind the Iron Curtain.

Philby Removed
Macmillan said the Burgess and MacLean flight occurred in 1951 under a Labor government. When Macmillan's Conservative party came to power, he said, Philby was "got rid of."

The Laborites derided Macmillan for denying—in 1955 when Macmillan was foreign secretary—that Philby was the "third man" in the Washington Embassy who tipped off Burgess and MacLean. Today Macmillan said his 1955 answer was based on information then available.

The Laborites jeered.

Forced by Papers
Wilson charged that "American newspaper revelations" forced Macmillan's Lord Privy Seal, Edward Heath, to announce Monday that Philby was the "third man."

Macmillan said his 1955 answer was based on information then available. The Laborites jeered.

Wilson charged that "American newspaper revelations" forced Macmillan's Lord Privy Seal, Edward Heath, to announce Monday that Philby was the "third man."

Macmillan said his 1955 answer was based on information then available. The Laborites jeered.

Wilson charged that "American newspaper revelations" forced Macmillan's Lord Privy Seal, Edward Heath, to announce Monday that Philby was the "third man."

Macmillan said his 1955 answer was based on information then available. The Laborites jeered.

Wilson charged that "American newspaper revelations" forced Macmillan's Lord Privy Seal, Edward Heath, to announce Monday that Philby was the "third man."

Macmillan said his 1955 answer was based on information then available. The Laborites jeered.

Wilson charged that "American newspaper revelations" forced Macmillan's Lord Privy Seal, Edward Heath, to announce Monday that Philby was the "third man."

Macmillan said his 1955 answer was based on information then available. The Laborites jeered.

Wilson charged that "American newspaper revelations" forced Macmillan's Lord Privy Seal, Edward Heath, to announce Monday that Philby was the "third man."

Macmillan said his 1955 answer was based on information then available. The Laborites jeered.

Wilson charged that "American newspaper revelations" forced Macmillan's Lord Privy Seal, Edward Heath, to announce Monday that Philby was the "third man."

Macmillan said his 1955 answer was based on information then available. The Laborites jeered.

Wilson charged that "American newspaper revelations" forced Macmillan's Lord Privy Seal, Edward Heath, to announce Monday that Philby was the "third man."

Macmillan said his 1955 answer was based on information then available. The Laborites jeered.

Wilson charged that "American newspaper revelations" forced Macmillan's Lord Privy Seal, Edward Heath, to announce Monday that Philby was the "third man."

Macmillan said his 1955 answer was based on information then available. The Laborites jeered.

Three-Year Phase Out Proposed For Use of Mexican Farm Help

Washington—(UPI)—Congressional supporters of the controversial bracero program have urged that it be closed over three years.

The proposal was advanced Monday by House members who also have introduced legislation calling for a one-year extension of the program of using Mexican laborers to harvest crops in the United States.

It has been under attack for years by labor unions as depriving U.S. workers of employment, and in a recent surprise move the House refused to extend the existing law for two more years.

Among those advocating the three-year phase out were Reps. E. C. Gathings (D-Ark.) and Charles M. Teague (R-Calif.). Similar legislation has been introduced in the Senate by Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.).

Teague, who also introduced a bill calling for a one-year extension of the bracero program, said the three-year plan would require a less "drastic and sudden adjustment."

The new proposal would end the program Dec. 31, 1966. From 1964 through 1966 the number of incoming Mexican farm workers would be limited to half the average number permitted in three previous fiscal years. However, it also would set a maximum of 150,000 in 1964, 120,000 in 1965, and 90,000 in 1966.

Gathings, chairman of the agriculture subcommittee which approved the two-year extension rejected by the House, said discontinuance of the program would result in a shortage of workers and an increase in food prices.

Teague, a member of the agriculture committee, said the success of efforts to extend the program would depend "purely on whether enough Democrats can be persuaded to change their votes."

extension of the bracero program, said the three-year plan would require a less "drastic and sudden adjustment."

The new proposal would end the program Dec. 31, 1966. From 1964 through 1966 the number of incoming Mexican farm workers would be limited to half the average number permitted in three previous fiscal years. However, it also would set a maximum of 150,000 in 1964, 120,000 in 1965, and 90,000 in 1966.

