The photo shows the plaque, which is located east of the trees, which were planted as a part of the dedication program, when the green was established. Jackson school was the first elementary school in the Medford system to have a green turf. This was developed largely through the efforts of the long time principal.

Feeding the Family

Watermelon Delights
On torrid days, nothing beats icy cold watermelon for instant refreshment. Cut any way you like — into juicy wedges, chunks or rony cubes — it is delightfully cooling in a minimum of preparation time. Just don't leave in the freezer or you'll be in for a startling surprise.

Watermelon teams up with a wide variety of other ingredients, gelatin molds and fruit cups. Watermelon juice from pulp is a colorful base for fruit beverages, ices and molded jellies.

Feed watermelon cut into balls or cubes and flavored with just a touch of fresh lemon juice or ground ginger is a grand start for a leisurely meal.

A fruit cup made with tangy pineapple wedges, seasonal blueberries and highlighted with watermelon balls is enticing.

Then there's the happy notion of just cutting a great chunk of watermelon and wading in.

Cantaloupe Capers
Midsummer cantaloupes are really starting to roll. Most of them will be served on the half shell sprinkled with lemon or lime juice and salt or filed with ice cream or sherbet. However, we suggest other ways for this low-calorie delight.

Combine cantaloupe chunks or balls and cottage cheese for serving with or without a french or fruit dressing.

Arrange cooked shrimp or crab meat over a mound of cottage cheese livened with grated lemon rind and seasoned pepper. Surround with thin half-moon slices of cantaloupe.

Cantaloupe rings or half moons on shredded greens are decorative underpinning for any fruit or berry assemblage. For something really elegant, flavored sherbet.

Peach Cobbler
Roll out biscuit dough made from a favorite biscuit mix in size to fit a baking dish that is partially filled with sweetened peaches. Slash dough to permit steam to escape. Fit tightly over peaches. Bake in hot, 400 degree, oven until crust is browned.

Meat Timbales With Rice
Favored by South Africans Republic of South Africa comprises 472,000 square miles excluding South-West Africa; has population approximating 16 million which is 20.9 per cent European, 66.9 Bantu, balance, mixed and Asiatic. Principal cities are Johannesburg, Capetown, Pretoria.

The cooking of South Africa is a mixture of French, Dutch and Malayan (from the early slaves) and later, 1820, a little English. It is usually highly spiced. Bobotee (meat timbales) are a favorite food which is served with yellow rice. "Six servings.

This is a truly elegant dish as you'll realize when you read list of ingredients.

- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 slice white bread
- 1 cup milk
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 pound ground meat
- 1/2 teaspoon curry powder
- Juice of 1 lemon
- 12 almonds, chopped
- 8 dried apricots, soaked and chopped
- 1/4 cup chutney
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 2 bay leaves, broken in pieces

Saute onion in butter until golden brown. Soak bread in milk, remove and squeeze dry. Add beaten eggs to milk. Mix the meat with the bread, onion, curry powder, lemon juice, almonds, apricots, chutney, salt and pepper. Add half of egg mixture and blend.

Place in a greased shallow baking dish or six individual casseroles. Hollow center slightly to allow for rising. Stick pieces of bay leaves on top. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 25 minutes. Remove leaves and pour rest of egg mixture on top. Return to oven and continue baking until custard sets, about 25 minutes.

Yellow Rice
Wash one cup rice and place with two cups boiling water, one tablespoon butter, one-fourth cup brown sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons turmeric, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt and one-half cup seedless raisins in covered saucepan. Bring rapidly to boiling; stir with fork; reduce heat to low and cook covered until rice is tender, 25 to 30 minutes. Serve in a ring as accompaniment to curried meat.

Fresh Foodstuffs
Filling Markets

Now if ever comes feasting on fresh fruits, berries, melons. We're going to do a simple run-down on what's in season at surprisingly small cost because we're lucky enough to live where most of the good edible things of life are grown.

There are apricots which peak in July, avocados in abundance now and throughout the summer, bananas the year 'round of course. Blackberry varieties are peaking, along with raspberries, blueberries, cantaloupes, currants, figs, honeydew melons.

Peaches are changing varieties bringing new delights. Soon it will be time to plan the canning and/or freezing of your favorites. The purple plums are with us now; will be followed by other varieties. First pears and apples of the new season have appeared.

We're off to a good start as nectarines increase in supply. It is getting toward season's end for strawberries, rhubarb, fresh daisies. There's seasonal plenitude of oranges, lemons and pineapples with watermelons on almost every shopping list at this prime refresher drops to new cost lows. You'll want some of the new grapes.

Supper Vegetables. Salad greens and other salad delights crowd the produce bins. Lettuce varieties, green and dry onions, green peppers, radishes, tomatoes. Carrots and celery for relish dishes as well as salad making. Green beans, soft squash and corn-on-the-cob for quick cooking. Ideal! Marinate cooked green beans, carrots and beans separately in French dressing; arrange in piles on lettuce beds and garnish with cherry tomatoes.

Meat Memo: July is Hot Dog Month and this popular food, along with hamburgers, will be on everybody's menus sometime during the week. Beef production is high, quality is good and prices surprisingly reasonable on all cuts. Lamb supplies are up, prices continue reasonable. Plenty of spare ribs and rolled pork roasts for those who do backyard grilling. Brothers-fryers and turkeys in all sizes are good buys.

Other Plentifuls. Milk and all dairy products continue in abundance. Vegetable oils are plentiful for salad-dressing making. Peanut butter, apple sauce, cranberry sauce, tuna, sardines and other good buys are piled high in super market aisles.

Music Auditions Continue in City

Final auditions for the Britt Gardens Music and Arts Festival will be continued from 9 to 11 a.m. Saturday.

They are being held at Purucker Music House, 111 North Central ave., Medford. Fifteen-minute appointments will be available and can be arranged by calling 773-7538. Festival officers have announced.

John Trudeau, music festival conductor, will conduct the auditions. Trudeau is known to many music lovers here as conductor of the Portland Pops Orchestra. He also is a music professor at Portland State college.

Trudeau has issued an invitation to all qualified performers to participate in the auditions. Professional musicians in this area are asked to take part in the auditions because local talent is wanted for the Festival orchestra.

Each person is advised to be prepared to play something of his own choice as well as the music which he will be required to play.

The opening concert will be Sunday, Aug. 11, at 4 p.m. The series will continue through Aug. 24.

Ticket sales are progressing well, Mrs. Bert Pree, association president, said, but an unlimited number are available since the area is large on the Peter Britt Estate in Jacksonville where the outdoor concerts will be presented.
