

Grants Pass Facility Expanded

EXPANDED SYSTEM — This is part of the equipment in Grants Pass' new sewage treatment plant, which was scheduled to be given its first trial run today. In the left foreground is a sediment scraper, while at extreme right a portion of the pump and control room may be seen.

SETTLING CHAMBERS—These tanks, part of the new Grants Pass' sewage treatment plant, are called secondary clarifiers. They are chambers used for settling of solid materials from the liquid sewage. The treatment plant is located near the Rogue river, which can be seen in the right background.

Work On Sewage Treatment Plant Nears Completion

Grants Pass — Work on expansion of Grants Pass' city sewage treatment plant is nearing completion. The new plant was scheduled to be given its first trial run-through today.

The plant has been improved at a cost of $261,419, part of an overall sewage system improvement program at a total cost of $555,000.

The new plant has been constructed on top of the old one, according to Roy Eames, city administrator.

The principal improvement that has been made is in upgrading the facility from primary treatment only to both primary and secondary treatment. This improvement is expected to equip the plant so that it can take care of the city's projected population increase up till around 1980.

Shasta Stampede Set For Saturday

Montague — Plans for the "Shasta Valley Stampede," the big rodeo to be presented on Saturday evening, July 20, at the Montague Rodeo grounds, were completed during the July meeting of the Shasta Valley Community club, conducted by the president, Gene Breceda.

The rodeo show, sponsored by the community club, will be produced by Hemsted Rodeos of Anderson, who has produced several rodeos in this area, both at Montague and at the Siskiyou County Fair.

Featured events will include bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, calf roping, team roping, bulldogging, Brahma bull riding and girl's barrel race contest.

Several women will serve hamburgers and coffee during the evening, while others will be there to serve ice cream and other refreshments.

Following the show, a rodeo dance will be held at the Montague auditorium, with music furnished by the Tip Toppers orchestra.

Sunday morning, the Montague Lancers will serve a real buckaroo breakfast, from 7 to 10 a.m., featuring sour-dough pancakes, eggs, bacon, ham and coffee.

The remainder of the day will be devoted to team roping events at the rodeo grounds, as well as open barrel racing. There will be no admission charge for the Sunday events.

Regional Roundup

by Cleve Twitchell
Mail Tribune Regional Editor

One of the best tonics to take after participating in an unpleasant meeting of an organization or governmental body is to read about someone's else's troubles. It does wonders.

And so for the benefit of any city councilmen or other valley residents who may have been subjected to abuse recently, we are reprinting the following excerpts from a news story that appeared in the July 11 issue of the Cloverdale (Calif.) Reveille. We suggest that you clip it out and stick it away in a corner. You might need it some day.

The article was entitled "Capacity Crowd Attends Stormy Council Session." Portions of it went like this: "The regular meeting, which began at 8 p.m. and continued until 1:30 a.m. before a capacity audience, was frequently enlivened by verbal disputes involving councilmen and the audience. One citizen was threatened with ejection by Mayor Leroy O. Johnson for interrupting the chair.

"One of the topics of controversy was the boiler at the sewage disposal plant, which Mr. Whipple and Walter E. Breije, city engineering consultant, stated was beyond repair and should be replaced. Mr. Poltrone asked who had authorized a trip which Mr. Whipple had made to San Francisco to seek bids for a new boiler . . .

"Mr. Field introduced a motion to purchase a boiler from Power Boiler Sales, Inc. of San Francisco for $428 plus tax. Several persons spoke from the floor, with discussion becoming so heated that Rev. R. Vaughn Smith, pastor of the Methodist church, admonished one speaker on the use of profanity . . .

"Disagreement first erupted at the outset of the meeting, with the reading of the minutes. Mr. Poltrone challenged the wording of the minutes for the June 4 meeting, concerning the fencing of the ball park. After a quarter-hour discussion, the council amended one word . . .

"Following the boiler dispute Mr. Poltrone questioned mileage payments to Mr. Holmes and William McCulloch, members of the airport commission. Mr. McCulloch explained the validity of the payments . . .

