

Rockefeller's Attack Viewed as Declaration of Candidacy

PLAN OPPOSED—Robert Brown, left, of the California Taxpayers Association, and Leslie Howe, of the California State Chamber of Commerce are shown as they testified against Gov. Edmund G. Brown's plan to put collection of taxes on a current basis and avoid tax boosts, which is comprised of six bills. (UPI)

Brown's Tax Reform, Minus Withholding, Goes to Senate

Sacramento — (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown's double-barreled tax reform and money bills, minus a state payroll withholding tax, came before the California state senate today.

It appeared likely they would be approved and sent to the assembly for action.

Meanwhile, sources indicated the withholding tax, defeated by the senate revenue and taxation committee Monday on a voice vote, may not be entirely dead.

Even without the pay-as-you-go tax program, Brown's tax reform bills would raise $147.3 million during the current fiscal year to help operate state government.

It would come from these sources:

- Bank and corporation tax acceleration and installment privilege end — $82.7 million.
- Repeal of the installment privilege for personal income taxes, effective Jan. 1 — $44.6 million.
- Acceleration of the gross insurance premium tax — $22 million.
- Transfer of revenue from the surplus line brokers fund from the insurance fund to the general fund — $500,000.
- Persons whose tax bill would amount to less than $5 or families who would pay less than $10 were exempted from any tax. This would cost the state $2.5 million a year.

All the measures but the tax exemption bill, which fills a campaign promise made by the Governor to 840,000 small taxpayers, were introduced in the senate. Assemblyman Nicholas Petris (D-Oakland) introduced the administration exemption bill in the lower chamber.

The senate measures cleared two committees — revenue and taxation and finance — quickly Monday and were sent to the floor.

Political observers speculated that Rockefeller felt he was losing ground in the presidential race and sought to regain leadership by his attack on groups supporting Goldwater.

Newswatch magazine said Monday the Rockefeller statement was part of a concerted drive to block Goldwater's nomination by forming a coalition of Republicans supporting the New York governor, Michigan Gov. George Romney and Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton.

In a statement in Albany Sunday, Rockefeller lashed out at the "radical right lunatic branch" and said the Republican party was in "real danger of subversion" by that group.

He underscored that statement Monday night when he expressed fears that Goldwater will become a "captive" candidate of the GOP's extreme wing.

Rockefeller, whose remarks obviously were directed at some vocal backers of Goldwater, is expected to renew the attack at the governors' conference in Miami Beach next week.

Stop-Goldwater Attempt Seen by Other Hopefuls

Washington — (UPI) — The camp of Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) today viewed Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's attack on the "radical right" as a presidential candidate.

The New York governor's statement also was considered in some quarters as the forerunner of a stop-Goldwater movement by other presidential hopefuls in the Republican party.

A spokesman for Goldwater Monday night quoted the Arizona conservative as saying the Rockefeller statement amounted to the governor's "formal declaration of candidacy" for the GOP nomination.

Although Goldwater has never acknowledged that he is a presidential aspirant himself, his stock has boomed in recent months following Rockefeller's re-marriage to a divorced woman.

Khrushchev's Snub of Communist Chinese, Open Welcome for Western Envoys Obvious Contrast

Moscow — (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has been acting oddly in recent days for a man who once banged his shoe at the West and professed eternal friendship for Communist China.

He has snubbed a Chinese delegation here for ideological talks, and just as openly welcomed a Western delegation here to discuss a nuclear test ban treaty.

The Chinese, nominally Russia's allies, are subjected to bitter attacks as racists, warmongers, and rivals for world Communist leadership. The United States and Britain, who are on the opposite side in the cold war, are greeted with jokes and handclaps.

The contrast is so obvious that many diplomats here are asking if Khrushchev is planning to seek peace with the West at the expense of Communist China.

Points Out Indications

Diplomats who thought this might be the case pointed to these indications:

Khrushchev refused the Chinese even the normal courtesy of greeting a top delegation from a "fraternal Communist party." When they arrived earlier this month, Khrushchev did not go to the airport and immediately left for Kiev, where he met with visiting Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak and Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar.

Since returning here, he has studiously avoided the Chinese, apparently to make his original snub more obvious. If any further proof was needed, the unprecedented press and radio attack on Peking supplied it.

But the Soviet leader was at his witty and charming best when he met Britain's Lord Hailsham and Under Secretary of State W. Averell Harriman to begin the test ban talks Monday.

"What should we begin with—should we start by signing an agreement?" he quipped.

History Conference Scheduled July 26

Asland—The third annual Southern Oregon History conference to be held July 26 and 27, will include a welcoming address at Southern Oregon college, a luncheon at the Mark Antony hotel and a reception at the Jacksonville Museum.

Registration is scheduled at 7 p.m. July 26 at the Mark Antony, with Dr. Elmo Stevenson, president of Southern Oregon college, and Dr. Vaughn Borne, chairman of the social science division, to address the conference at 10 a.m., July 27.

Following the luncheon, Dr. Hector Lee, Sonoma State college, Cotati, Calif., will speak on "Blood and Bones Buried in Your Own Cascadia."

A reception from 3 to 5 p.m. will follow at the Jacksonville Museum.

Luncheon, dinner, and dormitory room reservations may be made with Dr. Clifford Miller, Southern Oregon college.

Jokes With Harriman

"You are absolutely blooming. Are you counting the years backward?" he asked Harriman.

The Soviet and Western delegations met in a conference room near Khrushchev's office in the Kremlin. Harriman remarked to the premier that he was in wonderful surroundings.

"Yes, I am surrounded by imperialists," the irrepressible premier replied.

He then proceeded to compliment the Americans for having expelled the British "imperialists" in 1776.

It was on this note that negotiations for what could be the first major East-West agreement since the Austrian state treaty of 1955 began.

It took place on the same day that the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia asked openly whether Communist China wanted to provoke a world nuclear conflict.

"CTC"

How "CTC" benefits you as a shipper or traveler

Electronics performs vital tasks along Union Pacific—take "CTC" (Centralized Traffic Control), for example.

By means of push buttons on master control boards, dispatchers direct and control traffic over a radius of hundreds of miles. CTC makes for more efficient use of tracks—more trains continuously on the move—economies, and time saved for shippers.

Here is another example of electronics at work to keep freight shipments and travelers moving—surely and dependably, on Union Pacific... the automated rail way. Call:

How much should a funeral cost?

The simple answer is—never more than you can afford. Can the love of a family ever be measured in dollars and cents? Many people do, however, overspend, because of the pressure and confusion of the moment. Your inquiry as to costs in advance of need is good insurance against overspending. We invite your questions.

Car Club Members Attend Camp-Out

Seven cars from the Rogue valley Old Timer Car club met with five cars from the Roseburg Car club for a camp-out recently at Diamond lake.

From Medford were Stephen Miller, Eugene Coggins, and George Rambo. Ashland members attending were Earle Swift, Jerome Higgins, and Niles Thomas, and from Rogue River, Jim Cowie.

After a tour of the rim road at Crater Lake the next day, cars were on public exhibition at the lodge, before returning to Diamond lake.

Plans are to make this a joint annual camp-out with all of the old car club groups in the southern Oregon area participating.
