They made a tour of the famous King ranch and traveled into Mexico before going to Mathis, Tex., for a barbecue party in their honor. At the home of Mr. Barksdale's aunt in Crystal Springs they joined in a family gathering, and then continued to San Antonio and points Mr. Barksdale had not seen since childhood. They stopped in Lincoln, Neb., to visit their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barksdale and infant child. Mrs. Barksdale is the former Linda Luman of Medford. Mr. Barksdale is an Air Force instructor.

The trio, all accordionists are well-known in this valley through their appearances as entertainers at numerous events. Mrs. Edge accompanied her daughters on the trip. They are shown on the float on which they rode during the jubilee parade and which won second place. Jubilee guests included the assistant secretary of interior, Kenneth Holm; Governor William L. Guy and Sen. Quentin Burdick of North Dakota. A tour is being planned in the North Dakota area for the entertainers during the summer months.

American Meat Institute Explains Story of Steak

Chicago - Take a survey of favorite foods, and you will find that steak always comes out a winner. Through the years steak has made a name for itself as a symbol of good eating. Here is the story behind the names for this popular meat, as reported by the American Meat Institute.

Steak comes from an old Saxon word, "steik," meaning "meat on a stick." The Saxons and Jutes who lived in what is now Denmark brought their skills as cattlemen and some of their tame animals when they conquered Great Britain. They favored broiled beef and cooked it on a pointed stick over a campfire, anticipating our cookouts by some 16 centuries.

"Sir Loin" - Some credit the origin of sirloin to the English. Legend has it that a British monarch became so enthused with the meat that he pulled out a sword and dubbed it "Sir Loin." The less romantic tell us that sirloin comes from the French word, "surlonge," i.e., over the loin.

The French gave us the expression "filet mignon" meaning small steak. Filet means a piece of meat without bone; mignon means small, petite. Chateaubriand was named for the French viscount, writer and statesman of that name who lived during the Napoleonic era.

There are a number of tales of how the porterhouse steak received its name. The most generally accepted story is that a proprietor of a New York porter and ale house in the 1800's satisfied an overflow of customers by cutting through a sirloin roast to produce steaks. The local butcher had never heard of sirloin being used for anything but roasting but met the new demand for the cut and called it porterhouse after the ale and porterhouse in which it originated.

The club steak, from the rib end of the short loin, obtained its name because its convenient size made it a frequent choice of clubs and restaurants. The steak that adjoins club steak is named after its T-shaped bone.

Even though there are only 90 pounds of broiling steaks in a 1,000 pound steer, this easily prepared, flavorful meat seems to have made quite an impression on our vocabulary and menu preferences.

Couple Attends Family Reunion

Jacksonville - Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Newman, Route 1, Box 59K, Jacksonville, have returned to their home after spending two weeks in Idaho and Washington.

The couple traveled east via the Winnemucca-to-the-Sea highway and to Weiser, Idaho, where they attended a reunion of the Newman family. Attending the event were all nine children and their families of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Newman, at whose home the reunion was held. Some 100 persons attended. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Newman are members of pioneer families in the Weiser area.

En route home the Lyle Newmans camped at various parks in Washington and along the Oregon coast.

Add Special Beef Patties To Recipe File

In the midst of spring housecleaning, why not do a little shuffling of your recipe file? Perhaps you'll discover an old favorite that you have not prepared in ages.

You'll find sections that need expanding, too. No doubt one of these is the group of quick ground beef dishes. Ground beef is such a favorite that you can never collect enough different ways of preparing it.

This recipe for Special Beef Patties is especially worthy of addition to your collection. It's offered by Reba Staggs, expert in the development of meat recipes. Seasoned patties are served with an unusually tasty sauce of tomato paste, bouillon, celery and onion. Caraway seeds lend their distinctive note to the sauce.

SPECIAL BEEF PATTIES

One and one-half pounds ground beef; two tablespoons lard or drippings; one large onion, sliced; one teaspoon salt; one-eighth teaspoon pepper; one-fourth teaspoon cumin; one tablespoon Worcestershire sauce; one bouillon cube; one-half cup hot water; one can (six ounces) tomato paste; one-half cup thinly sliced celery; one-half teaspoon caraway seeds.

