

Downing, Morehead See No-Hitter Bids Spoiled in AL Tilts

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

Al Downing and Dave Morehead can console each other today over coming so near, yet so far, in their bids for no-hitters.

Downing, the 22-year-old New York Yankees southpaw, held the Chicago White Sox hitless for 6 2/3 innings Tuesday night but had to settle for a one-hit 3-0 victory.

And Morehead, a 19-year-old rookie right-hander for the Boston Red Sox, had a no-hitter going until the eighth against the Cleveland Indians only to wind up with a two-hit 6-1 triumph.

"I would have liked to pitch a no-hitter," said Downing, "but I am not complaining a bit. Winning the game was more important."

Morehead was equally philosophical.

"I did my best," he said, "and I'll take a two-hitter any day of the week."

Downing's victory was his third and the Yankees' fifth in a row, stretching their American league lead to three games. The Yankee left-hander, who had held the Red Sox hitless for 6 1/3 innings in his previous start last Friday night, had visions of a "no-no" — as the ballplayers call it — Tuesday night until Camillo Carreon rapped a sharp single off his glove with two out in the seventh.

There wasn't the least bit of doubt about Carreon's hit, which skipped over second base and rolled into center field. But that was the only one of 134 pitches by Downing which was hit safely.

He struck out 10 batters, walked six and got the only run he needed when Tony Kubek singled home Hector Lopez in the third inning. Lopez then hit a two-run homer in the fifth. The Yanks' run in the third was their first off loser Ray Berbert (8-5) in 20 consecutive innings.

Morehead, whose record now is 5-5, pitched perfect ball until he walked Willie Kirkland with two out in the seventh. He lost his no-hitter when Fred Whitefield led off the eighth with a grounder that took a freak bounce over second baseman Chuck Schilling's head for a single.

There was nothing freakish, however, about John Romano's pinch homer in the ninth. Romano had been restored to the active list just before the game. The Red Sox scored two runs off loser Barry Latman (5-4) in the second inning and Lou Clinton's homer featured a four-run outburst in the sixth.

The Minnesota Twins reeled off their eighth straight victory and took over second place with a 7-4 triumph over the Detroit Tigers, the Baltimore Orioles outlasted the Los Angeles Angels, 4-3, and the Washington Senators downed the Kansas City A's, 7-2.

Bob Allison's two-run homer and Jimmie Hall's three-run wallop offset homers by Al Kaline and Bill Bruton in Minnesota's victory over Detroit. Allison's 20th homer in the third put the Twins ahead, 4-1, and kayoed loser Bill Hall, while Hall's eighth homer came off reliever Tom Sturdivant in the sixth and put the game out of the Tigers' reach. Dick Stigman struck out nine and scattered eight hits before Bill Dalley came on in the ninth to nail down Stigman's seventh victory.

Bob Johnson's single and Al Smith's double were the key blows for the Orioles in a two-run seventh-inning rally that took care of the Angels.

Baltimore scored all its runs off Paul Foytack, who suffered his second defeat, against one victory. Dick Hall, second of three Oriole pitchers, was credited with his third win. Albie Pearson hit his fifth homer for the Angels.

Bennie Daniels limited the A's to seven hits as his Senator teammates took advantage of four errors to hand Orlando Pena his 11th setback. Marv Breeding and Jim King paced Washington's eight-hit attack with two hits apiece.

McKinley Wimbledon Finalist

Wimbledon, England (UPI)—Bouncy Chuck McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., aiming to become the first native American in eight years to win the Wimbledon men's singles championship, reached the final round of the tournament today by beating Germany's Willy Bungert, 6-2, 6-4, 8-6.

McKinley's opponent in Friday's final will be the winner of today's semifinal match between Manuel Santana of Spain and Fred Stolle of Australia.

Santana ruled a slight favorite over Stolle, who eliminated Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla., in the quarterfinals.

Chances for the first All-American final in the women's singles since 1957 improved Tuesday when Darlene Hard of Los Angeles and Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., won their quarter-final matches.