It has been under attack for years by labor unions as depriving U.S. workers of employment, and in a recent surprise move the House refused to extend the existing law for two more years.

Among those advocating the three-year phase out were Reps. E. C. Gathings (D-Ark.) and Charles M. Teague (R-Calif.). Similar legislation has been introduced in the Senate by Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.).

Teague, who also introduced a bill calling for a one-year extension of the bracero program, said the three-year plan would require a less "drastic and sudden adjustment."

The new proposal would end the program Dec. 31, 1966. From 1964 through 1966 the number of incoming Mexican farm workers would be limited to half the average number permitted in three previous fiscal years. However, it also would set a maximum of 150,000 in 1964, 120,000 in 1965, and 90,000 in 1966.

Gathings, chairman of the agriculture subcommittee which approved the two-year extension rejected by the House, said discontinuance of the program would result in a shortage of workers and an increase in food prices.

Teague, a member of the agriculture committee, said the success of efforts to extend the program would depend "purely on whether enough Democrats can be persuaded to change their votes."

Kennedy Calls for Unity; Confers With Pope Paul VI

Talk Apparently New Challenge To De Gaulle

Naples, Italy—(UPI)—President Kennedy, fresh from a historic meeting with Pope Paul VI, today called for greater Allied unity in an apparent new challenge to French President Charles de Gaulle.

At the last stop on his 10-day European tour, Kennedy also urged an end to "self-sufficient" nationalism in a speech at NATO Southern Command Headquarters.

The President's visit to this southern Italy port city wound up a 10-day tour that took him to West Germany, Berlin, Ireland, Britain and Italy. He will fly from Naples to Washington tonight.

Spends Busy Day
In an action packed final day, President Kennedy:

Met with Pope Paul VI in Vatican City and heard the new pontiff praise his efforts to obtain world peace and racial equality in the United States. It was only the third time a U.S. chief of state had met a Pope while in office.

The late President Woodrow Wilson came to the Vatican in 1915 and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower met Pope John XXIII in 1959.

Conferred anew over lunch with Italian President Antonio Segni. Kennedy and Segni then issued a joint communique in which they agreed that negotiations with the Soviet Union could and should be continued without weakening NATO and European unity.

The two leaders also agreed to continue studies on the possible development of a NATO multilateral nuclear force.

Presented With Gifts
Visited the North American Pontifical College in Rome where he was presented with some gifts. The late Pope John XXIII had set aside to give him on his visit. The Pope died before he had a chance to present them so the gifts were presented by Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston. One of the gifts was a rare autographed copy of the Pope's encyclical message, "Pacem in Terris."

Flew by helicopter from Rome to Naples where he visited NATO Southern Command Headquarters and delivered a major speech reviewing his "fondness and feelings" after 10 days in Western Europe. He said he was "heartened" by his observations.

Modernization Due for Grants Pass Post Office
Washington—(UPI)—The Post Office department today announced plans to modernize two post offices in Oregon and California.

The General Services Administration will advertise for bids shortly on post office facilities at Grants Pass, Ore., estimated to cost $395,000 and Susanville, Calif., estimated to cost $177,000.

Hot July Predicted
Washington—(UPI)—The Weather Bureau predicts higher than normal temperatures in the eastern two-thirds of the nation in the next 30 days.

POPE WELCOMES KENNEDY—Pope Paul VI spreads his arms in a welcoming gesture as he receives President Kennedy, the first Roman Catholic president of the United States, for their historic meeting in Vatican City today. Kennedy was ushered into the private library of the newly-crowned Pontiff for a talk, presumably centering on their mutual hopes for world peace. (UPI Radiotelephoto)

NAACP Demands Additional Legislation for Civil Rights

Chicago—(UPI)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said today President Kennedy's civil rights program is inadequate and demanded sweeping additional legislation in this session of Congress.

Delegates to the 54th annual NAACP convention voted unanimously in favor of a resolution which also laid plans for a mass civil rights convention in Washington next month to which the President and congressional leaders will be invited to explain their stands.

If a filibuster develops in Congress and it becomes necessary to invoke cloture, the resolution said "we shall construe the failure of any senator to support such action as a vote against civil rights."

The resolution said the President's program, although commendable, is "inadequate to meet the minimum needs of the existing situation."