Brown onion lightly in lard or drippings. Remove onion and save for sauce. Combine ground beef, salt, pepper, cumin and Worcestershire sauce.

Shape mixture into six patties. Brown on both sides in drippings. Dissolve bouillon cube in hot water. Combine cooked onion, bouillon, tomato paste, celery and caraway seeds. Pour over patties. Cover tightly and cook slowly 20 minutes. Serve sauce over patties. Six servings.

Upper Applegate Open Hoedown Set In Grange Hall

Upper Applegate - A square dance is set for Saturday, July 20 at 8:30 p.m. in the Upper Applegate Grange hall near Ruch. The event is being arranged by a newly formed dance group which is sponsored by the Grange. As yet no club has been formed and the events they sponsor are held as open hoedowns.

Potluck refreshments will be served. Square and round dance workshops also are held in the hall each Wednesday from 8 to 10:30 p.m. All interested dancers are invited. Byron Dibble, who will call for the July 20 session also calls for the workshops.

New 'All Refrigerator' Features Are Outlined

Corvallis - Larger capacity, more combination two-door freezers and refrigerators, thin-line construction, and an end to defrosting are features to look for in this year's refrigerators, advises an Oregon State University specialist.

The big news is the "all refrigerator." Last year only two manufacturers made them, compared to at least six now. Families with home freezers like them. They don't feel they need a refrigerator with a large frozen food compartment.

Refrigerator temperatures are colder than they've ever been. They range from about -5 degrees F. (in freezing compartment) to 42 degrees F. which means better keeping quality for all foods, says Bernice Strawn, OSU home management and equipment specialist.

Slim Lines - Refrigerators, slim and streamlined, fit flush to the wall. Unlike old ones, they don't require hinge space so may be installed in a corner. Refrigerators are larger capacity but don't take up any more floor to wall space because of the efficient "thin wall" (urethane foam) insulation. Trend has been to buy bigger refrigerators; the most popular are 12 to 15 cubic foot with a swing toward the two-door combination refrigerator-freezer.

Unpleasant defrosting is a job of the past, says Miss Strawn. Shoppers can choose from dial or pushbutton defrosting; timed automatic defrosting, and the type in which no visible frost builds up inside the refrigerator or freezer compartments. About one-third of last year's combination freezer-refrigerators and 10 per cent of the freezers sold had the "no frost" features.

Deluxe units make ice cubes automatically or provide special ice cube storage so the family won't run out. Some new models have wood grained vinyl coverings for matching with kitchen cabinets.

New Methodist Pastor Honored

Hornbrook - The new pastor of the Hornbrook Methodist church, the Rev. Robert Carter, his wife and three children were honored at a reception at the church recently. Refreshments were served by members of the Christian Women's Community Fellowship, and a gift was presented to the Carter family.

Out-of-town guests at the party included Mr. Carter's mother, Mrs. Frank Carter, and his sister and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith and two children, all of Los Angeles.

To conclude the evening, the birthday of Miss Ann Rutledge was observed. Miss Rutledge, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rutledge, and now a student at Chico State college, has been active in all phases of church activities.

California Visitors

Hornbrook - Dr. and Mrs. Edward M. Smith and two children, Michael and Karen, Orland, Calif., visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Smith and Karen returned home and Michael remained for a longer visit with his grandparents.

Sundowners Used As Theme For CDA Picnic

Catholic Daughter of America, Court St. Mary held a Sundowners' picnic last week at the home of Mrs. Donald Grosch, 33 South Keene way.

The name Sundowners originated from a group of transient farmers in Australia, who traveled through the country, taking their homes on their trucks. At sundown they ceased work and after eating entertained with singing and games.

The picnic was held with the theme in mind.

The committee in charge were Mrs. E. E. Ford, chairman; Mrs. Grosch, Mrs. Ray Stewart and Mrs. Joan Kounz. A business meeting was conducted by Mrs. George Davis, worthy grand regent.