In Thursday's semifinals, Miss Hard will meet top-seeded Margaret Smith of Australia in a rematch of last year's U.S. final at Forest Hills, N.Y., won by the powerful Aussie, and Miss Moffitt will play Ann Haydon-Jones of England.

Miss Moffitt reeled off her second straight upset Tuesday when she whipped Maria Bueno, two-time champion from Brazil, 6-2, 7-5. The 22-year-old Californian surprised second-seeded Lesley Turner of Australia in the previous round.

Miss Hard, a two-time runner-up here, strolled into the semifinals when Jan Lehane, another Aussie, twisted her ankle in the fourth game of the second set and had to retire. Miss Hard won the opening set, 6-1, but was trailing 1-2 in the second when Miss Lehane was injured.

Mays' Home Run Breaks Up Marichal-Spahn Mound Duel

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

With one swing of his bat, Willie Mays broke up the National league's greatest pitching duel in 30 years and all but broke Warren Spahn's heart.

Mays accomplished his handiwork when he lined a home run over the left field fence with one out in the 16th inning Tuesday night to give Juan Marichal and the San Francisco Giants a 1-0 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

For 15 dramatic innings, the 42-year-old Spahn called on all his cunning and pitched on dead even terms with the stronger and harder-throwing 25-year-old Marichal, but Mays' 15th homer ended the league's finest pitching duel since Carl Hubbell of the Giants stent 18 innings to 1-0, exactly 30 years to the day.

Marichal scattered eight hits and struck out 10 in posting his 13th victory of the season and his ninth in a row. The defeat was doubly tough for Spahn. Not only did it snap his personal five-game winning streak and represent his fourth loss against 11 victories, but it also nullified a valiant 14th inning effort in which he heroically pitched himself out of a jam by getting Ed Bailey on a fly ball for the final out with the bases full.

It was the Giants' only other serious threat of the night against the Milwaukee veteran, who walked only one batter and struck out two.

Don Drysdale pitched the Los Angeles Dodgers into first place with a 1-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Houston Colts, 6-4, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2, and the Chicago Cubs downed the New York Mets, 4-1.

Drysdale picked up his 10th victory for the Dodgers with a five-hit effort against the Cardinals. Southpaw Curt Simmons, who suffered his fourth loss in 11 decisions, pitched on even terms with Drysdale until the seventh when Ron Fairly singled home Frank Howard from second base with the only run of the contest.

Gordy Coleman's two-run single was the key blow in a three-run seventh inning rally by the Reds that beat the Colts and ruined reliever Don McMahon's first starting assignment in the majors. McMahon led, 3-2 going into the seventh but Vada Pinson doubled home the tying run and Coleman supplied the clincher. Bob Purkey gained his third victory with help from Al Worthington.

Vern Law struggled to his second victory for the Pirates although Harvey Haddix and Al McBean both had to come to his rescue when the Phillies rallied in the eighth. Roberto Clemente's double off loser Dallas Green produced what proved to be the winning run in the sixth.

The Cubs cashed in on three unearned runs against the Mets, with Alvin Jackson's throwing error paving the way for his eighth defeat. Jackson's wild throw came in the second when the Cubs clinched the game with three runs. Bob Buhl stopped the Mets on six hits for his seventh victory against five defeats.

Sternberg Injured on Trampoline

Seattle (UPI)—Brian Sternberg, holder of the pending world record pole vault of 16 feet 8 inches, remained in critical condition here today at University Hospital following an accident on the trampoline.

A university of Washington officials said Sternberg, was executing a double twist back somersault last night at the Edmundson pavilion on the campus when he landed on the back of his head and neck.

Dr. William Robertson, medical director of the university hospital, said an examination indicated a dislocation of the cervical or neck vertebrae.

Robertson said this indicated possible damage to the spinal cord. Sternberg was placed in traction, Robertson said, and no surgery was foreseen in the immediate future.

Sternberg, 20, and a junior next year at the University of Washington, set the pending world mark at the Compton Relays at Compton, Calif., June 7.

He also won the National AAU championship June 22 in St. Louis with a winning vault of 16 feet, 4 inches. He was to have left New York July 14 with a U.S. track and field team which will go to Europe for four meets. The team will compete against a Russian team in Moscow July 21-22.

