

Foreign Briefs

REMAINS OF VIKING FORTRESS FOUND

Oslo, Norway—Archeologists have found the remains of a large Viking fortress and traces of giant Viking ships at Nesna in northern Norway. Some of the eight ships at the site were estimated to be more than 90 feet long and 18 feet wide.

TUNISIAN MISSION TO DISCUSS AFRICA

Tunis, Tunisia—Tunisian Foreign Minister Mongi Slim said Monday night his mission to the United Nations will discuss Portuguese colonies and South Africa with several African nations. Slim said the racial situation is becoming more grave in those areas.

BRITISH SOLDIERS TO TRAIN IN OKLAHOMA

London—The British War Office said today British soldiers will train at Fort Sill, Okla., next month. The 79th commando battery is scheduled to undergo training at the U.S. Army artillery school.

LEONE'S PARTY TO GET CHAIRMANSHIPS

Rome—Italy's center-left parties have agreed to give Premier Giovanni Leone's Christian Democrats the chairmanships of at least 10 of the 14 chamber of deputy committees, informed sources said today.

Strike-Threatened Rails Pave Way In Higher Market

New York—Stocks moved higher today. The strike-threatened rails, which have been setting the pace for most of the market's activity recently, once again paved the way. The feeling among most brokers has been that the government will intervene and avert a nationwide carrier strike.

Southern Railway, Soo Lines, Chicago & North Western, Louisville & Nashville, Norfolk & Western and Illinois Central provided the best gains.

Finance shares moved higher after Undersecretary Robert V. Roosa, speaking before the House-Senate Economics Committee, failed to change an impression left Monday by Treasury Secretary Dillon, that a boost in the Federal Reserve System's discount rate is possible.

DOW JONES AVERAGES

New York—Dow Jones final stock averages: 30 industrials 714.09, up 3.43; 20 railroads 174.25, up 2.18; 15 utilities 139.49, up 0.28, and 65 stocks 256.93, up 1.56. Sales Tuesday were about 3.83 million shares compared with 3.29 million shares Monday.

Allied Chemical	50 1/2
Alum Co Am	38
American Air Lines	25 1/2
American Can	48
American Motors	18 1/2
A T & T	121 1/2
American Tobacco	28 3/4
Amiconda Copper	40 1/2
Armen	55 1/2
American Standard	17
Bendix Corp	31 1/2
Bethlehem Steel	30 1/2
Boeing Air	35 3/4
Caterpillar Corp	43 1/2
Chrysler Corp	61 1/2
Coca Cola	62 1/2
C. I. B. S.	30 1/2
Columbia Gas	30 1/2
Continental Can	47 1/2
Crown Zellerbach	30 1/2
Crucible Steel	21 1/2
Curtiss Wright	21 1/2
Dow Chemical	38 1/2
Du Pont	24 3/4
Eastman Kodak	108 1/2
Firestone	34 1/2
Ford	32 1/2
General Electric	83 1/2
General Foods	80 1/2
General Motors	70 1/2
General Portland Cement	21 1/2
Georgia Pacific	52 1/2
Grehound	41
Gulf Oil	47 1/2
Homestake	30 1/2
Idaho Power	34 1/2
I. B. M.	440 1/2
Int. Paper	29 1/2
Johns Manville	47 1/2
Kennecott Copper	71
Lockheed Aircraft	56 1/2
Martin	19 1/2
Marck	95
Montana Power	36 1/2
Montgomery Ward	37
National Biscuit	32
New York Central	21 1/2
Northern Natural Gas	51
Northern Pacific	46 1/2
Pac Gas Elec	31 1/2
Penney J. C.	42 1/2
Penn. RR	32
Permanente Cement (sd)	16 1/2
Phillips	32
Procter Gamble	26 1/2
Radio Corporation	70 1/2
Richfield Oil	42 1/2
Railway	60
Santa Fe	29 1/2
Sears	30
Shell Oil	44 1/2
Socony Mobil Oil	70
Southern Co.	33 1/2
Southern Pacific	36 1/2
Sperry Rand	15
Standard California	60 1/2
Standard Indiana	39 1/2

'Pushing' of Liquor Brand Investigated

Olympia, Wash.—Atty. Gen. John J. O'Connell said Monday that his office is investigating charges that a state liquor store clerk has broken the law by trying to "push" the sales of certain brands of beverages.

