Portland — Dr. Richard Frost, vice president of Reed College, said here Friday that the Portland Negro still faces the "grotesque merry-go-round" of discrimination. Dr. Frost, in a speech at the City Club, described the "merry-go-round" as that of inappropriate education, making the Negro less employable, which in turn keeps him from decent housing, which leads back again to educational problems. He said that discrimination exists in employment in public agencies in Portland. He cited the Housing Authority of Portland and the City Bureau of Parks as examples of public agencies with less than "open" employment policies.

Suit Filed In Mississippi Case

Washington — The Justice Department asked a federal court Saturday to order the registrar in Hinds county, Miss., which includes Jackson to resume registration of voters immediately.

Att. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said closing of registration by county registrar H. T. Ashford, Jr., was designed to frustrate efforts of negroes in the Jackson area to register and vote.

The department named Ashford and the State of Mississippi as defendants in the civil suit filed in Jackson under the U. S. Civil Rights Acts of 1957 and 1960.

Voter registration was halted after Jackson Negro leaders launched a widely publicized Negro voter registration drive in lieu of mass demonstrations protesting segregation.

The department said that about 700 Negroes came to Ashford's office seeking to register. He petitioned a state court for an order to close the voting books an dit was issued without any public notice, the government suit said.