An accomplished gymnast, Sternberg was working out on the trampoline to keep in shape for the European trip when the accident occurred.

Bob Prall Gains State Golf Toga

Portland (UPI)—Bob Prall, the ex-University of Oregon golfer, held the Oregon Golf association match play title today.

Prall defeated two-time champion Dick Price of Longview 6 and 5 in Tuesday's scheduled 36-hole final match at Riverside.

Mrs. R. L. Borst of Portland won the women's title by defeating Mrs. Lon Stiner Jr. by the same 6 and 5 score.

It was Mrs. Borst's first title, although she has been in the finals three times.

Prall, formerly of Salem but now of Portland, finished three under par for the day. He held a one-up lead at the end of the first 18 holes, and moved ahead by three strokes after 20 holes to win going away.

Medford's Mike Miller won the fourth flight of the Oregon Golf association tourney, playing one under par in his final to beat Jim West, Royal Oaks, Vancouver, Wash.

Ed Hall, Klamath Falls, playing out of Rogue Valley Country club, Medford, defeated Dr. N. J. Wilson, Medford, for the seventh flight honors.

Mrs. William Miller, Medford, was runnerup in the women's third flight. Mrs. Judy Kangas, Riverside club champion, won the final 4 and 3.

Spokane's Indians Find Secret In Coast League

By CHARLES H. WILSON JR.
United Press International

A tested baseball formula for winning pennants is to beat the top teams and win the close games.

The Spokane Indians have suddenly found the secret to that formula and are looking more like the potential Pacific Coast league champion every day.

Spokane took over the top spot in the PCL's northern division Monday night by sweeping a doubleheader from Dallas - Fort Worth, which entered the twinnish as the southern division pace-setters.

And Tuesday night the Indians lengthened their Northern division lead by rallying for two runs in the ninth inning to extend Hawaii to extra innings and then winning the game in the 11th inning 6-3 on John Werhas' three-run homer.

Dallas - Fort Worth, meanwhile, moved back to within a percentage point of the southern division lead by whipping Tacoma 5-3 while first place Oklahoma City was dropping a 4-2 decision to Seattle.

Elsewhere in the league, Cal Koonce tossed a strong five-hitter as Salt Lake City blanked San Diego 4-0 and Bob Uecker's eighth-inning homer powered Denver past Portland 5-4 for the Bears' eighth consecutive victory.

A key fielding play by Spokane's Al Ferrara in the top of the ninth inning set the stage for the Indians' dramatic comeback against Hawaii.

The Islanders had the bases loaded with one out in the ninth when Stan Palye lifted a fly ball to right field. Ferrara puled down the ball and then fired a perfect strike to the plate to catch Tom Santoriano attempting to score from third.

Howie Reed, Spokane's fourth pitcher, was credited with his 10th win of the season. Tom Morgan took the loss for Hawaii.

Ralph Houk Replies To Stuart Jibe

New York (UPI)—Ralph Houk, never one to dodge a fight, fired right back at Dick Stuart today in the first hurbarb of the 1963 All-Star game.

Stuart, putting in his first season in the American league with the Boston Red Sox and leading the circuit's first baseman in homers and runs batted in, finished second to Joe Peplone of the Yankees in the balloting by the players but was passed over by Houk.

"It's tough to have a third-string catcher like Ralph Houk keep you off the All-Star team," Stuart said, according to the Boston American. "What would he know about how important it is to be on an all-star team? He never made one in his life. All he ever did was sit in the dugout."

The Yankee manager, who will handle the American league All-Star team in Cleveland on July 9, was calm when he learned of Stuart's remarks but suddenly snapped.

"In the last game of the recent Red Sox series here—it was an important game—and his own manager Johnny Pesky used a fellow by the name of Dick Williams at first base."

Houk was upset over Stuart's criticism but tried his best to conceal his feelings.

"I don't blame him for being mad," the Yankee manager said at first. "I'm sorry he feels that way about it, but a manager can't always stick to the second choice in the balloting."

"I left off some other pretty good players like Whitey Ford, Bill Monbouquette and Roger Maris, and I think Stuart is a good player."