O'Connell said his preliminary investigation indicated that only one clerk, an employee of the Mountlake Terrace store, was involved.

The attorney general did not name the clerk.

Gov. Albert Rosellini said if the reports turned out to be correct, the individuals involved "should be vigorously prosecuted to the limit of the law."

State law requires liquor store clerks to be completely impartial in their handling of all brands. They are even forbidden from telling a housewife which type of wine would go best with the dinner she is planning.

Greek Royalty in London; Clash Breaks Out

London—(UPI)—King Paul I and Queen Frederika of Greece arrived today on a controversial state visit that sparked a clash near Buckingham Palace between units of their massive guard force and demonstrators against their rule.

The demonstrators, demanding the release of political prisoners in Greece, pushed their way through police and armed sailors massed shoulder-to-shoulder as the Greek royal couple rode in open carriages past spectators standing 10 deep.

One of the greatest security forces in modern British history was mobilized to protect the royal couple and to prevent a recurrence of disorders last spring that saw a group of leftist demonstrators chase Queen Frederika down a dead-end London street. The Queen was forced to take refuge in the apartment of an American actress.

Today's demonstrators wore black sashes with emblems of white painted on to protest the continued confinement of nearly 1,000 political prisoners in Greek jails.

Area Students Make Honor Roll

Fourteen students from the Medford area made the spring term honor roll at Oregon State University, Corvallis.

To be eligible for honor roll listing, students must make at least a B-plus average for the term.

Medford area students on the honor roll include: Jeffrey C. Anhorn, Ronald D. Lamb, and Alice A. Thompson, Central Point; Laurence R. Mongold, Eagle Point; Larry Anderson, Karen J. Culbertson, Tommy R. Hensley, Kenneth R. Wise, Anne L. McDuffee, Robert T. Elmer, Frank E. Balch, Glenn C. Gratsinger, Nicholas F. Gier, and Robert L. Steele, Medford.

Missing Mountain Climbers Sought

Concrete, Wash.—(UPI)—A search has begun for two Portland mountain climbers reported missing in the Boulder Ridge area of Mt. Baker, north of here.

The two have been identified as Dr. Rudolf Engel and Mrs. Harriet Osborne, Engel is an associate professor of pediatrics at the University of Oregon Medical School at Portland.

Searchers, led by members of the Search and Mountain Rescue Council, were expected to hike into the area to look for the pair today.

The Whatcom county sheriff's office said Engel and Mrs. Osborne were in a party of 10 Mazamas, a Portland climbing organization, which went into the Boulder Ridge area Thursday to climb Mt. Baker.

The climb was called off Saturday because of bad weather. Other members of the group returned home Sunday, but Engel and Mrs. Osborne remained behind and apparently became lost.

Key Points of Brown's Program Meet Trouble

Sacramento—(UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown today sent his new tax and spending proposals to the legislature but key points were in deep trouble already.

At the second day of the special session:—Brown's tax reform program, containing five major points, was introduced in the Senate by Sen. Virgil O'Sullivan (D-Williams). It would boost the state's tax take by $147.3 million during the current fiscal year.

The governor's proposed $114.4 million budget augmentation was introduced in the Senate by Sen. Stephen P. Teale (D-West Point), finance committee chairman, and in the assembly by Assemblyman Robert W. Crown (D-Alameda), ways and means chairman.

Assembly Republicans renewed their stand against a withholding tax provision. Caucus chairman Don Mulford of Piedmont said flatly: "We'll fight it all the way."

Oregon Accidents Take Three Lives

By United Press International
Three persons lost their lives in separate accidents in Oregon Monday.

Mrs. Rebecca Roemer, 18, Silverton, was killed in a three-car accident on State Highway 213 about 10 miles east of Salem.

Steven Hill, 7, Dorena, drowned while swimming alone in the Row river 14 miles southeast of Cottage Grove. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hill of Dorena.

Eddie Teague, 18, Yoncalla, was fatally injured when he fell from a horse while riding with his father on the family ranch.

'Sno' Boy' Search Enters Last Day

Miami—(UPI)—Navy and Coast Guard planes today began the last day of a hopeless search for the fishing boat "Sno Boy" apparently lost with 40 persons aboard in Caribbean waters.

