

Ralph Terry's Record Falls Below .500 Mark As Yanks Lose

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer
Babe Ruth summed it all up 35 years ago when after a tough night on the town he heard the boos of his fair-weather friends.

"In this game," he said, "you are a hero today and a bum tomorrow."

Ralph Terry, the New York Yankees' World Series hero of 1962, knows today what the old Bambino meant.

Terry became the toast of the baseball world last October when he beat the San Francisco Giants, 1-0, in the second straight world title under manager Ralph Houk. He was the all-American cover boy of the national mags, the former Boy Scout who made good in a tough, competitive field and a young man with a seemingly limitless future.

Today, he's a bewildered 27-year-old pitcher with an equally bewildering 9-10 season won-loss record.

Terry's 1963 record dipped below the .500 mark - compared with his resplendent 23-12 mark of 1962 - when the Minnesota Twins blitzed him in five innings Thursday and went on to a 9-3 victory. The loss trimmed the Yankees' first-place lead over the idle Chicago White Sox to six games.

Rich Rollins drove in five runs with a homer and a double and Don Mincher had a double and two singles to lead the 12-hit Minnesota attack. Camilo Pascual, out of action with arm trouble since June 30, received credit for his 10th win against five defeats. Elston Howard homered for the Yankees.

The Baltimore Orioles defeated the Detroit Tigers, 8-6, in 11 innings and the Boston Red Sox beat the Kansas City Athletics, 10-8, in other American league games.

Joe Gaines' two-run 11th-inning double gave the Orioles an uphill victory and ace reliever Stu Miller his fourth win of the season. Miller, who now has been the close-out pitcher in the Orioles' last eight victories, stopped the Tigers on one run and four hits for the last four innings.

Russ Snyder and Bob Johnson had three hits each to pace the Orioles' 15-hit attack.

Relief sensation Dick Radatz gained his 11th victory of the season against only one loss with two innings of shut-out relief that preserved the Red Sox' victory over the Athletics. Doubles by Dick Stuart and Russ Nixon and a single by Dick Williams, who had four hits, were the big Norm Siebern hit two homers for the Athletics.

and ninth of the season. He has lost six.
The win preserved the Dodgers' 6½-game lead over the second-place Chicago Cubs, who beat the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2, in an afternoon game.

The San Francisco Giants shined the New York Mets, 6-5, the Cincinnati Reds drubbed the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-3, and the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Houston Colts, 5-1, in other National league action.

Maury Wills drove in four runs with a double and a single and stole a base and runs and five hits in 4 1/3 innings, suffered his fourth defeat.

Ron Santo's triple and Ken Hubbs' double each produced a run in a three-run sixth inning rally that enabled Larry Jackson to win his 11th game against seven losses. Joe Torre and Del Crandall had two hits each for the Braves, whose Tony Cloninger suffered his sixth loss.

Giants To Send O'Dell vs. Reds

Cincinnati—UPI—The San Francisco Giants, who had a hard time with the lowly New York Mets, moved into Crosley Field today to tangle with the Cincinnati Reds in a three game series.

Fred Hutchinson's host nine is breathing down the Giants' throats for fourth place in National League standings. Both teams won Thursday, the Giants edging the Mets 6-5 and the Reds bouncing St. Louis 6-3. The Giants are a game in front of Cincinnati in fourth place.

Old reliable Juan Marichal had to pull the Giants out of the rut again Thursday, this time in an unaccustomed relief role. He held the New Yorker hitless the last two innings and was awarded the victory, his 15th of the season.

Bobby Bolin was the pitcher of record when the Giants' winning rally started but the official scorer ruled that he had pitched ineffectively and awarded the win to Marichal. Joe Hicks, a rookie up from Buffalo of the International League, almost became the Mets' hero for the third consecutive day when he ripped a three-run homer off Bolin to climax a four-run seventh inning rally.

However, Harvey Kuenn singled the winning run home for the Giants off loser Galen Cisco in the eighth. Ed Bailey got his 14th homer with two on in the sixth. In the eighth Felipe Alou got a pinch single to score Bailey with the tying run and Kuenn's single scored Matty Alou with the clincher.

Willie McCovey kept his consecutive game hitting streak alive, getting a double in the first inning. It was the 23rd game in which he hit safely, establishing a San Francisco club mark.

Hicks had two other hits along with the homer and now has a bat mark of 426 since he returned to the Mets from Buffalo last Saturday.

Tonight the Giants call on Billy O'Dell (10-6) while Cincinnati was expected to use John Tsitouris (5-3).

Tony Trounces Columbo; Takes Heavyweight Belt

By URBANE ROGERS

They called it the "cannonball," and that is exactly what it looked like when all 260 pounds of Tough Tony Borne came hurtling down from atop the steel post at the corner of the ring to trounce upon favored Rocky Columbo.

"A mere expression of his 'wrassler's ego,'" I was told by a fan, and I was certainly enough, Tony carried enough weight in that high-fly maneuver to nab the Pacific Coast Junior Heavyweight crown from Columbo in the Medford Armory last night.

After the match, and after some eager fans carried Columbo off the mat, Tony paraded around the ring wearing the new black and silver belt that went well with his gaudy orange trunks.

"That's wrasslin'." I was told before attending the first live meet I'd ever seen. I've seen it on television and at the movies, but in real life, true to color, wrasslin' is about the most exciting thing next to a midnight horror picture.