"Mr. Poltrone then questioned the fact that 95 gallons of gasoline were unaccounted for in the city's gasoline report. He asked who had keys to the tank. The statement was made that the loss was 'probably' due to evaporation . . .

Which goes to show that life is pretty much the same all over.

Grants Pass United Fund Lowers Goal To $29,950

Grants Pass — A reduced goal of $29,950, described as more "realistic," has been set for the annual United Fund drive here this fall, it was announced by M. L. Cudd, drive chairman.

The new goal was announced after campaigns in two previous years failed to raise an allotted $35,500.

"This year's drive will be keyed to a realistic approach," Cudd said. "Our agencies will be able to plan on the money we have allotted them, not some undetermined reduction.

"Even our own administrative and campaign expense budget was slashed to get a realistic goal," he added.

Starting date for the September drive is yet to be set.

How To Report Sunday Fires in Phoenix Outlined

Phoenix — Any Phoenix resident who is unable to reach the Phoenix Volunteer Fire department to report a fire on a Sunday should call the Jackson County Sheriff's department, advised Mayor Darrell Paxson today.

The mayor's statement was an outgrowth of an incident last Sunday in which a city resident, attempting to report a fire at his home, was unable to reach either the city fire or police department and finally had to call the mayor himself.

The telephone number of the Phoenix Volunteer Fire department rings in the homes of three members of the department, Paxson explained. It happened last Sunday that all three were not at home, so the phone went unanswered.

The caller next dialed the number of the city hall, but since it is closed on Sundays, that phone did not answer either.

The county sheriff's department can reach the Phoenix police on Sundays, however, Paxson pointed out, explaining why residents should contact the sheriff's office if they cannot reach local firemen. The sheriff's office phone number is 773-3607.

Gold Hill Chamber To Meet Thursday

Gold Hill — Members and guests of Gold Hill Chamber of Commerce will meet Thursday at 12 noon for a no-host luncheon and business session at Rogue Riviera restaurant.

At a recent meeting of the chamber held at the Dardanelle restaurant guest speaker was Charles S. Collins, executive vice-president of Cal-Ore Recreational Development association. Collins explained that the organization represents an area composed of five counties, four in Oregon and one in California.

Object of the association he stated is to promote new recreational projects and expansion of present facilities to keep pace with the rapid increase and public demand.

He said the non-profit corporation's operating funds are derived by pro-rata assessments of member counties and subscriptions from private sources.

The guest speaker showed slides of various recreational sites both those that are completed and those under consideration. He also showed a drawing of the proposed Gold Nugget park to be located on highway 234 about 1 1/2 miles from the city of Gold Hill.

Mountain Lion Killed Near Ti Bar Station

By HAZEL DAVIS
Mail Tribune Correspondent

Happy Camp — Marian Southard and his hunting hounds brought home another mountain lion, this one killed near the Ti Bar Guard station on July 9. Southard figured the male cat was about 2 years old and weighed about 60 pounds.

According to Southard, who is well-known for his hunting knowledge of these animals, he received word from Earman Pence of the Happy Camp Ranger station that a cat had been seen near the station at Ti Bar right behind some residences.

The report stated that a little boy was playing near his home and went into the house to tell his father to come out and look at the "kitty cat." Upon examination, it was found to be quite a large "cat" and the call went out for someone to track down the animal as it was gone before anyone at the station realized what was in their midst.

Southard and his two hounds found the track that morning and before long the dogs jumped the cat and ran it about five minutes before freeing the animal. Southard said that he thought there might be a second cat around and that he hunted for quite awhile after the kill.

He found where a deer had been killed by the cat just a short while before it was jumped by the dogs. Southard said he planned to return to the place and maybe find the second cat, that he was sure was around there somewhere.

Marian Southard has been long known for his hunting skill with these animals, sometimes staying for days with his hounds on a trail before freeing their animal.

Southard will collect a $50 Siskiyou County bounty for his kill. The state just recently removed the bounty from the head of mountain lions.