The NAACP said "we insist" that legislation also be passed to:

1. "Creating a fair employment practices commission with adequate authority to compel the attendance of witnesses and production of evidence and for the enforcement of its decrees.

2. "Extending the authority of the attorney general to initiate and file suits for the protection and enforcement of all civil rights.

3. "Providing sanctions against labor unions which discriminate against Negroes."

The resolution called this "the minimum to be demanded and expected at this session of the Congress."

The lengthy resolution was practically the first order of business as 2,000 delegates settled down to business sessions in what is expected to be the most significant convention in NAACP history.

Borden to Close Plant at Albany

Albany—(UPI)—The Borden Co. is closing its evaporated milk plant here and a feeder plant at Redmond, S. L. Milton, superintendent of the Albany plant, said today.

The Albany plant is Oregon's only one producing evaporated milk. Its closure will affect 25 employees and about 590 shippers in the Willamette valley.

Milton blamed the closures on a downturn in the evaporated milk business brought on by the increased availability of fluid milk.

ASKS RECONSIDERATION
Portland—(UPI)—An attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) said today he has asked the U. S. Supreme court to reconsider its refusal to hear an appeal of the first degree murder conviction of Larry West Shipley, 21, McMinnville, who is awaiting execution.

Jackson Scholarship Goes To Baker Youth
Portland—(UPI)—Robert P. Moragne of Baker has been awarded a $1,000 Jackson Foundation scholarship. He graduated from Baker High school this spring and plans to study science and engineering at Oregon State.

Vote Tabulating System Will Be Tested in State

Salem—(UPI)—An electronic vote tabulating system that could revolutionize Oregon's election procedures will be given a test run at the State Fair here this summer.

Secretary of State Howell Appling Jr. said today.

He said if the test is successful, it could lead to an overhaul of balloting methods within the next two or three years.

The 1963 legislature, at Appling's request, approved a measure which authorizes such tests.

Plans for the test were drafted Monday at a meeting with Dr. Joseph P. Harris, professor emeritus of political science at the University of California.

Six Polling Booths
Appling said the system, developed by Harris, will be tested at six polling booths to be set up at the fairgrounds.

He said each booth would represent a different precinct, and he hoped to get from 10,000 to 20,000 ballots.

The system utilizes a small device into which a data processing machine card is inserted. Voters, instead of marking an "X" on a ballot, use a stylus to punch holes in the data card.

The cards then are fed through a processing machine which tabulates the results. The system was demonstrated to lawmakers during the recent legislative session.

Appling described the system as "the most significant development in the election field in more than 100 years."

Indictment Names Eight Steel Firms

Washington—(UPI)—A federal grand jury in New York City today indicted eight steel companies and nine of their officers on charges of conspiring to fix prices in the $75 million a year steel castings industry, the Justice Department announced here.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the defendants discussed and agreed upon prices at monthly meetings in hotels and clubs.

The indictment charged the defendants with violation of the Sherman Anti-trust Act.

Technicality Brings Delay in Signing Of Boardman Pact

Salem—(UPI)—The signing of a $4.6 million, 77-year lease with Boeing Co. for the 100,000-acre Boardman Space Age Industrial Park was postponed Monday because of a technicality.

A special meeting of the State Land Board was recessed until Wednesday to allow time to study technical language in the resolution, which will implement the lease between the state and Boeing.

Boeing Co. attorneys questioned the wording.

The delay was the second encountered at the session. When the meeting convened it was realized that nobody had notified Gov. Mark Hatfield of the scheduled lease signing. He was home resting from a bout with the flu.

Secretary of State Howell Appling Jr. and State Treasurer Howard Belton officiated.

When the postponement came after three hours of discussion between state and Boeing Co. attorneys, Appling announced both the state and Boeing had reached agreement on the lease, and the recess was only for the settlement of the technical question involved in the resolution. Signing of the lease will cap three years' work on the project to develop the park.

Sam Mallicoat, director of the Oregon Department of Planning and Development, said agreements on the land transfers had been reached with all federal agencies, and were expected to be formalized within 90 days.

As soon as the lease is signed, Boeing will be able to enter the property for survey work, Mallicoat said.

He said agreement with the Navy on the cost of relocating its bombing range was achieved several weeks ago. The state paid the Navy $580,000 for its facilities, Mallicoat said. The Navy asked $650,000.