Back in the ring of the first match between Tough Tony and Rocky, I saw another display of Tony's ego when a lady yelled, something to him, only to get a reply of kindness. "Aw shut yer mouth, lady," Columbo, however, cut short any more comments by Tony when he slammed a hand to Tony's jaw and followed with a body press, giving Columbo the first fall.

Tony took the opening lead against Columbo in the opening minutes of the second match and finally poised for an over-the-head throw which retired Columbo from further action.

BRITAIN, SPAIN SPLIT
Bristol, England—UPI—Britain and Spain split opening singles matches Thursday in their European Zone Davis Cup tennis semifinal. Mike Sangster defeated Jose Luis Arilla, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4, to give Britain the first match, but Manuel Santana deadlocked the series for Spain as he beat Bobby Wilson, 6-4, 6-4, 6-8, 2-6, 7-5.

Miller, former University of Wisconsin star, was released Thursday night by the National Football league team. He had been placed on waivers, but was not claimed by another team. He is now a free agent.

The release now leaves the Rams with Roman Gabriel, regarded as the No. 1 signal caller, and Zeke Bratkowski in addition to Baker.

Dodgers Defeat Pirates, 10-5; Retain Lead in Pennant Race

United Press International
Now that Maury Wills is becoming a terror at the plate, the pennant-driving Los Angeles Dodgers are steamrolling their opponents with a well-rounded arsenal.

Thursday night it was the hitting that did the damage to the Pittsburgh Pirates. With Wills leading the parade with four runs batted in, the Dodgers scored their 14th win in the last 18 games, a 10-5 victory over the Pirates.

Johnny Podres, the south-paw Dodger starter, was the beneficiary of a 14-hit Los Angeles assault on five Pittsburgh hurlers.

Although Podres gave up 12 hits and three runs in six and two-thirds innings before he was replaced by reliever Larry Sherry, Johnny notched his fifth straight victory and ninth of the season. He has lost six.

The win preserved the Dodgers' 6½-game lead over the second-place Chicago Cubs, who beat the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2, in an afternoon game.

The San Francisco Giants shined the New York Mets, 6-5, the Cincinnati Reds drubbed the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-3, and the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Houston Colts, 5-1, in other National league action.

Maury Wills drove in four runs with a double and a single and stole a base and runs and five hits in 4 1/3 innings, suffered his fourth defeat.

Ron Santo's triple and Ken Hubbs' double each produced a run in a three-run sixth inning rally that enabled Larry Jackson to win his 11th game against seven losses. Joe Torre and Del Crandall had two hits each for the Braves, whose Tony Cloninger suffered his sixth loss.

Bob Purkey went 6 2/3 innings to win his fourth game for the Reds with the help of Gene Freese's first homer in almost two years. The Red slugger, who broke his ankle in the spring of 1962, drove in four runs to help deal Ray Sadecki his sixth defeat of the season.

Juan Marichal, appearing in relief for the first time this season, pitched two hitless innings to raise his season record to 15-5 when the Giants scored two runs in the eighth inning. Felipe Alou drove in the winning run with a pinch single that handed Galen Cisco his eighth loss against six wins. Ed Bailey homered for the Giants and Joe Hicks connected for the Mets.

John Boozar won his first major league game with a three-hitter behind a six-hit attack that included homers by Don Demeter and Don Hoak as the Phillies balanced their season record at 47-47. Ken Johnson suffered his 13th loss against five wins.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

by Paul Lea
What was the greatest pitching feat of all-time? ... It happened in a minor league game not too many years ago ... Ron Neccia of the 1952 Bristol team of the Appalachian league not only pitched a no-hitter, but struck out all 27 men! ... He got all three outs in every inning by strike outs.

Has there ever been an All-America football player who later became a major league baseball player? ... Just a few men in sports history have reached the top in both sports ... Ace Parker ... Eric Tipton ... Jackie Jansen ... Vic Janowicz ... Paul Giel ... And Jim Thorpe.

Here's a baseball riddle you can win a bet on ... How can a team get three triples and three singles in one inning, and still not score a run? ... Answer: First two men triple and are out at the plate trying for an inside-the-park homer ... Next man triples and stays at third ... Next two men get infield singles with the runner holding third ... Last man smacks a ground ball that hits runner going from first to second ... Batter gets credit for a hit, but runner is out, making three triples, three singles, three outs ... and no runs!

I bet you didn't know Paul Lea Motors, Medford's Rambler dealer, can sell you a new or used car, arrange financing, service the car of your choice and have you drive away in the car of your choice, within one or two hours time, if you are in a hurry and tell Tom Davis—Lea Motors sales manager, that you must be on your way at a certain time.

Stars of Meet Are Predicted

Moscow—UPI—The individual stars of the Russian-American track meet this week end will be veterans Valeri Brumel and Igor Terovnoyev for the U.S.S.R., and Bob Hayes, John Gilbert and John Pannel for the U.S.A.

At least that's the opinion of the two respective coaches, Russia's Gabriel Korocokov and Payton Jordan of Stanford.

Appearing on a Moscow television program Thursday, Korocokov pointed to high jumper Brumel and broad jumper Terovnoyev as his outstanding prospects. Both men hold the world record in their specialties.
