Businessmen around Mt. Shasta complain during the winter months that some service station operators in Redding advise motorists they can't get through to Siskiyou county without chains...

Some Rogue Valley businessmen complain that service station operators in Weed tell motorists the fastest and best way north is via Highway 97 through Klamath Falls...

Genevieve Briggs, our Wilderville correspondent, reports that some recent visitors to Josephine county were informed by service station operators in Eureka that they couldn't go up Highway 199 to Grants Pass because the road was impassable. The reason: tunnel construction.

Tom Swifties
Alice Burnette, Talent correspondent, we suppose having nothing better to do one day recently, came up with a few Tom Swifties she says were inspired by her news gathering activities. Some that we liked were:

"The object of the Talent-Phoenix Businessmen's association is to keep traffic on Highway 99," Mr. Wade said haltingly.

"So this is the freeway over Medford," said Tom elevatedly.

"There will be a meeting of the budget committee," Ed said cuttingly.

"We are going to have fire practice Monday," Chief White said inflammatorily.

Flight O' Time
We have our own "Flight O' Time" item this week, thanks to the efforts of Eva Hamilton, who rummaged around the other day and found the following, a report from an earlier day Mail Tribune correspondent:

"Talent, Oregon, April 16, 1934 (Special)—A man who was reported found hung on the Green Spring Mountains, proved to be Lem Stevens, who disappeared from Talent two months ago.

"The family and friends hearing of the man having been found and buried by the parties finding the body of a man hung, went and had the body disintegrated and it proved to be Stevens.

"An investigation will be held."

A special award was given for faithful attendance to those starting later and continuing on for perfect attendance. Students presented these awards were Johnny and Jody Henshaw, Terry and Marc Ellis, Debbie O'Brien, Eddie and Darle Buttram.

Students earning awards for learning all of their memory verses were Debbie East, Betty Fisher, Phyllis Irwin, Roger Harris, Stephen Daniels, Jimmie Moore, Stewart Yule, Terry Ellis, Sharon Wells, Karen Smeltzer, Paul Conley, Sherry Tygart, Pamela Harris, Cathy Conley, Judy Chambers, Lisa Yule, Karen East, Mary Fisher, Doris Burton, Debbie O'Brien and Jim Burton.

Happy Camp - The Happy Camp Improvement Inc. board of directors called the meeting of the stockholders for July 9, but since there were only 15 of the 35 stockholders needed for a quorum, the meeting could not officially be held.

The board stated that the foundation for the new 110,000 gallon water storage tank has been completed. Bids for the steel for the 40 foot diameter, 12 foot high tank have been invited with deadline for bids set for July 20.

This tank is designed so that another 12 feet in height can be added to give another 110,000 gallons to double the storage space when needed. The present tank of 20,000 gallons will continue to be in use. According to Jack Fitzer, member of the board, the present tank drains in about 20 minutes when everyone in town is irrigating at the same time.

The board asked that all those persons using city water to please cooperate and not use water for irrigating between the hours of 2 p.m. and 9 p.m. so that the tank will be able to fill and people on the higher elevations will have enough water for household use during the evening.

When the tank is empty the pumps from Elk Creek can't begin to keep up with the use and thus there is no pressure for homes on these higher elevations in town. A number of persons present complained that many neighbors on these higher elevations are irrigating those hours and others nearby cannot get enough pressure to wash clothes in automatic washing machines. The board agreed that something had to be done.

The board invited any stockholders who have any questions to ask the board and to come to the monthly meetings which are usually held on the 10th of the month at Jean Cerny's office.

14 Complete Hunter Safety Course In Eagle Point Area

Eagle Point—Fourteen boys recently completed a program in hunter and gun safety which is sponsored by the Oregon State Game commission in cooperation with the National Rifle association. Instructor for the course in Eagle Point was Ted Hoffman.

Included in the program are such basic procedures as how to climb over fences with a rifle, how to get in and out of automobiles with a rifle, the mechanics of rifles, the differences in ammunition, hunting courtesies, such as obtaining the permission of the landowner before entering property.

There is usually an outing to the Medford Rifle range for demonstrations in range shooting.

O. N. Osterman of Lake Creek has been helpful to the young people taking this course by giving the boys an opportunity to see and learn about muskets, thus enabling Hoffman to teach a history of rifles from the early days through the most modern.

Wilton White To Head Board Of District 6

By MARY COLLEY
Mail Tribune Correspondent
Wilton White was sworn in as new chairman of school district 6 board of directors and Leo Ghelardi as a director at the July meeting of the board.

During the meeting, members voted to give authorization to call for bids on fuel, bus insurance, and gasoline.

C. A. Meyer, superintendent of District 6 schools, reported on the progress of repairs, cleanup, painting and building at district schools. He also noted that restrooms have been completed at the Crater High stadium.

Members approved a resolution reducing the levy of school district 6 in the amount of $333,649.25. This will result in a levy of $847,404.53, making the new amount outside the six per cent limitation $545,302.26.

The resolution authorizes the clerk to make the appropriate corrections on the budget document, the notice and tax levy. This action is in accordance with senate bill 429 which now allows school districts to show the amount of tax offset received from the state.

Meyer reported that the anticipated enrollment for the 1963-64 school year totals 3,096 for the district, with 937

Student From South Africa To Attend Etna High School
Siskiyou County—An 18-year-old youth from the Republic of South Africa will attend Etna High school during the next school year under the American Field Service program.

He is John Stanbridge, who is preparing for a career in agriculture. He comes from a farm family and has worked with his father, a sheep farmer in the Beaufort West district of the Great Karro, in many of the jobs around the homestead.

His host family in the Scott valley area will be Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Andrews, their two sons and daughter.

CHILLY PLACE—This cave, located near Grenada in Siskiyou county, Calif., has an oddity about it. Whenever one stands near the entrance he feels a chilly wind, even in summertime. The cave is located about 50 feet off the Grenada cutoff road, about two miles toward Groneda from Highway 97. To visit the cave, follow a road leading off of the cutoff to a point about 50 yards away where there is a turnout. The cave is 30-40 feet to the right from that point.