The lease also contains a provision that the state gets half of any revenue charged by Boeing if it subsidizes any part of the property.

The lease, which runs to 2020, can be canceled by Boeing on Dec. 31, 1, 70, and at 10-year intervals thereafter. The lease fee includes quarterly $15,000 payments, a surcharge of $35,000, and an agreement on the cost of moving the Navy's facilities. Boeing will pay for the moving costs, or $75,000, which ever is smaller.

Robert Jewett, vice president and assistant general manager of the Boeing Aerospace Division, said the site will be used as a test area in connection with research and development activities.

Howard Morgan Criticizes Hatfield
Portland—(UPI)—Howard Morgan, retiring Federal Power commission member who has been mentioned as a possible 1968 candidate for governor, had some words of criticism for Gov. Mark Hatfield Monday.

Morgan, here on a short vacation, said he was "astonished" to learn Hatfield had allowed 20 measures to become law without signature. If a Democratic governor had done that, he said, he would have been accused of "cowardice" by the opposition party and by newspapers.

The former Democratic state chairman indicated he has given thought to the governor's race in three years. He said things to be considered in making a decision were his finances and the "apparent disarray and confusion of politics in Oregon."

Different People Being Involved In Forest Fires

A different group of people are becoming involved in the man-caused forest and brush fires, forestry officials told the Keep Oregon Green committee and guests yesterday.

"Ordinary people are causing the big share of these fires as the low foothills are being settled," Curtis Nesheim, district warden, Southwest Oregon district, remarked. "Most of the fires reported in Josephine county last year were within a 12-mile radius of Grants Pass."

This means an educational program is needed to warn the people about causing fires. Law enforcement is the last resort, he added. However, there are 9 or 10 burning permit cases scheduled before the Grants Pass justice court this month, he said.

Forestry officials agreed that the logger now causes few if any forest or brush fires, and has a valuable reserve of equipment and personnel for fighting any fires which may break out.

Robert Torheim, fire control officer in the Rogue River National forest, said in the national forest recreationists are the biggest cause of man-caused fires. Unattended camp fires followed by careless smokers are the two main contributors. However, it is difficult to pin down a fire cause to smoking, he added.

The 1963 blow down in the Prospect and Union Creek areas will be a major fire hazard, particularly since the down timber is near the road, forestry officials said.

Al Wisendanger, Salem, of the state Keep Oregon Green committee, displayed signs, litter bags, neckties and various items to promote the slogan, "Keep Oregon Green."

Series of Thefts Cleared With Arrest
The Jackson county sheriff's office has cleared up another series of thefts following further questioning of a group of youths arrested June 18, and the arrest of two more young men this week.

A number of tools were recovered from burglaries in the Ashland area, deputies said.

Now lodged in the county jail on charges of burglary not in a dwelling are John Dale Tyler, 18, of 616 Altamont st., and Donald Ray Miller, 19, of 965 Tolman Creek rd., Ashland.

WEATHER
FORECAST: Variable cloudiness and variable temperature tonight and Wednesday. Chance of showers Wednesday afternoon. Low tonight 32. High Wednesday 76.

Highest Yesterday 78
Lowest This Morning 54

Our Skies Tonight
Sunset today 8:52 p.m.
Sunrise tomorrow 5:35 a.m.
Moonset tomorrow 3:25 a.m.
Full Moon July 6
On June 21, 1963, a partial eclipse of the Moon took place that was visible over a large part of the world but not in North America. On Saturday the next eclipse of this series will likewise be not seen here.

NEWS BRIEFS

ITEMS FROM AROUND THE GLOBE

KENNEDY SEEKS BIPARTISAN APPROACH
Washington—(UPI)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy stepped into a Democratic-Republican squabble over civil rights today, appealing for a bipartisan approach to the administration's proposal to ban discrimination on hotels and restaurants.

NAACP TO OPPOSE CONGRESSMEN
Chicago—(UPI)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has threatened to work actively for the defeat of congressmen in 1964 who fail to support strong civil rights legislation.

REGISTRATION ACT REVISION PLANNED
Washington—(UPI)—Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) said today the Senate Foreign Relations Committee had "every intention of bringing in a new law" to revise the Foreign Agents Registration Act.