The search began when the 64-foot vessel failed to report after leaving Kingston, Jamaica, July 1 for Northeast Cay, 80 miles away. Since then rescue squads have found one unidentified body, a raft and pieces of debris from the blue and white boat.

The Navy said it would call off the search after today.

Nine crew members and 31 Jamaican fishermen were on the vessel when it left for Northeast Cay in the Pedro Banks fishing grounds to the south. Skipper of the ill-fated ship was identified as Lewis Tole, an Australian.

The greatest underwater range of mountains is the mid-Atlantic ridge which stretches from Iceland almost to the Antarctic.

Terry Chandler, secretary of the militant "Committee of 100," which had announced it would protest the Greek royal visit, claimed he was "charged by a police horse and thrown across the pavement."

The demonstrators contrasted with a party of Greek girls near the palace who wore their national costumes and cheered the Greeks as they rode by Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip en route from London's Victoria Station.

The clash was the only one to break out during the 10-minute royal ride to the palace under a brilliant summer sun.

Most of those in the crowds lining the route either cheered politely or watched in silence. There were isolated jeers and cat-calls.

Queen Elizabeth and Philip went to Victoria Station to meet the Greek royal couple who had arrived earlier at Gatwick Airport and took the train from there to the heart of London.

Spokesmen for demonstrators demanding freedom for Greek political prisoners warned they planned to picket Buckingham Palace and anywhere else King Paul and Queen Frederika appear during their four-day state visit.

Reports said that Scotland Yard officials learned of a plot to halt the two monarchs' train ride from the airport.

London newspapers reported that three Greek-Cypriot Communists landed in London recently and were being watched closely by the Yard.

The scheduled visit aroused controversy from its inception. Ban-the-bombers Earl Bertrand Russell of the "Committee of 100" and Canon John Collins, leader of the "Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament," joined several Labor party members of Parliament in opposing the trip.

In Greece, the government fell because of it. Former Premier Constantine Caramanlis warned that any violence during the state visit could injure Anglo-Greek relations and urged King Paul to call it off. He resigned when Paul refused.

Subscribers

To report improper or non-delivery of the Mail Tribune in Medford, phone 772-6111; Astoria call at 418 Bridge St., or phone 483-3802; Yreka, phone Victory 3-2889 before 6:45 p.m. daily and 10:30 a.m. Sunday. If regular delivery arrives shortly after you call please notify office, thus eliminating special messenger service.

BPA Expansion Block Attempted

Washington—(UPI)—Rep. John P. Saylor (R-Pa.), sought Monday to block extension of the Bonneville Power Administration marketing area into southern Idaho.

Saylor, who attacked the BPA as a "public power octopus," introduced a resolution calling upon Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall to revoke a recent order making the extension.

The ranking minority member of the House Interior Committee told the House that the extension would cost taxpayers some $5.5 million a year.

He said the extension was an effort to expand "the federal power empire" and called upon Congress to place territorial limitations on the BPA in the same way it limited the Tennessee Valley Authority.

"The Bonneville Power Administration seems to be replacing the TVA as the nation's number one public power octopus," he declared.

Corvair 700 Club Coupe

The hardest part about parking a Corvair is finding a nickel

That may be a slight overstatement, but such jauntiness comes easily when you're a Corvair owner. And you can usually back it up—as easily as you can back up a Corvair. You'll find yourself doing that occasionally, if only to adjust the brakes—they're self-adjusting. That's all there is to it, and that's a good example of how delightfully easy Corvair is to own, drive and maintain.

But since we began by talking about driving, let's stick with that awhile. A large factor in the fun of driving a Corvair is the location of its engine in the rear. Why the rear? It gives Corvair extra traction on any road surface. It provides a nearly flat floor for more useable interior space. Best of all, it produces steering so light, so responsive, you wonder why no other American-made car thought of it.

Corvair's engine is also air cooled, we might add, which means there's no antifreeze or water for you to add. Ever.

All that pleasure from something so practical almost makes you think Corvair is unique among American cars. Which isn't surprising, because it is!

CHECK HIS TNT DEALS ON CHEVROLET, CHEVY II, CORVAIR AND CORVETTE

COURTESY CHEVROLET

9TH & BARTLETT MEDFORD PHONE 772-6115