

YOUNG PITCHES PERFECT GAME IN MEDFORD LEGION VICTORY

Memorial Field, White City... Last spring when high school hurlers of the Southern Oregon conference were flinging no-hitters, no Medford chuckers were among them.

STUART YOUNG Perfect No-No Game

Young struck out batters 13 times and was backed by flawless fielding in a 2 to 0 Medford non-league verdict over the Cheney Studs of Central Point.

But in American Legion junior baseball, Medford's Stuart Young was not to be denied. With a sharp and dexterous performance, the poised southpaw had his night here last night.

There were some tense moments as several long balls went foul, as third baseman Ron Edmonds gloved a hot ground shot by CP's Neal Ellis and as Edmonds let a bunt by Bob Corliss roll foul.

lege-bound hurler, who did not himself bring up the subject of the soreness, remarked, "I wasn't thinking much about my back."

Medford, itself, offensively, was credited with only two hits off the offerings of Corliss. And, the sixth inning runs, which gave the nod to Medford, were scored without a hit.

Sternberg Drops Out Of Meet

Eugene—UPI—World record-holder Brian Sternberg notified meet director Bob Newland Monday that he will not compete in the Oregon AAU track and field meet here Wednesday and Thursday.

Sternberg, the NCAA and national AAU champion, said illness will prevent his appearance. The pole vault event still has his Washington teammate, John Cramer and University of Oregon record-holder Bob Watson, however.

Preliminaries in the 100 and 200-yard dashes are scheduled Wednesday night and all other events Thursday afternoon.

The feature events may be the 440, mile and high jump. The 440 matches NCAA and AAU champion Uli Williams of Arizona State against world record holder Adolph Plummer, former New Mexico runner.

AAU champion Dyrrol Burleson, Jim Grelle, Cary Weisiger and Archie San Roman are entered in the mile. The high jump includes AAU champion Gene Johnson, runner-up Paul Stuber of Oregon, NCAA champion Lew Hoyt of Southern California and Oregon's Terry Llewellyn.

SPORTS Houk Names All-Star Reserves

By DICK DEW UPI Sports Writer Boston—UPI—New York Manager Ralph Houk today named 17 additional American league All-Stars, four of them Yankees, to the squad he will direct against the National League at Cleveland next Tuesday.

In an announcement made here by league president Joe Cronin, Houk closely followed the form when he named a seven-man pitching staff, two reserve catchers, and four replacements for the outfield.

Houk departed from the balloting by the players only once—when he chose Kansas City's Norm Siebern as reserve to his own Joe Pepitone at first base. Boston's Dick Stuart had finished second to Pepitone and was the only second choice not selected for the squad.

Under the restrictive rules, however, Houk was required to name at least one player from each club and Siebern was the lone Kansas City player.

Banning Heads Pitchers Pitchers named by Houk for the 30th All-Star squad were headed by Detroit's Jim Bunning and included Steve Barber of Baltimore, Jim Bouton of New York, Jim Grant of Cleveland, Ken Camm of Los Angeles, Juan Pizarro of Chicago, and relief ace Dick Radatz of Boston.

Houk chose Yankee Elston Howard and Washington's Don Lippert as reserve catchers.

ers to Earl Battey and picked Baltimore's Luis Aparicio, Yankee Bobby Richardson, Baltimore's Brooks Robinson and Siebern as infield replacements.

His starting infield, announced last week end, has Pepitone at first, Nellie Fox of Chicago at second, Frank Malzone of Boston at third, and Zoilo Versalles of Minnesota at short.

Outfield spares picked by Houk included Minnesota's Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew, Tom Tresh of the Yankees, and Boston's Carl Yastrzemski.

Starting outfielders will be Leon Wagner of Los Angeles, Detroit's Al Kaline, and Albin Pearson of Los Angeles, substituting for the injured Mickey Mantle, who was the first choice in the player poll. Mantle was missing for the first time in 12 games.

In addition to Stuart, there were several other players missing from the list who had expected to be on it. The foremost was Boston pitching leader Bill Monbouquette, with an 11-5 record. The veteran Whitey Ford, a seven-time All-Star selection, with current 12-3 record, also was not on the list.

Woodshick Hurls Colts To Victory Over Cardinals

By FRED DOWN UPI Sports Writer It's been a long, rocky road from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., for Hal Woodshick, but that 1.36 earned run average he's sported is a cinch to make him the Houston Colts' representative on the National league All-Star team.

A 6-foot, 3-inch, 200-pound left-hander who failed in previous major league trials with Cleveland, Detroit and Washington, Woodshick has been shooting bullets in relief all season. He's pitched in 27 games and allowed only 10 earned runs in 66 innings.

Woodshick raised his season record to 8-3 Monday night when he yielded one run in three innings to gain credit for the Colts' 4-3, 11-inning win over the St. Louis Cardinals.
